Topple Rhodesia, Africans Demand

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Zambia, the closest black African neighbor state of rebellious Rhodesia, called today for British military action as the only sure way of toppling the Rhodesian white minority regime.

Zambian Foreign Minister Simon Kapwepwe told the Security Council the British plan for selective mandatory sanctions on Rhodesian exports, proposed by Foreign Secretary George Brown last night, was "another ineffective formula."

Referring to British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, Kapwepwe asked, "Is this the new Wilson stratagem of saving face, or is it the final act in the plot to sell out the African majority of southern Rhodesia and to destroy Zambia's economy?"

Kapwepwe spoke as the first of three African foreign ministers who have asked to be heard by the council. The others are Doudou Thiam of Senegal and Abdelaziz Bouteflika of Algeria. These three countries have been empowered by the Organization of African Unity (OAU) to plan black Africa's strategy on Rhodesia.

British Foreign Secretary George Brown urged the council yesterday to apply immediate mandatory no-trade bars against Rhodesia. But the only specific sanctions requested were on 10 key exports that provide Premier Ian Smith's regime with an estimated $235.2 million annually.

The Afro-Asian nations, the largest power bloc in the U.N. General Assembly, also want a sanction against oil, a vital import for Rhodesia. Sanctions cover trade going into or out of a country.

But Brown skirted the sensitive issue—aware that an oil embargo could sabotage Britain's recuperating economy. He said Britain would not oppose a call for an oil embargo—provided it was made in "acceptable terms" to the British delegation. He warned that "sanctions must not be allowed to escalate into an economic confrontation with British delegation. He warned third countries" such as South Africa, with which Britain does a $1 billion annual trade.

Plumas Idea Legal; Peralta College Has Inside Track

Marin Asked To Provide Campus But Really Not Taking Action

Marin Junior College District can annex Plumas County, if Peralta Junior College District in Oakland doesn't beat it to the annexation.

It looked today, however, as though Peralta had a long lead in the "annex Plumas" race.

And there was some doubt whether Marin Junior College District trustees would like another campus more than 255 miles away. After all, development of the North Marin campus has not yet started.

One thing was settled, though: It would be legal. The state attorney general said so today.

AS A SURPRISE

In case all this comes as a surprise to the residents of Marin, it seems it's no surprise to those of Plumas County. All 12,000 of them presumably are aware of it—or at least as many of the 12,000 as can read and write and understand such things.

It's been carried on from this end purely by Irwin P. Diamond, acting president of College of Marin — although Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy of the board of trustees said board members had received a memo about the possibility of Plumas annexation. They've never discussed it at a board meeting.

It started last summer, about the time Stephen E. Epler departed as college president. Supt. Robert F. Schoensee of Plumas Unified School District wrote to several junior college districts, asking if they would like to annex his county.

LOW POPULATION

He explained that Plumas does not have the population for a junior college district, but it would like a junior college. He suggested some other district might like to put a campus there.

The lure: Assessed valuation of $78,438,000, as of last fiscal year.

Diamond showed the letter to Mrs. Deedy. She said she told him, "I'm curious about it, but I doubt if it would be legal."

Diamond decided to find out. He asked County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, who asked the state attorney general.

Today the attorney general's opinion arrived. After meandering through court cases and the Education Code, it wound up:

Church Council Urges Seeking Of Viet Parley

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—The General Assembly of the National Council of Churches approved overwhelmingly today a policy statement urging the U. S. government to seek international mediation of the Viet Nam war.

It also urged the government to give "more serious consideration" to a halt in bombing raids on North Viet Nam "even though there may be no advance assurance of reciprocal action by the North Viet Nam government."

It said this country should be prepared to take other "risk" actions to bring about peace negotiations.

"This war must be brought to an end soon," the statement declared. It was adopted on a standing vote with several hundred delegates supporting it and no more than 20 opposing.

The National Council of Churches is the nation's largest cooperative religious organization, embracing 34 Protestant and Orthodox denominations with 41 million members. The General Assembly, its top policy making body, meets every three years. Its 1966 session began last Sunday and ends today.

The Viet Nam statement overshadowed all of the business in the minds of the assembly delegates. They debated it line by line through two days' sessions.

San Rafael Raid Cracks Two-County Theft Ring

$4,000 Loot Found In Pair's Apartment

The teamwork of three police departments and the Sonoma County sheriff's office led yesterday to the arrest in San Rafael of a man and woman charged with a string of burglaries in the past three weeks.

San Rafael police burst into an apartment at 565 Canal Street and found about $4,000 in clothing they said was stolen from the cars of 10 shoppers in San Rafael and Sonoma County since Nov. 22.

Arrested at the apartment were Raymond Joseph Penole Jr., 27, accused of 10 counts of burglary, and Eileen Marie Thompson, 20, charged with possession of stolen property. Police said she had been living with Penole.

Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa lauded the efforts of the San Rafael, Corte Madera and Santa Rosa police and the Sonoma County sheriff's office in solving the case.

Inspector Gerald A. Souza, whose work on the case was applauded by Chiesa, gave this story:

Following a series of thefts from cars parked in the Northgate Shopping Center and in the parking lot of the Mac Disco Department Store, 555 Francisco Boulevard, Corte Madera police supplied San Rafael police with the license number of a car seen leaving the scene of a similar theft there.

TRACED, SPOTTED

Santa Rosa police traced the auto belonged to a Calistoga woman who loaned it to several friends for use. San Rafael patrol units were given the license number, and last week, Patrolman Phillip D. Green spotted the car parked on Canal Street near Penole's home.

TIP PAYS OFF

Sunday, Sonoma sheriff's deputies, acting on a tip, found stolen goods in a room at the Flamingo Hotel in Santa Rosa. One of two men who had rented the room was identified as Penole.

Working with Inspectors Richard A. Douglas and Thomas C. Cheetham, Souza learned from tenants at 565 Canal Street that Penole was living there under thé name of Raymond Thompson. Then the raid occurred.

Besides the 10 counts, Penole was held on a warrant charging burglary in Sonoma County. Bail of $11,000 was set for him; $1,650 for Miss Thompson.

Chiesa said master keys were used to enter shoppers' cars, most of which were late models.

STROM, DR. VOYDAT OUSTER DEMANDED

State Federation Probe Report Also Hits Corona Over Academic Freedom Battles

The California Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO), in its long-delayed report on academic freedom in the San Rafael High School District, yesterday called for ouster of Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat and defeat at the polls of board of education member Anita C. Strom.

It also called for ouster as superintendent of Bert C. Corona, but he had left the San Rafael city schools between the time of the union's investigation and the release of the report. He left in June to become superintendent of schools in Modesto.

The CFT launched its inquiry into alleged threats to academic freedom at San Rafael's two high schools during the uproar last winter over assignment of Jack Kerouac's "On the Road" by teacher Gunard Salberg, for reading by a senior honors English class at Terra Linda High School. About the same time, the California Teachers Assn. sent a panel to Corte Madera to conduct an "ethics and personnel standards" inquiry into the San Rafael schools.

The CTA panel also called for ouster of Voydat and heavily censured Mrs. Strom. It had scant praise for Corona but did not call for his removal. He announced his resignation the day before its report was made public.

An introductory note to the CFT report, dated Nov. 17, says: "There appear to us to be no immediate threats to academic freedom in either of these schools (San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools) at this time."

The introductory note, bearing the names of Eric A. Spiekerman, chairman of the CFT's academic freedom committee, and Jackson Burgess, who wrote the report, includes no explanation for the long delay in its release. It says the CFT's inquiry was made "during the first five months of this year."

The introduction says: "It is our hope that this report can serve as a warning and as a guide in the job of erecting throughout California effective safeguards against violations, whether careless or calculated, of academic freedom."

It says that subsequent to the investigation, Voydat held a meeting of teachers to advise them of proceedings of the committee which considered "On the Road." "Since we censured the establishment of the secret committee, we are happy to note Dr. Voydat's attempt to open its proceedings," it adds.

The report deals principally with three cases which the CFT calls threats to academic freedom. One of these goes back to 1963, when Mrs. Strom (not then a board of education member) objected to a supplementary reading list used by Barbara Blumberg for a San Rafael High School class in American history. (Miss Blumberg has since left the San Rafael schools.)

Floating Mine Blown Up Near Ammo Convoy

Combined AP & UPI

SAIGON — South Vietnamese soldiers spotted a floating mine in the Saigon River tonight and exploded it with their rifles just as a government army ammunition truck convoy was crossing the Bien Hoa Bridge, U.S. military policemen reported.

The blast rocked part of Saigon and MPs first reported the Viet Cong had exploded an ammunition truck on the bridge with a hand grenade.

Concussion from the exploding mine —which could have wrecked the steel girder bridge —threw artillery ammunition out of the trucks and sent it rolling across the old Bien Hoa Highway bridge.

Authorities said a South Vietnamese sentry spotted the mine being pushed toward the bridge by Viet Cong frogmen, and shot at it before it got close enough to do damage.

Meanwhile U.S. jet pilots eluded one of the biggest MIG counterattacks of the war and bombed a radar site six miles from the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi.

U.S. military officials said at least 10 of the Russian built MIGs intercepted American F-105 Air Force Thunderchiefs raiding the Hanoi area Thursday, but all of the air-to-air missiles fired by the Communist defenders missed their mark.

One U.S. plane was downed in the North Viet Nam raids. The loss was attributed to groundfire, but the location was not reported. The American pilot was listed as missing.

Two other planes were shot down over the South. A B-57 Canberra jet bomber was shot down off the coast of South Viet Nam but both crewmen escaped. An F-100 Supersabre was downed 30 miles south of Saigon and the pilot was killed.

Unbroken Stream Of Opposition Features Hearing On Highway 17

By STEPHEN COOK

Marin County residents and their representatives presented an almost unbroken stream of opposition yesterday as they paraded to microphones in the San Rafael Theater to record their views on Highway 17.

More than 45 persons, including leaders of local government and business and homeowner groups, testified during the four and one-half hour State Division of Highways hearing.

AT CLOSE

At the close of the largely anti-freeway hearing, Alan S. Hart, district engineer for the division, said:

"We are certainly aware that the feelings expressed here today are negative. We've been in the business a long time, and we knew that anyone with a freeway routed within shouting distance of his home would oppose it. You may never have a freeway in this area, but, if it is built, it will fit your community."

After the meeting, he said, "The positive approach today was in the resolution of the board of supervisors. Our next move will be to comply with that resolution."

That resolution, read into the hearing record by board chairman Byron W. Leydecker, asked a second hearing on the proposed freeway routes after the county has time to study Highway 17 as it relates to "balanced transportation needs of Marin County."

It also asked studies of two more routes: the "K" route which cuts through San Anselmo but avoids Fairfax and the "R" route which runs along an underveloped ridge between Terra Linda and Marinwood.

In contrast to the emotion-charged hearing held by Marin County supervisors Nov. 21, yesterday's speakers conducted themselves on "a real sane basis," as Hart called it.

"If this is an unruly mob, I want more of them up my way," said Harold Del Ponte, hearing officer and chairman of the Del Norte County Board of Supervisors.

He referred to Leydecker's statement Tuesday that he would be "delighted" to attend the hearing for the board, "just to find out how others handle unruly crowds."

MOST OF HEAT

Except for attorney Richard V. Bettini's morning attack on Hart for holding the hearing, most of the heat yesterday was directed at the supervisors—particularly Leydecker and Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Mrs. Charles Swenson told the engineers the people do not blame them. "We blame our supervisors, especially the two in favor of the freeways, for inviting the division in to study the freeways without first consulting their constituents," she said.

Sylvia Spenser of 18 Jordan Avenue, San Anselmo, said, "I want to thank supervisors Storer, Gnoss and Behr for their magnificient work in bringing about the resolution which was read today."

"I think that by now, most of us have a pretty good idea where our opposition should be directed," said Mrs. Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas.

Most opposition to the proposed routes came from the San Anselmo, Sleepy Hollow and Fairfax areas. Speakers from these areas said either that they want no east-west freeway in Marin or they want it located in less populated areas to the north.

Merritt Robinson of the Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn. said residents of his 125-home community were displeased to hear some persons favor ridge routes through Sleepy Hollow because it is relatively undeveloped.

He urged study of the "R" route on the ridge between Terra Linda and Marinwood, saying it would affect only one house and would "open up some gorgeous scenery" behind the undeveloped Loma Alta area.

NO SCARS

Maxine Miller of Hilldale Park in San Anselmo said if a freeway is necessary, "it should be put where it will not scar the land or disrupt so many people.

"When you look at your maps, remember we are not just dots, we are people. Come and visit us as people, not as officials. We live in a small area, but it's a delightful one."

Vera Rivers, a real estate broker from Sequoia Park, San Anselmo, said the freeway will have "a terrible impact on residential and commercial values.

Ross Census Pays Dividend

A new population estimate for the Town of Ross means $2.821 more in gasoline tax refunds from the state.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen said last night the latest population estimate by the State Department of Finance put the figure at 2,768—which was 217 more people than were counted in 1960.

It only cost the town $150 for the state census so the actual benefit for the first year will be $2,671, said clerk Mrs. Virginia Stott.

The council said, however, it won't bother to have the population figure changed in signs at the town's entrances.

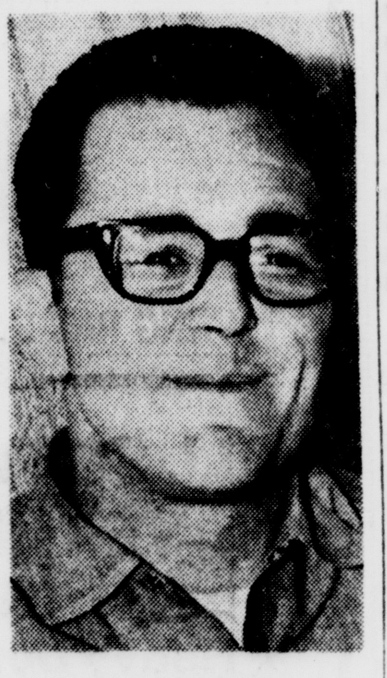
MAYBE HE STILL LOOKS FOR SANTA

An over-enterprising garbage collector was reprimanded by Mill Valley Refuse Service yesterday after leaving notes in his Belvedere customers' mailboxes.

The notes read "if you have a gift for your scavenger man, please mail it to . . ." and gave his address in Richmond, including the zip code.

Prison Playwright To Face Limelight On Freedom Day

Rick Cluchey, 35-year-old San Quentin inmate who wrote a widely praised play while in prison, will end 11 years confinement Monday, walking to freedom under waiting television cameras.



RICK CLUCHEY
Inmate author paroled

Cluchey was an eighth grade dropout with four years in the Army behind him when he was sentenced in 1955 to a life term for kidnaping and armed robbery in Los Angeles.

While in prison he has become a certified dental technician, his passport to freedom, and the author of "Le Cage," a play of which performances two years ago by the San Francisco Actors Workshop proved his passport to fame.

The play has been described by Cluchey as "an attempt to show the emotions of four men as they react to the completely unreal life of confinement in prison." It took him a year to write, often by lighting matches after the lights were turned out.

Cluchey's life sentence came because he forced a man to drive him several blocks, then robbed him of $800. His gun fired in the course of the action, the bullet grazing the victim. Although there was evidence that the shooting was accidental, a life sentence without possibility of parole was mandatory. The judge recommended the governor commute the sentence to straight life, which allows parole.

On Christmas Day, 1964, the sentence was commuted. The Adult Authority, however, waited another two years to grant parole.

In all the years in prison, Cluchey broke not one rule, according to Associate Warden James W. L. Park, who said. "That's really doing something considering how many rules we've got around here."

Although his play won the praise of critics, the conditions of Cluchey's parole will not permit him to work in the theater. Despite letters from the Ford

Countdown Bullet In Head Survived By Young Victim

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) —A young man who had to endure a countdown of 60 before being shot in the head at point-blank range was listed in "fair" condition in a hospital here today.

James Lamka, 24, of Coral Gables was in an intensive-care unit following surgery yesterday after he was reportedly made to kneel before his alleged assailant and being told, "I'm going to count down from 60 and then kill you."

Police were hopeful of talking with Lamka today, to establish a motive in the shooting. A detective captain called Lamka's survival "one in a million."

According to authorities, Lamka and John Kirchheiner, 21, who share a Coral Gables apartment, were visited early yesterday morning by a friend, John Wesley Clark, 25, of Miami. Clark reportedly had been drinking and asked the two men to help him "beat up, or kill" a man whom Clark said had stolen his girl friend.

They refused and Clark allegedly at this point pulled a pistol. Kirchheiner told authorities he got a rifle out of his closet and managed to get the pistol away from Clark and calm him. But when Kirchheiner dropped his guard, Clark grabbed the rifle and pistol.

The countdown and shooting reportedly followed with Kirchheiner frozen in the corner. He ran from the room and raced 100 yards to a restaurant to phone police. While he was phoning, Lamka staggered into the restaurant.

Clark was arrested three blocks away. He was charged with aggravated assault with intent to commit murder.

Woman Shouts At Caroline

NEW YORK (UPI) —A woman with a history of mental disturbance approached Caroline Kennedy on the street yesterday, muttered that she had evidence that her father, the late President Kennedy, was still alive and began shouting epithets at the child.

Caroline's Secret Service escort whisked the girl into the lobby of the Kennedy apartment house on Fifth Avenue and police took the distraught woman to Bellevue Hospital for psychiatric observation.

The woman, identified as Josephine Matsko, 43, who lives in a Broadway area hotel about two miles from the Kennedy residence, got no closer than 10 feet to Caroline, police said.

Black Cleared In Dow Wilson Murder Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Asst. Dist. Atty. Walter Guibbini today had only one suspect left to try for the ambush slaying of painters union leader Dow Wilson.

He is Ben Rasnick, secretary of District Council 16 of the Painters Union, who was the last of six suspects indicted on murder-conspiracy charges for Wilson's death on April 16.

BLACK FREED

Superior Court Judge Norman Elkington acquitted accountant Carl M. Black, 47, of Oakland yesterday on ground the evidence against him fell "far short of the standards required by law for conviction."

Black had chosen a trial by judge rather than jury.

The defendant, who had spent the last seven months behind bars while awaiting trial, wept openly when Elkington announced his verdict.

"I feel wonderful," he told newsmen later. "This is a very good Hanukkah present."

OTHERS DROPPED

On Wednesday charges against tavern owner Richard Rock and Clyde Simmonds, 75, were dismissed by Elkington at the request of Guibinni who said he did not have enough solid evidence to bring their cases to trial.

The other two defendants, painting contractors Norman Call and Max Ward, were previously convicted on murder and conspiracy charges.

The prosecution charged that Wilson was gunned down on a San Francisco street because he found out a union welfare fund in Sacramento was being robbed. Ward and Call were employer trustees of the fund.

No trial date has been set for Rasnick.

Guard Positions

Positions as correctional officers at a starting salary of $520 a month are now open to men between the ages of 21 and 45 with two years work experience and the equivalent of a high school education. Application forms are available at the San Quentin Prison personnel office. Final filing date is Jan. 2.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Innocent Plea To Slaying Charge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A former mental patient stood silently today while a lawyer entered his innocent plea to the bludgeon slaying of a nationally known church and civil rights leader.

Minor

William R. Minor, 23, entered the plea to a first-degree murder charge in the death of Dr. Robert W. Spike, 43, a ministry professor at the University of Chicago credited with a major role in moving the church into civil rights activities.

Minor must be indicted by a grand jury before he can be tried.

Spike's body was found in a pool of blood last Oct. 17 in a guest room at the United Christian Center near Ohio State University. He had made a speech dedicating the interdenominational center the day before.

Spike

Early Wednesday, Minor stopped a police cruiser in downtown Columbus and told officers he had committed a burglary the night before at the Southeast Christian Church in Columbus.

Because of the church angle, Beck said officers decided to question Minor about the Spike case.

Warne Pleased

CORONADO (UPI) — Director William E. Warne of the state Department of Water Resources says he leaves the job with "full confidence" the $1.75 billion state water project will be completed on schedule. Warne told the Irrigation Districts Assn. of California yesterday that 56 per cent of the construction work is complete or under way.

To Fight Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Emanuel Celler says he will press his fight in the new Congress to halt the Senate's practice of tacking nongermane amendments onto House-passed bills. The New York Democrat, chairman of the Judiciary Committee and dean of the House in point of service, said the present procedure "makes a mockery of the legislative process."

EXTREMISM NOT ALWAYS A VIRTUE

WAYNE, N.J. (UPI)—Martin Thomas, 16, was sent home from Wayne Regional High School earlier this week with instructions to cut his exceedingly long hair.

Yesterday he came to school with his head completely shaved.

He was sent home again with orders to wait until it grows back, but his parents and the principal later huddled and agreed he could return to school Monday.

School officials promised to send him home again, however, if his shiny pate disrupted work in the classroom.

Brother Claims Report Failed To Give Motive

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — "One thing that has always bothered me is the why of this thing," says Robert Oswald, the brother of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

Oswald, 32, a sales manager for a Wichita Falls brick company, says he's writing a book he hopes will explain why and provide new details.

"I would hope it is done in a manner which will shed additional light on Lee's over-all general character, which, in my opinion, was cut short in the commission report," he said in an interview yesterday with the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Nixon Flays LBJ Over War Budget

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Former vice president Richard Nixon says that the Johnson administration's $10 billion miscalculation of Viet Nam war spending is "incredible" and that a tax increase at this time "could be a disaster."

Nixon, the unsuccessful Republican candidate for president in 1960, said at a news conference yesterday that "It is incredible that this administration in March (when it first announced the proposed war budget) could not have known in December what the cost of the war in Viet Nam would be."

He said, "I don't think a man like (Defense Secretary Robert S.) McNamara with a computer-like mind could make this mistake."

Answering a question, Nixon said the lower estimates of Viet Nam war costs were helpful to the administration in the election campaign.

Nixon later told a State Chamber of Commerce luncheon that the country needs a "true war budget" in place of a tax increase. And he advocated a cut in nonmilitary spending.

Nixon said, "Consumer spending is down. Corporate profits are down. The economy is in a downturn.

"A tax increase at this time impairs consumer confidence and accelerates the downturn. In my view, a tax increase could trigger a recession and wipe out all the economic gains of the past 10 years."

Nixon said nothing about his present political ambitions. But when photographers asked him to pose for pictures in the corridor of the Hilton Hotel, he laughed and asked them not to put him "next to that exit sign."

Riot Broken Up

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — About 600 young Negroes took part in a demonstration which police broke up when the demonstrators began breaking windows of downtown businesses early today. Alton B. Taylor, city public safety director, said the demonstration began about 1 or 1:30 a. m. and was broken up about 4 a. m. He said there were no reports of injuries and no arrests—"as yet."

Highway 17 Hearing Parade Of Opposition

It will stop all sales within a radius of three blocks."

James E. Denebeim of 980 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow, said: "We are beginning to get the feeling that regardless of what the population wants, we're going to get the freeway shoved down our throats. We're beginning to doubt that Kettenhofen has our feelings at heart."

He warned that the freeway revolt could end with bad feelings. "Do we have to have recall elections to stop our supervisors from voting for a freeway? Do we have to send lobbyists to Sacramento to stop the freeway?" he asked.

Norman D. Staub of Sleepy Hollow, an associate professor at University of California at Berkeley, said "Los Angeles is the future of Marin if developers and freeway-minded men carry the day."

Representatives of numerous organizations entered objections ranging from opposition to any freeway anywhere in the county to requests for further study.

The gamut of objections was run by Bart Benedict of San Anselmo, who said he spoke for the Fairfax Citizens Freeway Study Committee, the Marin Conservation League, Marin Council for Civic Affairs, San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce and the Hillsdale, Manor Hill, Sequoia Park, Sleepy Hollow, Greenbrae and San Anselmo homeowners associations, all of which endorsed a "unity statement" opposing the routes proposed by the highways division.

Benedict objected to all proposed routes, which he said would "dismember, disrupt and despoil" business and residential areas and create a "munincipal financial crisis" through loss of tax revenues from destroyed homes and businesses.

He urged a study of a "balanced transport system" for Marin and a study of the "obsolescence of Highway 101" and its interchanges.

Mrs. John F. West of the San Anselmo Home Owners' Assn. charged that imbalance in methods of moving people was a result of devoting all gasoline tax revenues to highway construction. She said a portion of these revenues should be spent on developing other means of transportation.

Richard A. Gable, speaking for the Survival Committee of Miracle Mile, said a proposed route along the north side of the Miracle Mile would destroy a $5 million investment by 38 firms and wipe out 250 jobs with a $2 million investment annual payroll.

Richard Ocheltree of the Lucas Valley Freeway Study Committee said the sole consideration in locating a freeway should be to relieve traffic congestion in central Marin.

Carroll A. Snyker, manager of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce, took the mildest line of the session,presenting statistics to demonstrate the need for relief of increasing congestion on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Harold Gregg said the Marin Conservation League "can't accept any of the state proposals. It is a piecemeal plan, without resolution at any end. By the time this highway is built, the standard freeway solution of today will be a thing of the past."

Mrs. Frederick said the San Geronimo Valley Assn. is "opposing any east-west freeway for Marin. It's the opinion of some of us that freeways beget traffic."

In a question and answer period at the end of the hearing, Hart was asked: "Don't you understand that we don't want any of the freeways proposed?"

"That's certainly what we've been hearing here today," he said. He closed, promising another hearing by the division and saying anyone who could not attend yesterday's hearing could testify in writing.

Tiburon Club President Renominated

Joseph W. Royer was nominated by Tiburon Peninsula Club's board of directors last night to serve a second term as president.

Nominated as new members for the board were Mervin D. Field, Dr. Kay H. Blacker, Richard S. Calendar and Alan W. Cundall.

Field, who heads Field Research in San Francisco, plans to conduct a survey of the membership to find out if the club is providing what members want.

If there are no further nominations from the membership, the nominees will be installed at the club's annual meeting on Jan. 24.

Directors decided to leave the large swimming pool open for the winter and close the south pool. They agreed to continue underwriting the junior tennis program for $120 a month.

The house committee was authorized to have the kitchen renovated for a cost of not more than $3,000, and to order new drapes and wall paneling for Homan Hall and the entrance lobby.

Walker Creek Survey Money Is Requested

Marin Soil Conservation District Board yesterday approved filing with the State Soil Conservation Commission on application for $25,000 in state funds for the Walker Creek Watershed feasibility study.

North Marin Water District Board, which had asked the county agency's approval, will put up $12,500 for the study, and the Marin County Board of Supervisors has approved a county contribution of $12,500.

Foundation offering support if he wished it in either acting or play writing, it was made clear at an earlier appearance before the Adult Authority that he could either practice his new calling as a dental technician or work for the Seven Step Foundation.

Cluchey, however, will not give up his writing entirely. His time when not working on an approved job is his own. Drama he has said, has become "a driving passion although I have never been in a theater, not even to rob one."

Cluchey has chosen to work with Seven Step, a national organization dedicated to the rehabilitation of former prisoners.

Waiting for him at the prison gates Monday will be a Rolls Royce driven by Lee Bart, president of the local chapter of the foundation. He will be driven to the San Francisco Hilton Hotel to be guest of honor at a luncheon attended by former San Quentin Warden Clinton T. Duffy and Bill Sands, founder and national president of Seven Step Foundation.

CAMPUS

inclusion of the Plumas Unified School District in the non-contiguous Marin Junior College District . . . We have no means of determining whether the legislature contemplated the inclusion of a unified school district in a junior college district more than 255 miles away. However, the language used by the legislature is sufficiently clear so as to inhibit a protracted 'hunt for legislative intent'."

Diamond said he probably won't even bring the opinion before a Marin board meeting, though, as it appears Peralta has Plumas all signed up.

Not quite, said Supt. John W. Dunn of Peralta Junior College District, which is now operating two campuses in Oakland, with a third under construction in Alameda and a fourth planned in Berkeley or Albany.

Dunn said a tentative agreement would be put before his board next Tuesday and before the Plumas board Dec. 19. It calls for construction of a campus starting within four years after the annexation, which could not take effect until July 1, 1968. He said Peralta plans a comprehensive junior college in Plumas County.

The annexation will require either a vote or a petition from residents of Plumas, he said, but no vote by Oaklanders. Plumas reportedly already has approved the idea.

Since there wouldn't be enough students in Plumas County, said Dunn, some would be sent from Oakland. "It would be kind of like the Stanford University campus in France, except they wouldn't have to get shots," he said.

Marin students, it appears, will have to keep on attending junior college near home, unless they want to pay tuition.

WAR

carried out three massive strikes today against Viet Cong positions.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk began a round of conferences on the Viet Nam war today after again ruling out a prolonged suspension of the bombing of North Viet Nam unless Hanoi indicates it will reciprocate.

"We have told them many times that if they tell us what they've stopped doing, we can consider stopping the bombing," Rusk told newsmen on his arrival from Formosa for a three-day stay.

"We can't stop just half the way. They've got to stop their half of it."

The secretary predicted the Communists will have to talk peace because "they will not be able to succeed" on the battlefield. He said he was "greatly encouraged" by improvements in the situation in Viet Nam. But he added: "I have no indication from the other side that they're interested in moving this problem to the conference table," or were heeding Pope Paul VI's plea for a 45 to 50 day extension of the Christmas truce.

President Johnson said yesterday he would give it "sympathetic consideration." United Nations Secretary General Thant said he agreed with the Pontiff that such an armistice would be a "golden opportunity."

There was no immediate reaction from either North Viet Nam or Communist China. Both countries ignored a similar appeal Pope Paul made when last year's Christmas truce ended.

Meeting Dates To Be Reviewed

Kentfield School District board will consider changes in meeting dates for January, February and March at 8 p.m. Monday at Wolfe Grade School.

The board plans to consider a preliminary budget in January, so an increase in the number of board meetings may be necessary, according to Supt. Anthony G. Bacich.

The board will consider prohibiting use of school facilities for private commercial purposes, and updating of the district policy handbook.

Marin-TV Debuts On College Campus

Marin-TV had its debut yesterday as College of Marin students broadcast their student government election rally on closed-circuit television, using the college's audio-visual equipment.

The $1,500 in television equipment has heretofore been used only for class work, usually in science classes. But the chaos prevailing in the "studio," a room in the student center, had all the authenticity of a professional show.

The show started 17 minutes late, and the sound was too low and rather fuzzy, according to the audience sitting before screens elsewhere in the student center. The show was not broad cast beyond the building.

The main speakers were candidates for student offices to be voted on Monday and Tuesday at the college.

The candidates include Michael M. Kawai of San Rafael, for student body president; Michael Patterson of Novato, for vice president; Penny I. Sievers of Sausalito, for secretary, and Frederick J. Lockett of Kentfield, for treasurer, all running unopposed.

Richard Giovannoli of San Rafael and Clifford J. Zerikotes are running for public relations commissioner. Giovannoli, in his television speech, promised that if elected, the "Controversy' 66" lecture series will continue "no matter how the Independent-Journal feels about it."

Curtis F. Miller of San Rafael and William M. Lockett of Kentfield are running for rallies and assembly commissioner. Harry E. Hersh of Mill Valley is running for athletics and spirit commissioner. James D. Wallace of Novato is running for college center commissioner.

State Teacher Federation Blasts Strom, Dr. Voydat

San Rafael High School social studies department. The tapes were removed during the summer of 1965 "for evaluation" and were returned only after long delay.

The third case is "On the Road," which Voydat, after conferring with a faculty committee, ruled off the assignment list for the class.

The CFT contends that in the "On the Road" case there was a breach of contract by the school district. It bases this on the fact that a parent who complained about "On the Road" was not required to fill out the complaint form provided by district policy.

"When procedures are arbitrarily by-passed, the terms of employment have been violated," it says. "In addition, a teacher's choice of materials is a professional choice, and to question it is to question, to some extent, his competence, and thus effectively to imperil his livelihood; this is an exceedingly grave responsibility for the district, which has implicitly endorsed the teacher's competence by hiring him. Futhermore, we would point out that the state, by establishing its credential, has preempted the area of validated teacher competence."

The CFT report claims Voydat acted improperly in the "On the Road" and social studies tapes cases, and says: "Further, Dr. Voydat needlessly impugned the intergrity of the teachers of his district in his suggestions that reprisals against students had been threatened by some teachers." It recommends that the CFT demand dismissal of Voydat.

As to Corona, the report criticizes him for his handling of the "On the Road" complaints and of City Councilman Louis H. Baar's aspersions on some San Rafael High School teachers. It charges he showed "serious lack of understanding of the limits of his office and an equally serious lack of loyalty to the teachers of his district."

As to Mrs. Strom, it says she "has for the past few years, and most notably in the history book list case, taken public and private action inimical not only to academic freedom but to the atmosphere of confidence and candor necessary to the work of the public schools."

It says that "she has betrayed her responsibility as a board member by her failure to distinguish between her duty to the board and her rights as a private citizen" and "has circumvented or ignored adopted policies of complaint."

Says the report:

"We therefore recommend that the California Federation of Teachers work actively in the coming San Rafael School Board election for the defeat of Mrs. Strom."

While working for Mrs. Strom's defeat, however, the CFT apparently will be supporting another San Rafael board member whose term expires and who has indicated he will seek re-election: Chairman Carl J. Brown, who is himself a teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School. The report commends Brown "both for his cooperation with this committee and for his avowed intention of establishing and honoring sound procedures of review of controversial teaching materials."

It also recommends the men who were principals of the two high schools during the inquiry: Alfred N. Thomson and George Yertson. Both were subsequently assigned to Santa Venetia Junior High School at their own requests.

Appended to the report is a form recommended by the National Council of Teachers of English for use in book complaints, which the CFT committee recommends for statewide adoption. It is a simple one-page form. The form adopted (but used only once) by the San Rafael schools is a much longer, more complicated form copied from one devised by the American Library Assn. to discourage those who would purge library shelves of controversial books.

Ten Guide Dogs To Be Presented

During the final graduation ceremonies of 1966 at the Guide Dogs for the Blind tomorrow, 10 trained dogs will be presented to their new masters.

The ceremonies, open to the public, will start at 2:30 p.m. at the school headquarters on Los Ranchitos Road.

Scheduled to receive their dogs are Frank De Herrera of Denver, Colo.; Jim Griffin of Ardmore, Okla., Jerry Langham of Houston, Tex.; Henri Ledeboer of Pacific Grove; Raymond Lesly of Ukiah; Alious Smith of Brentwood; Mary Waddell of San Angelo, Tex.; Mrs. Margaret Richards of Glendale; and Kelvin Carboni and Mrs. Iola Clark, both of San Francisco.

No Meeting Held

The Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission did not meet last night due to lack of quorum. No new meeting date has yet been set.

Rights Group Asks Study On Financing

Members of the Marin County Human Rights Commission last night asked for an exploration of other means of supporting study centers now financed with War on Poverty funds.

There is a good chance that cutbacks in federal spending will bring withdrawal of support, commission executive officer Robert B. Brauer reported.

Commissioners also wanted study of possible expansion of the boundaries of the Marin City Community Services District to give it a workable tax base. Most properties with the present boundaries are tax free.

Commissioners gave approval to a redrafted pre-bid agreement for contractors bidding on the Community Mental Health Center. It calls for the successful bidder to appoint a equal opportunity officer on the company staff to seek qualified minority workers.

The commission agreed that Brauer would be the agent to work with the firm to assure compliance, commission acting secretary Ilys Hernandez reporter.

Commissioners Arthur L. Brown and Rev. John O'Connor were absent.

Violin Institute Leaving Marin

The Violin Institute of California, at 1732 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, is to close and move to San Francisco.

Opened by Professor Vlado Kolitsch in March, 1965, the institute featured violin instruction.

Professor Kolitsch a native of Yugoslavia, came to America in 1923. Since his arrival in Marin County last year he has been embroiled in feuds with critics and musicians in the area, Mrs. Neil Holton, licensee of the institute, announced its closing today in a letter to the Independent-Journal.

Shopping Guide Out Next Week

Results of Marin's first consumer comparative shopping will be distributed next week, said Mrs. Marilyn Gordon of San Anselmo, chairman of RAGE, Residents Against Grocery Expenses.

RAGE, a group of some 70 women which began as a supermarket picketing activity, and grew into a consumers' association, has conducted comparative shopping tests in local stores during the last month.

A public meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Sarah Schickling, 51 Ross Avenue, San Anselmo, has been scheduled when 5,000 copies of the free newsletter will be given out for further distribution.

Boat Sighted, But Not Owner

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Coast Guard helicopter sighted today a 26-foot fishing boat partially sunk off Alameda, but said there was no sign of its owner, Helen Bryant, 27, of Oakland, a diabetic.

The boat was partially submerged one mile off shore.

Miss Bryant left Alameda Yacht Harbor on a trial run at 1 p.m. Thursday in her 26 foot power boat. She expected to return before 5 p.m. to take an insulin shot. The Coast Guard said she had no insulin aboard.

The Coast Guard was told she planned to go toward Alcatraz Island.

Lenses Stolen

Theft of two camera lenses and a pair of sunglasses in a burglary of the car of Pauline P. Steer, 86 Corte Solano, Greenbrae, was reported by sheriff's officers today. The vehicle, parked on College Avenue, Kentfield, was entered by prying a window.

OBITUARIES

Donald J. Brazell Dies At 38

Donald Joseph Brazell, 38, of 1665 Center Road, Novato, a construction worker, died Wednesday in Truckee of a cerebral hemorrhage.

A native of Sioux City, Iowa, he had lived in Marin County for 13 years. He entered the Army near the end of World War II and served in the Korean War. He worked for Locke Plumbing for two years until two years ago, and was working in Truckee at the time of his death.

He was a member of the Laborers Union Local of San Rafael.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Joan Ann Brazell; two sons, Alan and David; and one daughter, Barbara Joan, all of the home, and his mother, Mrs. Mary Brazell of Sioux City, Iowa.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9 a.m. Tuesday at Our Lady of Loretto Church, Novato. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Monday at the Chapel of Marin in Novato. Burial will be at 11 a.m. Tuesday in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

HARRIET G. EDDY

NAPA (AP) — Harriet G. Eddy, who organized the state's free county libraries and was a professor emeritus at the University of California, is dead at the age of 90.

Miss Eddy died Saturday at the home of friends here and, at her request, there were no funeral services.

She began her professional career as a high school teacher in Montana and in 1906 was appointed principal of the Elk Grove, Calif., high school. In that town she established the first county branch of the State Library.

Three years later she joined the staff of James L. Gillis, California state librarian, and in the next nine years organized libraries in 40 of the state's 58 counties.

Then, in 1918, Miss Eddy became state organizer and professor in the University of California's Agricultural Extension Services. She was with the University from 1918 until 1941, the date of her retirement.

JOHN A. DEERR

John A. Deerr, 81, of Mill Valley, died Wednesday in a San Francisco hospital after a brief illness.

A native of Belle Plaine, Iowa, he lived in California for 15 years, the last 10 in Marin County. He resided at 231 East Blithedale Avenue.

He is survived by his wife, Elsie B. Deerr; two sons, George A. Deerr of Anaheim and John K. Deerr of Belle Plaine; two daughters, Mrs. Roy Gordon of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Mrs. Crystal Knosp of Wheaton, Ill., and a brother, Byron C. Deerr of Belle Plaine.

Funeral and burial will be in Belle Plaine. Local arrangements will be by Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

Paris, Moscow Say Viet War Threatens Neighbors

PARIS (AP)—France and the Soviet Union declared today the war in Viet Nam endangers that country's neighbors and is "the principal obstacle to the relaxation of international tensions" and "lasting peaceful relations among numerous countries."

In a joint communique released six hours after Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin flew home after a nine-day state visit, the two governments said they deplored the Viet Nam war as "a situation whose gravity is the result of external intervention."

Although the source of the intervention was not identified, previous statements left no doubt the United States was meant. Kosygin said repeatedly during his visit that America is guilty of aggression in Viet Nam.

"Once again," the communique said, "the two governments note that the operations of war in Viet Nam continue to intensify without letup and that the human and material losses continue to grow."

The war occupied a large part of the conversations between Kosygin and French President Charles de Gaulle, and the joint declaration noted the two governments would continue "to exchange their views on this question."

It said both nations are firm in their attachment to the principles of the U.N. Charter and "were fully resolved" to use all of the U.N.'s possibilities to spare present and future generations "from the calamities of atomic war."

Describing discussions on disarmament and the spread of nuclear weapons, the communique said the two leaders "recognized once more that it was necessary that the powers possessing these weapons discuss the proper means to assure true disarmament."

Air Medal Goes To Marin Pilot

A total of 25 missions over hostile territory in support of ground operations in Viet Nam has earned an Air Medal for Maj. William J. Alich of Mill Valley.

Attached to the Sixth Army Aviation Division, Major Alich received the award in a ceremony at the Presidio of San Francisco.

The citation read in part: "By his determination to accomplish his mission in spite of the hazards inherent in repeated aerial flights over hostile territory, he has brought credit upon himself, his organization and the military service."

He is 34 years old and has spent 14 years in military service. The family home is at 195 Edgewood Avenue.

Council Again Cools Toward Zoning Plan

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Marin County's request to Ross to join in city-county zoning ordinance study got just as cool a reception the second time around before the town council.

"I'm suspicious," said Councilman Roy Farrington Jones. "Any marriage of city and county is something which scares me to death."

County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill made his second appearance before the council to invite members to take part in the county-wide study, aimed at devising a zoning guideline that could be used by the county and its 11 cities.

"Anything in there which would take away anything we now have?" Jones asked Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott. Elliott thought not.

Said Councilman Jordan L. Martinelli Jr.: "I do not admire any part of the county planning department at all.

"I feel sure there is a move afoot at the Civic Center for some sort of super-county government. I do not go for any of it."

Cordill repeated what he said at the Nov. 10 meeting—that no money from Ross was involved and all the county wanted was Ross to think.

The zoning official said, "We think it necessary that we have conversation with you about zoning problems in the county where we all live . . . we all have to pay taxes."

He said the county could discuss with Ross, or with any other community, the ideas and objections of that community. "We will need it," he said.

"I question if we need it," replied Mayor Frederick S. Allen, dryly.

Jones asked if Ross could pull out of the agreement if it wanted to.

"As you have no more obligation under this agreement than to talk," said Cordill, "the best way to terminate the agreement is to stop talking."

Ross Employees Get Yule Present—A Pay Increase

The seven or more employees of Ross got a Christmas present last night in the form of pay raises effective Jan. 1.

The town council adopted recommendations for a new personnel ordinance which will clarify conditions of work and give employees a raising pay scale based on increased efficiency and seniority.

Examples of increased salaries: Police Chief John Harris will go from $667 a month to $821 and Fire Chief A. T. Henrich from $700 to $862.

The recommendations were contained in a report presented by H. Thomas Heershartz of the State Personnel Board.

Employees have yet to approve the new ordinance, but so certain were councilmen of success that they approved the pay raises before the final draft of the ordinance had been drawn.

Said Mayor Frederick S. Allen, "It's a good report and one this town has needed for a good many years."

Because of a hint at inequity if the council insisted one police patrolman live in Ross and the others need not, members changed their minds and said in future no patrolman need live in town limits unless he wants to.

If there was any doubt the employees were satisfied, the town council was sure they were safe.

The Ross Town Council Also:

1. Gave Marin Art and Garden Center until the February meeting to come up with a rezoning application for its antique shop, or an explanation why the variance should be continued.
2. Continued to Jan. 12 review of preliminary plans and cost estimates for widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.
3. Approved, subject to conditions, an application by H. C. Youngberg of 71 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard for subdivision of 4.27 acres into two parcels.
4. Reappointed Robert D. Dickson to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District Board.
5. Instructed Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott to draw up ordinance restricting fences on property lines to height of six feet.
6. Adopting an ordinance and resolution establishing 27 no-parking zones.

Elderly Woman Dead; Strangled

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The body of an 81-year-old woman was found in an apartment building elevator here today. Detective Russell Jackson said the woman had been strangled with a stocking.

He declined to say if the woman had been raped.

Police said the body was found by another tennant.

Jackson made no comment as to whether the case could be linked with five rape strangulations of women 50 years old or more which have occurred here in slightly more than a year.

17 Arrested For Murderous Spree

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police have arrested 17 young people in what they call a rampage of senseless violence Wednesday night that included murder, rape, beatings and robbery.

More than a score of officers spent yesterday rounding up suspects and piecing together details.

Detective Sgt. L. G. Neal said a loosely organized gang of 20 to 25 persons in five or six cars ran wild for six hours in what "apparently started out as a thrill sort of thing," beginning about 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Officers cited these as the major incidents:

1. Carloads of youths pulled up at a Gardena taco stand and beat two teen-agers with ax handles and chains.

2. Three youths pulled a young cocktail waitress from a phone booth on Whittier Boulevard and drove her to East Los Angeles and raped her. When she called for help she was pistol whipped. She finally was pushed from the car on Beverly Boulevard.

3. Robert Stewart, 25, standing in front of his house with a girl friend, was robbed of $40 and shot. The girl was robbed of $25. He died yesterday in a hospital.

4. A carload of youths entered an automatic laundry on West 11th Street, beat four men with ax handles, shot one in the leg, robbed the quartet of $90 and fled.

5. Gayle William Munson, 28, was beaten and robbed of $28 at a West Covina service station.

6. Maxino Ibera, 17, a pedestrian, was beaten with bottles, a hammer and a piece of pipe as he walked along Beaudry street.

Los Angeles police and sheriff deputies and officers from El Monte, Baldwin Park and West Covina participated in the roundup.

Five of the 17 arrested were adults. Three of the 12 juveniles were girls. Five juveniles were booked on suspicion of murdering Stewart.

Aberfan Funds Bring Feuding

ABERFAN, Wales (AP)—Sympathizers have sent millions of dollars to help Aberfan since an avalanche of slag killed 116 children and 28 adults Oct. 21, but the money has brought bitterness and quarrels to the town of 5,000.

"People are frightened by the job of administering this fantastic fund," a minister said. "It is too big."

The Aberfan disaster fund totals $3.43 million and may finally approach $6 million.

The fund committee has paid out $336,000, including $5,600 to persons whose homes were destroyed and $560 to parents who had a child in the school crushed by the slag.

Spruce Tree Stolen

Theft of a two-foot spruce tree was reported yesterday to Mill Valley police by Mrs. Mark Roth, owner of the Redwood Book Store, 116 Throckmorton Avenue. The tree, worth $20, was taken from a planter in front of her store, she said.

General Park Out Of Lots In Bel Marin

The Bel Marin Keys Community Service District board voted last night to make a general park out of four lots which were donated to the district by the developer Jack West, for a Little League baseball park.

Plans presented in a rough sketch by William C. Hanson, chairman, showed a sand-lot type ball field with a place for a tennis court, tether ball and other things more generally used by the children.

"It would cost us between $4,000 and $5,000 to make a regulation Little League Park, which would be used only three months per year," said Mrs. Jane Zoeller, secretary. "We could do the other for less cost and it could be used by everyone all during the year."

Roy Hosking, president of the Bel Marin Keys Homeowners Assn., promised help of members in doing the work if the district would buy the materials. He also promised help in cleaning the land, Mrs. Zoeller said.

The board also voted not to charge teen-age and youth groups the $1 rent for the pavilion if they will keep it clean.

O'Gara Appointed To Municipal Bench

SACRAMENTO (AP) — San Francisco attorney Gerald O'Gara has been named by Gov. Brown to replace the governor's brother as a San Francisco municipal court judge.

Pickets Once Again At Abortion Class

It was the mixture as before last night at Marin's second abortion lecture: A large attentive audience inside hearing Patricia Maginnis' frank talk on how and where to get abortions; a militant group of pickets outside.

Nearly 100 people showed up at Star Hall, San Anselmo, for the San Francisco medical laboratory technologist's lecture, reported Mrs. Polly Strand of Corte Madera, who coordinated the series.

Miss Maginnis, longtime opponent of existing abortion laws, covered the same material last week, including methods of self-induced abortions and names and addresses of Mexican doctors who will perform the operations, and at the request of the audience, she also discussed methods of contraception.

After picketing, students went inside to the lecture and asked questions.

"The pickets asked Miss Maginnis what her opinions on Viet Nam were," reported Mrs. Strand. "The questioner inferred we were all a bunch of Communists, and the audience got very annoyed, shouting they were here to discuss a serious question, not to get engaged in a political discussion."

Mrs. Fred Baumsteiger of San Anselmo, who heads MOMI, said today she did not consider picketing activities had attracted more attention to the abortion lectures. The group will picket next week's final lecture, set for Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Star Hall.

Marin's abortion lectures — termed by Miss Maginnis her most successful yet—have attracted national attention. Next week's class will be filmed by the NBC television "Today" program, and photographed by Life magazine.

Today Miss Maginnis was in La Jolla, where she has been invited to give an abortion class by a Quaker church.

Loan Branch Office Approved

Tamalpais Savings and Loan Assn., Corte Madera, has received permission from the California savings and loan commissioner to establish a branch office in El Cerrito.

John Anton, president of the association, said this will be its fourth location and will be adjacent to El Cerrito Plaza, a large shopping center.

Tamalpais Savings and Loan recently announced plans to merge with Fremont Savings and Loan Assn. of Fremont under the new name of Tamalpais-Fremont Savings and Loan Assn. If approved by stockholders and regulatory authorities, headquarters would be in Corte Madera. Tamalpais Savings and Loan also has an office in Palo Alto.

Coeds First For Kaiser Hospital

Two of six students at Dominican College in San Rafael, injured yesterday when their car overturned in Moraga, were scheduled today to become the first patients transferred by the Kaiser Foundation to its newly purchased hospital in San Rafael, formerly Terra Linda Valley Hospital.

Janet Gaudin of Alhambra, Los Angeles County, driver of the car, and Joan Caplis of Santa Ana, Orange County, were reported in good condition this morning in Contra Costa County Hospital, awaiting transfer. Miss Gaudin suffered severe cuts; Miss Caplis a fractured hip.

Formal transfer of the 97-bed hospital to the foundation occurred today.

The other four girls, also 19, were released from Contra Costa County Hospital after treatment. They were Barbara Barry of San Jose, Cynthia Brigandi of Springfield, Va.; Sue O'Hare of Monterey, and Edie Biesheuval of Sacramento.

Meeting Postponed

The meeting of the Marin Highlands Homeowners Assn. in Novato, scheduled last night, was canceled because of the rush of the Christmas season, according to Earl A. Jacobs, president. The meeting will be held on Jan. 12, Jacobs said.

Officer Seating Scheduled Sunday

Woodacre Improvement Club will elect and install 1967 officers after a potluck dinner at the club at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Handmade dolls and other Christmas items will be on display at the club, reported Mrs. Donald Pederson, dinner chairman.

HITS FEDERAL POWER — Michigan's Gov. Romney in a speech last night before the 71st Congress of American Industry of the National Assn. of Manufacturers, meeting in New York, said that "the growing centralization of federal power is not only dwarfing America's men, but it is dwarfing state and local governments." GOP Governors Looking To Major Election Role

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Republican governors, demanding a party role to match their bolstered numbers, went to work today to build an organization that could propel one of them into the GOP presidential nomination.

Their potential leaders were not saying which one — although Michigan's Gov. George Romney clearly is the front runner among them, as he is in the public opinion polls.

Colorado Gov. John A. Love and Rhode Island's John H. Chafee, both seeking the chairmanship of the Republican Governors' Assn., agreed that the 25 GOP state executives should seek to line up behind a single candidate for the White House.

With broad, if not unanimous agreement, Chafee told a joint news conference last night, the governors can control the selection of the party's 1968 candidate.

Also House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, appearing at the meeting, said there would be no dissention between Republicans on Capitol Hill and in the state-houses.

At an afternoon meeting the governors are expected to elect a chairman to succeed retiring Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho.

Planners To Hold Special Meeting

Mill Valley Planning Commission will hold a special meeting tomorrow at 9 a.m. at City Hall to review planned unit development and planned single-family district regulations.

Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon said the review was to consider "combining and expanding the regulations to provide additional incentives for more imaginative design to carry out the goals of our general plan."

Christmas Dinner Tomorrow Night

Kentfield Volunteer Firemen will have their Chhristmas dinner tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the fire station, following an afternoon party for the firemen's children.

Plea Of Guilty On Grand Theft

OAKLAND (AP) — James C. Tooke, Castro Valley tax consultant and the chief witness against former San Francisco tax assessor Russell L. Wolden, has pleaded guilty to charges of bribery and grand theft.

Tooke, who entered his plea yesterday, has given testimony before 12 grand juries in California, one in Seattle and before legislative committees.

Tooke, indicted 15 months ago, admitted before Superior Court Judge Redmond C. Staats of Alameda County that he had given former Alameda County Assessor Donald E. Feragen an $8,455 bribe.

Returns Jury Check

Ralph E. Leighton of 215 Lucas Park Drive, San Rafael, has returned $5.45 in jury duty payment to the county treasury. County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell wrote Leighton thanking him for the rare action.

Backing Given Santa Venetia Flood Zoning

Directors of Gallinas Village Community Services District last night gave support to proposed expansion of the Santa Venetia Flood Control Zone to coincide with limits of the watershed.

Ronald W. Shafer of the flood control zone advisory board told directors that the expansion move, which failed about five years ago, is being revived.

CSD board chairman John Miller had asked Shafer to speak to the board last night on the recent flooding in Gallinas Village. Clogged drains caused high water during rains last weekend.

Morgens Ring of the county public works department said today the expansion move is still in the planning stage. He said he would like to see a vastly expanded zone, perhaps taking in both the Terra Linda and Lucas Valley watersheds.

Santa Venetia residents pay the maximum $1 per $100 assessed valuation flood control tax and have no control over the flood waters draining into their area from higher ground.

Shafer told directors last night that Gallinas Village is "the bottom of the wastebasket," according to the report from Marguerite Clark, district secretary.

Francisco Peccorini was named to serve as board chairman in 1967.

Guilty Plea To Drunken Driving

Rev. Benton S. Gaskell, pastor of the Community Congregational Church in Tiburon, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to drunken driving.

On motion of Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest Zunino, a second count alleging a mixture of drugs and intoxicants, and an alleged prior conviction were dismissed by Judge Peter Allen Smith. The judge scheduled sentencing for 3 p.m. next Thursday.

Rev. Gaskell, 40, who resides on Rock Hill Road, was arrested by sheriff's deputies Nov. 26 after his car struck a stopped car driven by Robert Lewis Hoots, 38, of 720 Hilary Drive, Tiburon, on Rock Hill Road.

Mini-Skirts For Nuclear Rockets

BOSTON (SS)—Shorter skirts for atomic rocket engines will increase payload capacity, according to an Aerojet-General Corp. engineer from Sacramento.

A rocket's skirt is the flared lower portion that forms the gas stream into the widest possible pushing force. Long and wide skirts are both heavy and expensive. D. F. Vanica solves the problem by pushing the hot rocket gas through many separate streams or "nozzles," shaping them in a shorter space.

On a Mars mission using nuclear propulsion, the system could add 40,000 pounds of payload—equal to the weight of five Gemini spacecraft.

College Of Marin's Gain And A Loss

When the Marin Junior College District gained a new trustee last night, it lost an evening instructor at the same time.

When attorney Thomas A. Skornia of Ross joined the board, he decided that he did not want to be his own boss. He asked that he be dropped as instructor of a non-credit adult education course in California Government and Politics to be offered next spring.

In Good Condition

William D. Fusselman, former Marin County supervisor and a columnist for the Independent-Journal, was reported in good condition today in Ross General Hospital following minor surgery.

Replacement Found So College Aide Can Go

Marin Junior College District trustees, who were seeking an administrative assistant in charge of government projects, located one on the college's teaching staff.

Trustees last night appointed Michael P. Hansen, engineering instructior, to the post and accepted the resignation of William Collins effective Dec. 30.

Collins resigned to become assistant in charge of government projects with the new Fremont-Newark Junior College District, of which former College of Marin president Stephen E. Epler is superintendent. When Collins submitted his resignation last month, trustees refused to accept it until a successor had been found.

Last night trustees commended Collins for his work, and Acting President Irwin C. Diamond said that Collins had brought "Significant contributions" to the college.

Hansen will continue his teaching assignment this semester and carry a two-thirds teaching load next semester, while handling his new duties. The board set his salary for both teaching and administrative work at $12,760 a year.

Diamond reported, "It is the opinion of the administrative staff that the government projects assignment is half-time."

The board also approved an application for $428,000 in federal funds towards the college's $3.5 million science building, scheduled for construction next fall.

Trustees also approved an application for $386,000 in federal funds for a planetarium building.

Prior to its regular session the board held a dinner meeting with representatives of the Academic Senate to discuss the quarter system, the optimum size for a campus, and the possibility of rotating division and department chairmen.

Marin Junior College District Board Also:

1. Awarded bids totaling $40,635 for equipment to be purchased under the National Defense Education Act.
2. Hired Rudy Melone, who is in the junior college leadership program at University of California at Berkeley, as half-time administrative intern, starting Jan. 2, at $2,625 for the remainder of the school year.
3. Approved new state regulations regarding the admission, retention and disqualification of students, to become effective next fall.
4. Awarded Joseph DiGiorgio and Son of San Rafael, second low bidder, a contract to construct an addition to the dental assistant building at a cost of $16,750, after a ruling from the county counsel's office. The low bidder, A. and T. Construction Co. of San Francisco, failed to submit a list of subcontractors.
5. Approved change orders in the fine arts building project at a cost of $2,643.
6. Hired Michele Pfeffer as secretary to the district supervisor of construction and plant operations at $410 a month.
7. Approved two new adult education courses for the spring semester, one on organization, management and leadership, and another on California politics and government, to be offered at Terra Linda High School, as exceptions to the district policy on having all non-credit courses on campus.
8. Approved adult education, non-credit courses for the spring semester including the history and appreciation of wine and approved 115 credit classes for the evening college in the spring semester.
9. Agreed to drop the $5 fee for the course on heart disease entitled "Are You Giving Your Heart a Chance?" which will have instructors furnished by the Heart Assn.
10. Authorized advertising for bids for the 1967-68 college catalog, 6,000 copies with an alternate of 7,500 copies.
11. Approved transfer of four physical education classes to adult education.
12. Approved payment of $50 honorariums to Dr. William Dickerson, Ross Hospital psychiatrist, and James Trent, sociologist at the Center for the Study of Higher Education at University of California at Berkeley, who will be consultants in programs for counselors. A federal grant will cover half the cost.
13. Adjourned until Jan. 12, setting Jan. 12 and 26 for January board meetings, and indicated that a special session with the citizens financial advisory committee probably will be called next month.

GOP Council Pledges Support

Directors of Marin Republican Council last night pledged wholehearted support to the incoming administration of Ronald Reagan.

The board also congratulated one of its members, Thomas C. Reed of Ross, on being named Reagan's appointments secretary.

The meeting, held in the San Rafael courthouse, was the first since the Nov. 8 election. President Rogers Broomhead reviewed the council's accomplishments in the recent campaign, which included $3,500 in contributions to statewide candidates and obout $2,000 to help finance Marin's unified GOP headquarters at 1414 Fourth Street, San Rafael. He noted that MRC also played key roles in voter registration and turning out the vote.

Portuguese Trio Captured In Fight

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Three Portuguese soldiers were captured and others may have been killed in a clash between Indonesian and Portuguese troops on the mountainous Island of Timor this month, the newspaper Sinar Harapan reported today.

Timor, 300 miles long with about 800,000 inhabitants, lies in the long string of islands stretching east from Java toward West Iran. Its eastern half is Portuguese Timor, the only colonial foothold remaining on an Indonesian island.

Eversharp, Inc., Prop. 16 Backer

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Eversharp, Inc., was a major financial supporter of Prop. 16, the unsuccessful anti-obscenity measure on the Nov. 8 ballot, the Secretary of State's office said yesterday.

A letter from G. W. Humphreys, treasurer of Eversharp in Culver City, said the company paid $185,900 for a newspaper advertising supplement and a radio program.

The company "disclaims any responsibility to file any statement," Humphreys wrote, but filed one anyway. He said the company carries on extensive advertising campaigns that include promotions "deemed to be of public interest."

Fullerton Man New State Chamber Chief

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Arnold O. Beckman, board chairman of Beckman Instruments, Inc., of Fullerton, has been elected 1967 president of the California State Chamber of Commerce.

At a meeting yesterday, the chamber named Beckman, 66, to succeed Joseph A. Moore Jr., president of the Moore Dry Dock Co. of San Francisco.

Junior College Board Buys Newman Club For $50,790

The Marin Junior College District Board last night approved purchase of the Newman Center, 881-885 College Avenue, for $50,790 from the Roman Catholic Welfare Corp. of San Francisco, after long negotiation.

Chairman Robert E. Rogers said the district will pay $25,000 now and the remainder on occupancy. The Newman Club will have to vacate the building by next July 1, he said.

There was confusion last year when the Catholic church purchased the property, the former College Market and a 6,450 square foot lot near Kentfield Corners, from Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Mindle of San Rafael.

The district had been seeking to purchase the land for several months. County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney filed a condemnation notice, but the Mindles did not get a notice of condemnation until after the land was sold. It was later revealed that the church purchased the building and land for $35,000, the same price the district said in its suit it was prepared to pay.

Representatives of the Newman Center said earlier this year they had made improvements worth between $30,000 and $35,000.

Stephen N. Gilardi, president of the Newman Center board, said last night that the confusion last year "was due to lack of communication," but since then there has been cooperation and "a spirit of negotiation that has resulted in a fine solution."

The agreement will work to the benefit of the district, he said. "I think both sides have given a little."

Gilardi said the Newman Club will be seeking public contributions for its new center. Rev. Francis O'Brien center chaplain announced last month that the club purchased the Guasco Super Market on College Avenue, which will be remodeled.

Convicts To Host High School Youth In Test

San Quentin inmates, anxious to warn youth against the shortcuts in life that lead to prison, will meet tomorrow with 70 Marin County high schools boys in the prison's Protestant chapel.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park yesterday gave this reason for the unique experimental program being launched by the inmates:

"Prisoners may be angry at the world, angry at society, but they have a real concern for kids. They have a real strong feeling about keeping kids from making the mistakes they did."

Ten students and two faculty members from seven high schools will meet at 9 a.m. with the Squires, a group of 35 inmates, who organized about six months ago out of a desire to benefit young people.

Advisors to the Squires are Leo F. Shepherd, San Quentin program administrator, and vocational instructor Donald Leek.

Shepherd said, "This is an inmate-sponsored program. The staff has given much time to it, but is playing a pretty passive role." Teachers were asked to choose a cross-section of their classes to participate, he said, "but by no means does that mean any of them are delinquents." The minimum age is 17.

Shepherd said the inmates will not be lecturing the students, but, rather, will review the conditions and twisted thinking that brought them at last to San Quentin.

Whether similar meetings are held in the future will depend on the success of this initial experiment, Shepherd said.

Participating schools will be Tamalpais, Redwood, Sir Francis Drake, Marin Catholic, San Rafael, Terra Linda and Novato high schools.

Emergency Phones For Lonely Roads

BOSTON (AP) — The state unit of the American Automobile Assn. wants Massachusetts to install emergency telephones or radio transmitters at every mile along limited-access and divided highways.

Rep. Raymond F. Rourke, a Democrat, filed the proposal for the 1967 Legislature, saying: "Anyone who has been stranded on a lonely, unfamiliar stretch of highway, especially at night, knows it can be a frightening experience."

Retirement Board Picks New Leader

Sidney Stinson was nominated yesterday as chairman of the Marin County Retirement Board for 1967.

Stinson was not at yesterday's board meeting at the Civic Center so nominations were left open to make sure he will accept. The chairman is to be elected at the board's next meeting, Jan. 5.

Present Chairman Marcel Lusinchi said he did not want to serve for a second year.

The Marin County Retirement Board also:

1. Expressed doubt it would be legally possible to switch fireman mechanic Richard Stevenson, 58, to safety member status to allow retirement at age 60, but tabled decision until a report from the county counsel. Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom told the board he is considering naming Stevenson fire warden to fill the post of Kenneth Joseph, burned in the Chileno Valley fire and ordered to retire by his doctor.

2. Learned that the county administrator will probably recommend against the board's request that the pay for non-employee members of the board be raised from $25 to $50 per meeting. Purpose is to better compensate finance committee chairman John V. Bacigalupi for his work. Others involved, Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Marion Marks, both said they woud not accept the increase.

3. Heard a letter from member Stanley J. Fontez to Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley explaining that retirement can be deferred should Bradley leave county employ. The assistant coroner was an unsuccessful candidate in the election for coroner last June.

4. Agreed to seek legislative change to allow part-time employees, including county doctors, to get full-time credit on retirement eligibility.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Pandora Now Features Dancing Along With Its Steak Dinners

There has been a big change in Pandora — San Anselmo's hillside dinery — during the last few days.

Principal attractions are now steak dinners and dancing. Or dancing and steaks — whichever you consider more important.

Even the change of name to Pandora Steak House gives weight to the new order of service. Owners John Napoli and Ron Mettam have gone far out to popularize the menu and adapt the place to evening entertainment.

Featured billing is given to the complete New York steak dinner set at $3.95. A chicken dinner will be less. Other entrees to be accented are filets steaks. And some of chef Keith Thompson's regular specialties are still available, if you should decide that way.

No more lunches. Dinner service will start at 5:30 and carry on to 11 p.m. Closed Mondays.

Dancing and live entertainment are on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. The party room has been converted into the dance floor, with a raised platform for the entertainers. These will be Dori Green, who has been the featured Pandora pianist on weekends, together with Jimmie Lomba, a sax man formerly with Duke Ellington, and a bass player — name as yet unknown at this writing. But John and Ron are getting a good one. In case you didn't know it, John is a former musician himself and knows how to pick them.

Plenty of parking available, with an attendant on duty. Don't park down below somewhere and walk up. That's not necessary.

NEW DAY CHEF at Rubini's in Fairfax is Karl Scheuerman — who has won so many medals for his outstanding cooking accomplishments you feel like saluting him. Among them is one for top honors in an international contest held in London.

If the rain stops and the creek below Rubini's freezes over he can also exercise another one of his talents — ice sculpturing. Failing that he'll demonstrate at the Village Fair's Christmas festival next Thursday in Sausalito.

IT'S THAT TIME at Tiburon Tommie's again.

Monday night is the night Tommie Cox celebrates his eighth annual celebration from 5 p.m. to midnight. You oldtimers and regulars who know what this means — tell your friends about it, so they can enjoy it, too.

Last year, I'm told, something like 700 people were there during the course of the evening. This year there should be even more — and there's ample room for seating, as long as they don't all come at the same time. The upstairs Destination South Pacific Room is available once more, since the theatrical equipment of the Cove Players is moved out until sometime in January. Three bars, between the upstairs and downstairs.

You might also bear in mind that this room is now open for private parties and banquets over the holidays — subject, of course, to whatever prior reservations have already been received.

CAPTAIN CURRIES at 71 Red Hill Avenue on the San Anselmo stretch of the Miracle Mile doesn't just serve curries, you know. There are other foods to take out. And Dick and Gordon go even further by catering for large or medium parties or buffets and they'll act as consultants on what to serve.

They can cater many more selections in volume business, too, than are represented on their regular drop-by menu. Name it, and I imagine they can prepare it.

THERE'S MUSIC NOW Friday and Saturday nights at Gregory's Restaurant in the Paradise Shopping Center, Corte Madera.

Greg and Mary Alyce Seubert have taken on a strolling accordion player. At this point I'm not sure of his name — Walter something, I think. But he's a Bavarian in typical Bavarian costume, from the German American Club. He'll play from 8 to midnight — first in the dining room and then in the lounge and liven up the atmosphere.

A new menu selection here, very appropriate for the holiday season is roast goose, which chef Toni Reitmeier does a masterful job of preparing.

STORM OR NO STORM — I have the utmost respect for the air conditioning at La Petite Auberge, San Rafael. It's simple but effective — a matter of sliding back the roof tarpaulin to let the odors and smoke out and the fresh air in. After hours, if it's raining, of course. Clear weather it can be done any time.

If it should be raining during clean-up time, the tables are pulled back anyway, and the floor gets a mopping. No leaks when they aren't wanted. Apparently even the recent downpours couldn't break through.

La Petite will host the annual meeting of the Society for the Preservation and Protection of Executive Secretaries again this year — next Thursday. And if you think that's a mouthful — you should see what they eat for lunch.

ANSWERING the many queries about Ramona Stallings' plans to have a posadas ceremony again this year — yes, she certainly is considering it — but no, she can't be sure of holding it. If she does it will be a last minute thing — probably Dec. 20, 21 and 22.

But don't count on it too strongly. The music is difficult to play — or remember, and there are not many musicians this side of the border who know it. She's trying.

FIRST PLACE to report its New Year's Eve plans is Chalet Basque in Santa Venetia. Raymond Coscarat was also the first one to go on record with his Thanksgiving plans this season.

Regular dinners on Dec. 31 will be served from 5 to 8 p.m. After that, service will be cut off and the dining room closed until 8:30 or 9 when things are set up for Le Chalet's New Year's eve dinner and party affair. Strictly by reservation. And Raymond has set a maximum of 30 couples for this, so make your reservations early.

Entire evening is priced at $25 per couple for dinner, favors, music and dancing, champagne cocktails, wine or champagne with dinner — at your choice and discretion. Nothing else to pay but a tip for the waitress.

Chef Bernard Epstein's dinner menu calls for a choice of four entrees: Canard a l'Orange, beef brochette, tournedos Rossini or braised rack of lamb for two. All the accessories, of course.

For music, Raymond expects to have an accordionist and someone on drums. It should be a gala evening — and a Saturday night, at that.

THE JACK DAHL TRIO (Jack and June Dahl and Al Winterhalter) has moved from Black Point Inn to Rancho Rafael in Ignacio and you'll find these merrie makers of music there for dancing Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

I understand the Rancho's dining room is open for dinners, but not lunches. Food service is being handled by Bobbie Tresslar.

FAST, FAST WORK. No sooner had last Friday's column remark about North Carolina not being represented on Tiburon Lodge's register come under scrutiny and evaluation — than presto! Things began to happen. The following day that state contributed a winsome little blonde by the name of Pat Baxter from the town of Asheville.

As far as I know she may still be there — a member of the Holiday Magic Cosmetic group gathered from various parts of the U. S. That was either quick action on the part of the San Rafael beauty aid manufacturer (which expects to bring in a larger group in January) — or else the governor of North Carolina had something to do with it. Or maybe just the power of the press?

SEASONAL VISITORS AT SABELLA'S

Santa Claus and his reindeer will make their annual visit at Sabella's restaurant on Monday night, Dec. 12 and there will be two dinner periods for youngsters and their parents to witness the spectacle. In this photograph, taken at last year's Christmas dinner, Santa's team was too long to get him in the picture, along with the rapt faces at the dining room windows.

Urban League Plan Opposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State plans to channel job help for all minority groups through the Urban League has drawn opposition from a Mexican-American group in Sacramento.

The Concilio della Communidad, which spokesman called an "umbrella organization" representing numerous Mexican-American groups, said the Urban League was "Negro oriented and controlled."

It called for the State Employment Department to deal directly with Mexican-American organizations in seeking to fill vacant jobs with minority workers.

Greyhound Claims Wolf At Door In Maintaining Commuter Buses

By DAVID DIETZ

Rapid transit in Marin County is a long, lurching ride in a bus built when Hillary took Mount Everest and kept running by commuter rates that could nearly pay your way to Los Angeles by jet.

Through it all, the Greyhound Bus Co., which carries 11,000 commuters daily into San Francisco, maintains it is losing $250,000 a year on the operation, and cannot afford new equipment.

But renewed cries for a rapid transit system in the county are heard. Increasing numbers of commuters are shunning the buses for the family auto, clogging Highway 101 from San Rafael to the Golden Gate Bridge.

Taking the car is probably worse.

"This morning it took me 56 minutes to get from my home in Ross to the toll plaza at the bridge," R. H. Ballard, sales manager for a San Francisco electronics firm, wailed in a recent letter to Marin's supervisors. "Traffic was bumper-to-bumper and my car was never out of second gear until I reached the middle of the tunnel at the top of Waldo Grade."

The solution to Marin's traffic chaos may lie in numerous studies begun by Bay Area transit agencies. One, authorized by the Marin County Transit District Board, has investigated the possibility of improving bus service, and is due for release Dec. 19.

While authorities generally agree that better bus service is the most pressing need, they claim long-range plans for rail transit or a new bridge are required to ease traffic expected in a projected population swell.

To modernize the bus operations, Thomas D. Hardcastle, Marin director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District Board, proposes subsidies from bridge revenues, more than half of which are paid by county residents.

Estimates say such service would attract at least 4,000 more customers. Besides new buses, it would provide convenient schedules, bus stops, parking areas, and perhaps lower rates.

Meanwhile, Greyhound riders face deteriorating facilities amid the crush of traffic.

Many buses are old and uncomfortable. Some riders complain of restrictive scheduling, making it necessary for them to rise at an early hour to get to the city. Others have to wait in the rain for a lack of bus shelters.

Rates are spiraling, and will go higher if the State Public Utilities Commission approves a 7 per cent across-the-board increase asked by the company after striking drivers and station employees won a higher contract last summer.

A check of current rates for a 20-day commutation book from various Marin points to San Francisco shows: Novato, $12.25; San Rafael, $10; Corte Madera, $9; Mill Valley, $8.50, and Sausalito, $6.30.

With increased traffic, rush hour running times are longer, too. It now takes about an hour and 15 minutes from Novato to San Francisco, about 50 minutes from San Rafael, and a half-hour from Sausalito.

SLOWER SERVICE; LONGER LINE-UPS — Marin's commuters continue to depend on buses, many of them outmoded, that take longer and longer to reach San Francisco. And the lines waiting for them grow longer and longer, as this photo during the morning commute at the San Rafael bus depot indicates.

'Junior Miss' Contest Set Tomorrow Night At Novato

Marin County's "Junior Miss" will be selected at the Junior Miss Pageant at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Novato Community House.

Nanette Baget, last year's Junior Miss, will crown her successor.

The winner will go to the state contest in Garden Grove, and if successful there on to the national contest. All are sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The local winner will also receive a $400 scholarship. First runner-up will receive $200, and the second runner-up, $100.

Rufus C. Read, Hill Junior High School teacher, will be master of ceremonies.

Brain Function Ideas Revised

WASHINGTON (SS)—The motor cortex, major center in the brain for all skilled, voluntary movements, is a more elementary structure than anyone has suspected, according to new evidence. It's more like manual steering than power steering, says a doctor studying it.

Rather than guiding movement, the motor cortex determines only how much force will be applied, reported Dr. Edward V. Evarts of the National Institute of Mental Health in Bethesda, Md. Messages in the motor cortex are coded in terms of force, which means the guidance system is probably located in higher brain centers.

Dr. Evarts reported his research to an international conference of neurophysiologists at Columbia University in New York. It has important implications for restoring the use of paralyzed muscles.

Annexation Before Mill Valley Board

Proposed annexation to Sausalito School District of the west side of Tennessee Valley, now split by the Sausalito and Mill Valley districts, is slated for a vote Monday by Mill Valley trustees when they meet at 8 p.m. at 26 Miller Avenue.

Under discussion for 10 years, the proposal was made by Sausalito trustees to improve the racial balance in their district and to avoid duplication of facilities in the valley.

Also on the agenda is review of the tentative budget for 1967-68. The tentative budget total is $2,203,575, including a $15,560 deficit.

Trustees are to discuss procedures to select a superintendent to replace G. R. McConnell, who will leave the district next June 30.

The Cave Ponies

LYNEMOUTH, England (UPI)—The life of some of the pit ponies in England's coal mines often is a long and dark one. Recently when a smoky mine fire here required the surfacing of 79 pit ponies, it was disclosed that some of them — their ages ran from 4 to 26 years —had never before been above ground.

Fund Collection To Be Reviewed

The San Rafael Board of Education will review policy on fund solicitation in schools at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Administration Building, Third and E streets.

The review was prompted by a request last month from the Marin Chapter of the March of Dimes to conduct its campaign in the schools.

The board is scheduled to hear a report on the costs of various educational programs. It also will receive the resignation of Mrs. Diane Lindquist, teacher at Glenwood School, effective Jan. 27, because of a change of residence.

North Marin Shows Subdivision Decline

A decrease in new subdivisions and the annexation of an area in West Marin were among the most important developments in the past year in the North Marin Water District, according to the annual report prepared by Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

Although there was a decrease in new subdivisions, there was an increase in the new service connections in homes already constructed, Gilbert reported. The district added 878 new customers.

Original plan for annexation of 35 square miles of West Marin was reduced to 10.3 square miles. This area was annexed and a study of its water and sewer service is now under way.

Consumption of water from the Russian River and Stafford Reservoir is running close to predictions, Gilbert reported. However, the cost of Russian River water has not decreased as much as predicted.

Water loss this year was 6.3 per cent, or two per cent lower than it was last year, Gilbert said. In past years, the district has had up to 21 per cent loss in water. An average for loss across the country is 10 per cent, according to the report.

Work in relocation for street improvement and bridge projects cost the district $9,900 during the year.

No-Contest Plea In Tax Arraignment

George W. Prydz, city treasurer of San Anselmo, yesterday pleaded no-contest to four misdemeanor counts in Marin Municipal Court of failure to file state income tax.

Probation report and judgment of Prydz, who appeared without an attorney for arraignment and the pleas, were scheduled by Judge Peter Allen Smith for 3 p.m. Jan. 5.

Prydz, of 20 Woodland Avenue, San Anselmo, failed to pay $69.10, plus $51.83 in delinquency and fraud penalties for 1962; a total of $124.94 in tax and penalties for 1963; $214.05 for 1964; and $124.79 for 1965.

The complaint against Prydz, a public accountant twice elected to the part-time city treasurer job, was signed in the district attorney's office by an investigator for the State Franchise Tax Board.

Maximum penalty would be a $1,000 fine and/or a year in county jail. He is free on his own recognizance.

Robin Joining Alimony Set

Burt Ward, 20, who plays Robin in the television series, agreed yesterday in Santa Monica, Calif., to pay his wife Bonney alimony and child support.

Mrs. Ward filed suit for divorce last Nov. 17 on the grounds of mental cruelty. The couple, married for 19 months, has a daughter, Lisa, three months.

Sewage Dumping Into Sea Making Ocean A Cesspool

VENTURA (AP) — Dumping sewage into the sea is making a cesspool of the ocean, says a sportfishing spokesman.

James Donlon, secretary of the Ocean Fish Protective Assn., said sewage in the ocean has depleted kelp beds in Santa Monica Bay, depriving marine life of food and shelter.

Board member Ed Schiesel said Donlon was uncertain of the facts, Schiesel drew a negative response when he asked Donlon whether he knew of game fish depletion offshore from Ventura County.

The board is taking testimony before prescribing standards and policy for water quality control.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY
The popular "Profile of a Marinite" series returns to the Independent-Journal's Marin Magazine tomorrow. The subject—Felice Guasco, dean of Marin County's grocers. I-J business writer Harry Craft has written the story of the man who is still busily at work in the retail business he founded 42 years ago. But he is also finding time, at age 72, for his hobby of flower gardening.
Marin County has been home to many enterprising and creative people who have launched small businesses on their own. One such is Magda Cregg, whose Magda Designs operates out of her Marin City home. From it comes garments in leather, especially designed and created for the young college crowd. It is still a small business—but a growing one. And an interesting one, as you will learn from tomorrow's I-J magazine.

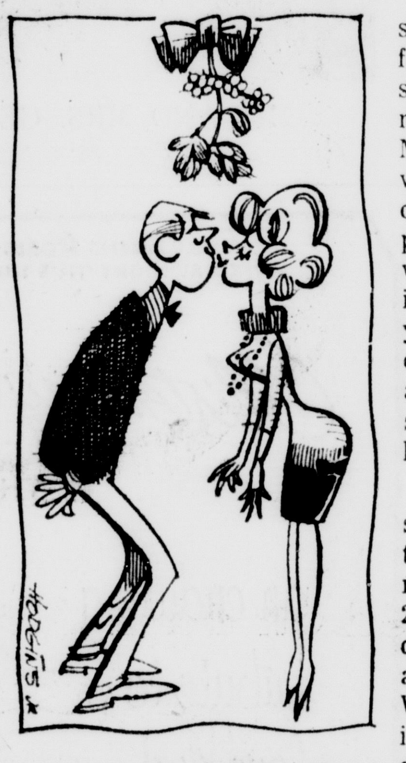
Kissing Under The Mistletoe Began With Ancient Romans—



You decorate your home with holly and sneak kisses under the mistletoe . . . take it for granted that Christmas was always celebrated on Dec. 25 . . . and even if you're past believing in Santa Claus, expect to see him drawn and painted as a jolly, bearded old elf. But did you ever stop to think of why you do these things?

We've raised some fascinating questions about the holiday—and provided answers that should tell you a lot about Yuletide customs and traditions.

1. How about your Christmas decorations? Know why we kiss under the mistletoe . . . who was first to use holly in December . . . what holly symbolizes to Christians . . . from which country the poinsettia came . . . how the cherry tree figures in Yule lore?

Kissing under the mistletoe is said to have begun with the ancient Romans, who viewed the plant as a symbol of peace. Enemies, meeting under the mistletoe, were supposed to embrace and declare a truce. The Romans were also first to use holly—at their December Saturnalia festival. But Christians also find holly appropriate because they see in it the symbolism of Christ's blood (the red berries) and His crown of thorns.

The poinsettia, another holiday bloom, comes from Mexico. Joel Poinsett, first American Minister to Mexico, brought it here in 1836. The cherry tree, according to the well-known "Cherry Tree Carol," bent its boughs so that the Virgin Mary could pluck its fruit.

2. Which settlers brought Santa Claus to the New World, and which three men created today's popular image of Santa Claus? Can you name his real-life prototype?

The Dutch brought San Nicholas (Sinter Klass for short) to the New World; later his name became Americanized to Santa Claus. Author Washington Irving first described Santa as riding through the skies in a reindeer-drawn sleigh.

Clement C. Moore described Santa as fat and jolly, with a snowy beard, in his famous poem "A Visit From St. Nicholas." Cartoonist Thomas Nast drew him that way. Santa's prototype, the real St. Nicholas, was a fourth century Turkish bishop who became a legend in his own lifetime for his generosity and his love of children.

3. How has the organ contributed to the music of Christmas?

The organ has been used in church worship and Christmas song since 450 A.D. (Spain was first to use it for Christian worship.) One of the greatest Christmas traditions, Handel's "The Messiah," is customarily sung with organ accompaniment; another classic Christmas composition, "Silent Night," was the work of Austrian church organist Franz Gruber. In recent years, organs have grown increasingly popular for the home as well as the church, and carol singing parties are a favorite holiday entertainment.

4. Christmas dates are the subject of this one. Who fixed the date of Christmas on Dec. 25? In what century was Christmas first declared a legal holiday? Which Americans made it a crime to celebrate Christmas? When is Epiphany, and how does it fit into the Christmas calendar?

Pope Julius fixed the Dec. 25 date, about the year 349 A.D. Two years later, after agreement on this date had been reached among church officials (some had favored fixing the Savior's birthday in January or March), Julius decreed that Christmas should thenceforth be celebrated on Dec. 25. In the sixth century A.D.—the year 543, to be exact — Christmas was made a legal holiday in Rome. But 100 years before that, the Roman government had required all theaters to close on Christmas Day. The Puritans, on the other hand, passed a Massachusetts law in 1659 making it a penal offense to celebrate Christmas.

As for Epiphany, it occurs on Jan. 6 and marks three events in the life of Jesus: His baptism, the visit of the Wise to Bethlehem and the miracle at Cana.

'SANTO NAVIDAD' AT FANJEAUX

For its traditional Christmas tea at Fanjeaux Hall on the Dominican College campus yesterday the Social Service Auxiliary of Marin used a south of the border theme and Mexican decorations. Here the college madrigal singers entertain as tea is served. Mrs. Vernon Stanford was chairman. Robert Huber of Mill Valley played the role of Santa Claus for the party.

Marin General Groups Plan Film Benefit—'Grand Prix'

Mrs. William Murray Jr. of San Rafael has been named chairman for the Marin General Hospital film benefit "Grand Prix" to be held on Jan. 26 at the Golden Gate Theater in San Francisco. A pre-theater dinner will precede at 6 p.m. at the St. Francis Yacht Club.

The event marks the first time that all volunteers, Pink Ladies and branch members have joined to work on one project.

Mrs. Connie Carpou is chairman of the theater and film committee assisted by Mesdames Ray Ferrari, Rodney Hartman, Finimore Cady, Thomas C. McNally III, A. L. Maysonave, and Owen Merritt.

Chairman of the ticket and reservation committee is Mrs. Philip Cancellier and Mesdames Allan Gilman, Philip Crane Sr., James Levorsen, David Dawson, George Bill and Owen Merritt.

Mrs. Allan Larkins Jr. is chairman of the pre-theater dinner committee assisted by Mesdames Russel Chatham, Robert Schultz, Thomas Behrens, George Shelby, Lyle Hastings and Edwin Hurt.

Mrs. Thomas Guerin in chairman of the program committee. Members are Mesdames Donald Blinco, Kenneth Ackerman, Howard Burns, William Steen, Leroy French, Carl Brimmekamp and Anne Wisler.

High School Girls Help Spread Cheer

Girls of Marin Catholic High School will help spread Christmas cheer at Sonoma State Hospital by giving a party at Hatch Cottage on Dec. 18 from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

The 20 girls are wrapping presents donated by Marin merchants for the 60 patients in Hatch Cottage who range from age 18 to 70, and Rich Woodall, a Marin Catholic senior, as Santa Claus will distribute them. Skits will be performed and carols will be sung accompanied by Chris McRee on his trombone.

Others helping with the party are the Homestead-Almonte Girl Scout troop under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Gay Jr., who are making Christmas tree mobiles, and the Boy Scout troop at Our Lady of Mount Carmel School in Mill Valley, whose members are making favors under the direction of Sister Theresa Ann.

The party under the chairmanship of Stephanie Rainsford is sponsored by the Sodality at Marin Catholic High School and Marin Aid to Retarded Children, which provides refreshments, transportation and other necessary arrangements. Mrs. John McRee of Mill Valley is chairman for this MARC activity.

They were started seven years ago by Mrs. Joseph Nannery and her daughter Carol of Mill Valley with the help of Mrs. Carole Quilick and Wanda Jones. As many as 40 teen-agers give up their Sundays to go to Sonoma.

Junior League Fashion Show Set At Fairmont On March 1

Two important changes have been announced for the 32nd annual luncheon and fashion show of the Junior League of San Francisco Inc. First, the date will be later than usual—March 1—more beneficial for its unusual theme, announces the chairman, Mrs. Kirk Frederick of San Rafael.

Also, the benefit's locale has been changed to the grand ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel. The past few years it was held at the Hilton ballroom and for many years before that was given at the Garden Court at the Palace, which it finally outgrew.

Assisting Mrs. Frederick on plans for the gala are two other Junior League members from Marin, Mrs. Thomas Dorst of Tiburon and Mrs. Lee Gammill of Mill Valley.

Mrs. V. Neil Fulton of Kentfield is secretary and Mrs. Frank Barsocchini, also of Kentfield, is coordinator of plans for the several children who will be in the show.

Other Marin members of the committee are Mesdames William Hickman of Greenbrae; Leonard Weisenburg of San Rafael; Laurence Symmes of Mill Valley; Gordon Dohemann of San Rafael and Richard Otter of Sausalito.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Something Missing In Marriage— No Jokes Over Supper Dishes

DEAR HELEN:

There's something missing in my marriage. I don't expect it to be an idyll, or even the romantic candle-glow of courtship, but I hoped for companionship, a shared joke over the supper dishes, a compliment now and then, mutual appreciation.

Tim and I went to school together, dated for three years before we were married. I don't mind telling you I was glad to get away from an alcoholic home where there was constant fighting and tongue lashings. But we loved each other — he wasn't an "escape."

Maybe I'm difficult to get along with, a little selfish and self-pitying. But is it right that we must always watch Tim's TV programs; regulate the furnace to suit his warm blood, even when I have a cold; go where he wants to go; spend what he wants to spend — while I do all the housework and also hold down a full-time job?

Even these wouldn't be so bad if he would show me he loves me. I'm told off when things I do aren't right, but never appreciated, never praised. He leaves his shorts on the floor, shirt on the door knob, shoes under the couch, then complains when the house is a mess. The only things he does for me are take the clothes to the laundromat on Saturdays, and empty the garbage under protest. He never brings me gifts. Honest, I'd settle for a bunch of ragweed — presented with a smile and a hug.

I'm really appreciated at my office, and there's one man (married) who shows more than appreciation. So far I've avoided him, but sometimes I want so badly to be noticed, I'm tempted. — WHAT TO DO

DEAR WHAT:

You've described an all too typical case of "marriage drift." While your undemonstrative husband may have started it, I'll bet you haven't done much to change the course.

Have you perhaps traded hurt for hurt and slight for slight until each knows in advance how the other will react and just where the next wound will fester most?

When is the last time you brought Tim an unexpected present or gave him a compliment instead of a self-pitying sigh? Sometimes a woman must show twice as much appreciation to see half as much in return — but it's usually there and smart little wives learn to recognize it without words.

Before your marriage drifts on the rocks you should let a counselor tell you these things, or change the current yourselves with the kind of pillow talk that leads to understanding, not fights. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

My daughter has petit mal (mild epilepsy) which is almost under control. But she has no friends, boy or girl. It seems when people learn of her condition they drift away as if there was something to fear. She is 21.

Are there any clubs for handicapped people like herself, so that she won't be so alone? — MRS. T.

DEAR MRS. T.:

The Epilepsy Foundation in your town can direct you to clubs for "handicapped" people, but your daughter should volunteer as a helper rather than enroll. Petit mal, almost under control, is not a handicap unless she sees it as one. With modern drugs, it could go unnoticed by most.

Has she considered a YWCA charm course, night school, social clubs, church and, most of all, counseling therapy? I'm sure one or more of these can prove people will accept her — if she'll let them. — H.

ANTITOXIC

Safe Check List For Toy Shoppers

Toys aren't always for tots.

A toy suitable for a ten-year-old may be potentially dangerous for a four-year-old child, according to Dr. Albert H. Domm, child safety authority.

Toys which propel objects, operate electrically or have detachable parts can be hazardous for most age groups, he said.

To help have an accident-free Christmas, Dr. Domm recommends that toy shoppers keep in mind the following check list:

1. Does the toy have chemicals that may explode or poison?
2. Is the toy inflammable?
3. Is the finish on the toy labeled "antitoxic"?
4. Does the toy use electricity, batteries or flame which may shock, ignite, or burn?
5. Does the toy have sharp or jagged edges that could cut and injure?
6. Does the toy have removable parts that might be swallowed and cause strangulation?

Hostesses Reveal Tips On How To Survive During Holidays

Even when the whole family helps, holidays are hard on today's hostess. In addition to her usual jobs of housework and family shopping, she must shop for gifts and cards, plan special menus, bake holiday cakes and cookies, and prepare for both invited and unexpected guests.

Yet some women breeze merrily through these activities and still manage to be fresh and delightful companions when husband returns from work. To learn how they revive themselves, an aspirin company conducted a spot check across the country, and came up with some interesting answers that may benefit others.

ONE OKLAHOMA MOTHER of three says she plans each day in writing during the holidays. She also pencils in home and shopping chores for each member of the family. Into every day's schedule goes 30 minutes "self-time" in which she rests, showers, changes clothes and redoes her makeup.

In Southern California, where summer-like heat accompanies hectic Christmas activities, the mother of two teen-age girls has a "slow-down" time set each day. She spreads Christmas shopping over several weeks, never spending more than two hours at it each day. Back home, she begins dinner, then slows down with simple yoga exercises. This is followed by a dip in the family pool that leaves her relaxed and refreshed.

According to one New Hampshire housewife, every Christmas shopping trip used to end in fatigue. Now she combats this by taking two aspirin tablets on returning home, then has a leisurely soak in a warm bath for fifteen minutes. Afterwards, she is ready to join her family in planning other holiday activities.

Christmas and New Year's are exciting, festive occasions for friends to gather and visit. But with all the extra work, every woman owes it to herself and family to be mentally and physically rested. The best way is to find the "revival" secret that works best for you.

AFTER YULETIDE PROGRAM

The tea table was popular after the Christmas program, "At the Beginning," with narration and vocal presentations, was given for the Women's Assn. of the First United Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo yesterday at the church. New officers were also installed. From left are Mrs. Thomas N. Edwards, Mrs. John Holm, new president; Dr. Henry Kuizenga of the church, and Mrs. John Elliott, new vice president. Mrs. Holm is an ordained deacon of the church.

YOUNG MONSTER — This is a scene form "Let's Kill Uncle," the co-feature to "Beau Geste," which is currently playing at the Rafael Theater. It stars Nigel Green of the "Ipcress File," fame.

MARIN FILM FARE

'Beau Geste' Back On Screen For Third Time In 40 Years

BY LESLIE DARD

The season's bright and so is the film fare at the Marin theaters which are still open.

RAFAEL THEATER

For the third time in 40 years the famous "Beau Geste" has been shot for the big screen. This trip the cast includes Guy Stockwell in the title role, Telly Savalas and Doug McClure.

The story line is basically the same, if a little heftier on the action side. A sadistic but fiercely capable sergeant (Savalas) in the Foreign Legion receives an anaymous letter threatening his life. As being hated by the men is nothing new, the letter doesn't phase him, but he suspects new recruit Geste and he and his younger brother with unrelieved cruelty.

Soon enough a company of the men is planning a group mutiny and the sergeant's murder, but when the fort is attacked suddenly he is spared to lead the defense. Wave after wave of murdering Taureg tribesmen sweep down on the outpost, killing all the defenders but Stockwell and the brutally brave sergeant.

Action, photography and performances are excellent. Good escapism, and an interesting base for examining the development of cinematic techniques and attitudes.

101 DRIVE-IN

Katherine Anne Porter's epic novel "Ship of Fools" has been transformed into an equally engrossing and slightly less complex cinematic masterpiece by producer-director Stanley Kramer.

This is a film of immense scope, with an international cast suited to the task it imposes. Included are Simone Signoret, Jose Ferrer, Heinz Ruemann, Oskar Werner, Lee Marvin, Vivian Leigh, Charles Korvin, Elizabeth Ashley, George Segal and Michael Dunn.

NOVATO THEATER and TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Back with us at both theaters is the powerful "Guns of Navarone."

This most exciting war film tells about a group of six commandos assigned to wipe out two huge Nazi guns buried in a seacliff of the Greek Island of Navarone.

The second feature at the Novato is a big one for Jerry Lewis fans—"Three on a Couch."

MOTOR MOVIES

Hollywood nearly staged World War II over again to bring us "The Longest Day," now in a return run here, a re-enactment of the Normandy invasion of June 6, 1944.

The gigantic military operation is examined from four points of view — the workings of the high commands of the English, American, French and German forces.

Alcohol Has Effects Like Radiation

WASHINGTON (SS) — Alcohol can produce more than one kind of aberration. The man who sees pink elephants may also be exposing himself to the same hazards faced by those exposed to the atomic bomb.

And if he really wants to live dangerously, Irish coffee is just the thing, for coffee and alcohol are synergists, that is, mixed together, they are several times more potent than when used alone.

Michigan scientists, studying the radiomimetic effects of beverages, drugs and insecticides, were surprised to find that alcohol can cause the same biological changes as radiation when tested on onion root tips, a simple testing technique in use since 1951. "A concentration of only 0.25 per cent, the alcohol level in the blood of an intoxicated person, was as potent as exposing the root tips to 10 roentgens per day of chronic gamma radiation.

"If alcohol is equally radiomimetic for human chromosomes, the consumption of one ounce of alcohol per day would be equivalent to 1 r/week of ionizing radiation, 100 times the Atomic Energy Commission's maximum permissible dose for the general public," Drs. Karl and Hally Sax of the Cranbrook Institute of Science said.

New Fertility Drug Offers Less Hazard

WASHINGTON (SS) — A new fertility drug that enables previously barren women to have children reportedly does not present complications of multiple births that often attend fertility therapy.

Doctors at New York's Mount Sinai Hospital said tests with the drug, Clomid, have been encouraging. The Food and Drug Administration has issued an "approval letter," signifying a green light on all but minor considerations. The manufacturer, William S. Merrell Co., would not say when the drug might be marketed.

Festival Theater Announces Schedule

Five major events which will make up the 1967 subscription season of Festival Theater in San Anselmo were announced today.

The theater, only professional resident company in Northern California which maintains a year-around performance schedule, will open the new season on Jan. 6 with a production of Leonard Bernstein's "Trouble in Tahiti" and Mark Bucci's "Tale for a Deaf Ear," two contemporary short operas by prize-winning American composers. They will have a nine-performance run at the theater at 2 Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

Second event, opening in late February, will be the first West Coast production of Robert Lowell's trilogy, "The Old Glory," which received five off-Broadway awards for its New York season. Robert Adler, the Festival Theater's associate artistic director, will direct this.

Third event will be the first production of a new play by Norman Corwin, "Overkill and Megalove."

The summer production will again be a "usual unusual" musical, according to Elizabeth Berryhill, Festival Theater producer.

As the fifth event, the theater, under a grant from the San Francisco Foundation, will bring Dr. Josef Koenigsmark from Prague, Czechoslovakia, to conduct a workshop experiment with "cinefusion" — new technique concerned with merging and juxtaposition of filmed images and live action.

Also, Festival Theater will cooperate in the College of Marin's 1967 opera scene program.

Radio Fans Give Guide Dogs Cash

A group of long-distance radio listeners will hand over a check Saturday to Guide Dogs for the Blind in San Rafael.

The check represents proceeds from a bake sale and other projects organized by the Tam-Marin Nite Stand Club—local chapter of an association sponsored to help charities by an all-night call-in radio program from Salt Lake City, Utah.

The Guide Dogs fund-raising project was started by Mrs. Carroll Snyker of Greenbrae.

Students To Give Yule Variety Show

A Christmas variety program of 20 acts, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday and Thursday in the old gymnasium at Novato High School, sponsored by the student body.

The Thespian Club, with H. J. Susser of the drama department, will direct and produce the acts. The Chalkdusters, the future teachers organization at the school, is in charge of publicity and ticket sales.

Tiburon Cove Players Cast Next Show

Casting has been completed for the Tiburon Cove Players' next production, "The Seven Year Itch," it was announced today by producer Dan Totheroh.

Heading the cast is Charles E. Auerbach. Sandy Keppel will play the role of his wife, whose absence on vacation causes the affliction in the title. Maudee Willcutt is cast in the role of the glamorous blonde neighbor. Claudia Keppel, Marianne Richardson and Corinne Guetlet play the other women in the hero's life. In the role of the psychiatrist is John Vigors, a newcomer to the Tiburon group. Robert Salvis will take the part of the bachelor's friend.

The play, a romantic comedy by George Axelrod, will be produced in Tiburon's Main Street Theater on four Friday and Saturday evenings, starting Jan. 20.

San Rafael Sergeant Awarded Army Medal

Army Master Sgt. David T. Marks of 30 Novato Street, San Rafael, has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal for service with the automatic data processing systems division of the Seventh Army in Germany.

The presentation was made at the Presidio of San Francisco where Marks is programming supervisor of the Sixth Army data processing service center.

Rec Board Has Possible Vacancy

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission last night agreed to advise the city council that there appears to be a vacancy on the commission.

Members reported that Commissioner Frank Salvisberg has not attended recent meetings and cannot be reached at his home at 200 Bolinas Avenue, where the phone "is no longer in service."

The commission, with Harold Walker absent, requested City Administrator David J. Sumbardo to continue negotiations with the Fairfax School District for property on School Street to use for tennis courts.

The commission also authorized restoration of the city's war veterans' Honor Grove plaque and set Saturday for a tour of city park sites by commissioners.

Only A Padlock Protects Art

DETROIT (AP)—Only a padlock protected a half-million dollars in Picasso art, but Howard Capponi drove the precious cargo from New York to Detroit without a guard.

The drawings and graphics, ranging from $25 to $35,000 in value, will be displayed at an exhibition here.

Capponi rented a small trailer for the trip, which took about 16 hours, with a dozen restaurant stops along the way.

Use Permit Obtained

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported Wednesday that Sausalito Planning Commission said the station, an antique shop at Bridgeway and Bee Street, had failed to obtain a use permit. Mrs. Marta Christal, owner of the shop, obtained a use permit when she opened the shop in December, 1962, city hall officials confirmed yesterday.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Youth The Winner In Williams Play

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—CBS-TV, which earlier this year earned great acceptance for its adaptation of "Death of a Salesman," last night offered a two-hour version of Tennessee Williams' beautiful, poignant drama, "The Glass Menagerie."

This stage work has been described by Williams as "a memory play," and the CBS-TV cast had considerable marquee value in the four roles. Shirley Booth portrayed the pathetic, babbling nuisance of a mother who loved her grown son and daughter but was maddening in her recitation of social cliches and embroidered past glories. Hal Holbrook, famous for his characterization of Mark Twain—which he will do in a one-man 90-minute CBS-TV special in May—played the son, yearning to write poetry and escape to an adventurous life.

YOUTH SHINES

Barbara Loden portrayed the daughter, crippled in one leg, shy, fragile, trying to smooth the differences between her mother and brother, and retreating into her own world, composed mainly of her glass collection and old phonograph records. Pat Hingle played the brother's friend—the "gentleman caller" whose visit for dinner occasions a great fuss as the other hopes to land him for a son-in-law; a fellow who, though ordinary, brings a sudden reality to the house of illusion, and who is possessed of enough kindness to make the daughter come alive—though it turns out he is engaged.

With only one reservation, I thought CBS-TV's version of "The Glass Menagerie" was a remarkably good job, chiefly because of the basic strength and loveliness of the play itself, and also because of the performances of the three younger stars. Miss Booth is and has been one of our finest actresses, and she had many worthy scenes last night, but at least to this viewer she gave the impression of not being at her sharpest. And her strong New Yorkish accent was rather hard to swallow in the part of a faded Southern lady who was living with her children off an alley in St. Louis in the 1930's.

PERFECT SCENE

Holdbrook, as the son and narrator, now a wanderer, was extremely good. But the two performers who brought magic to the production were Hingle and Miss Loden, and I think it is no slur on anyone to suggest that Mr. Hingle was the force that lifted the play to its heights, thanks, of course, to Mr. Williams. For the playwright created in this role a part that actors would shoot their best friends to get. The lengthy scene between Hingle and Miss Loden in which, alone together after dinner, his kindness makes her bloom as a desired young woman, shining with love, was without question the most beautiful scene I have ever seen on television.

Miss Loden came alive so completely and angelically that one's eyes moistened. It was a moment to remember for television, for Producer David Susskind, for Director Michael Elliott and for those fortunate enough to have tuned in the play hoping for such rewarding achievement.

Alcoholism Is Serious U.S. Problem

WASHINGTON (SS) — A special five-year Stanford University study on alcoholism, to be published next summer, has established:

Alcoholism is the number one mental health problem in nine states, according to hospital diagnoses.

Public drunkenness and drunken driving accounted for at least 40 per cent of a total 5 million arrests last year.

Alcoholics constituted about 22 per cent of all the male first admissions to 300 mental hospitals throughout the nation.

Partly because of the magnitude of the problem, it is "not reasonable" to set up a vast separate network for treating alcoholics, said Dr. Thomas F. A. Plaut, who presented the Stanford material to a national conference of state mental health authorities here.

Such a network would rob other agencies of their personnel, he said. Moreover, alcoholism cannot be divorced from other psychological, social and vocational problems, he said.

Actress Says Son Shows Improvement

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Zoltan Hargitay is still in serious condition, but his mother, actress Jayne Mansfield, says he is improved.

The boy, 6, was mauled by a lion Nov. 26 at a Thousand Oaks animal compound, underwent two operations and then contracted spinal meningitis.

Brown To Site Disaster Areas

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown planned today to declare portions of flood - ravaged Central and Southern California as disaster areas.

The governor's office said yesterday Brown would act today to get disaster relief for areas hit by the flood. But aides said it was not yet known which specific areas would be earmarked for help.

Tulare, Kern and Riverside counties have requested issuance of a disaster proclamation. Flooding this week has caused a still undetermined amount of damage in the three counties.

Church Art Exhibit

An exhibition of paintings by Sausalito artist Lynn Wood will begin Sunday at Unitarian-Universalist Church of San Rafael with a public "coffee" at noon. The show will continue Sundays through Thursdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., through Jan 6.

No Savings In Delinquent Tax Payments

Despite increasing interest rates on loans, property owners will only be deluding themselves if they think they can make a saving by delaying tax payments, Marin Tax Collector-Treasurer Stanley J. Fontez declared today.

Fontez figured the penalties and interest on a $200 tax bill that runs one year late. The total cost comes to $28.50 or 14.25 per cent of the bill.

"I still think you can get a loan cheaper than that," Fontez said.

Late payments of first and second installments are each subject to a 6 per cent penalty. In addition there is a $3 publication charge and one per cent interest each month after June 30. On top of this owners not paying before June 30 must put up $1.5 state redemption charge.

Fontez explained that the delinquent property is sold but not deeded to the state June 30. After five years, the land is deeded.

The Marin tax collector said that an increasing number of property owners are getting the idea that delayed payment of taxes in the present tight money situation is a saving.

Because of this, the State Tax Collectors' Assn. recently agreed to ask legislation changing the deed date from five to three years, Fontez said.

First installments of property tax payments will be delinquent after 5 p.m. Monday.

Open Housing Author Makes Concession

Rumford stopped a recount he requested and conceded yesterday—after failing to win votes from his old constituency in the 17th Assembly District.

Rumford, a Berkeley pharmacist and a Negro, had asked the recount when the Nov. 8 election results showed him losing to Sherman, who is white, 160,769 to 159,968—an 801 vote difference.

That will be the official final tally although Rumford gained 70 votes in the incomplete recount. Under state law, Rumford had to pay for the recount and it had cost him $2,232 for the first three days in which 130,000 of the 313,000 ballots cast were recounted.

Texas has 66,000 miles of highways.

One Driver Critical From Chain Wreck

A San Francisco man was in critical condition today at San Francisco County Hospital after a head-on auto collision on Golden Gate Bridge last night in which two Marin drivers were injured.

Two other cars plowed into the wrecks after the head-on crash, with the resulting snarl tying up northbound commute traffic on the bridge for an hour.

California Highway Patrol reported that George Russell Huffman, 57, San Francisco, was driving his station wagon south about 6:35 p.m. when it veered suddenly into the northbound fast lane and struck head-on a car driven by Robert L. Mize, 50, of 140 Vista Grande, Greenbrae. Mize was in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today with a broken right leg, cuts and bruises.

Impact of the crash sent both cars sliding broadside into a third car driven by Paul James Huhtala, 28, of 351 Olema Road, Fairfax. Huhtala was treated at Marin General for cuts and bruises.

A fourth car driven by Hugh Hill Chatham, 24, of San Francisco, then hit the rear of Huhtala's car, the patrol said. Chatham was the only uninjured driver.

Huffman was being treated today in the intensive care unit at San Francisco County Hospital for a contusion of the heart and a fractured knee.

Student Auto Check Ordered

Bradford M. Crittenden, commissioner of California Highway Patrol, has ordered a special safety inspection program for student vehicles parked at Marin County high schools.

The project, initiated at the suggestion of Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court, will include inspection of brakes, tires, lighting equipment, and registration.

In a letter to principals of high schools, Crittenden said the inspections will be conducted on an unscheduled basis at school release time, by local police departments and the patrol.

New Firehouse Review Monday

Kentfield fire district's application for a permit to allow reconstruction of its fire station at College Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard will be heard Monday by the county zoning administrator.

The hearing will begin at 10:30 a.m. at the Civic Center, with the fire house discussion set for 11 a.m.

The building must be rebuilt due to the boulevard widening project. Plans call for encroachment in both the side and front setback areas.

TOMALES TO SEEK FUNDS FOR SCHOOL

Trustees Set $900,000 Bond Vote In February; School Quake Hazard

Tomales High School District will seek passage of a $900,000 bond issue at a special election Feb. 28 to finance replacement of the present school building, which has been declared an earthquake hazard.

The trustees' decision was taken last night despite hints that residents in the southern section of the district might try to secede or to sabotage the election if the new building were not located to suit them.

LONG CONFLICT

There has been a long-smouldering conflict over location within the district, which extends from well north of Bodega Bay and Bloomfield in Sonoma County to Five Brooks, nine miles south of Olema.

A site selection report, recommending three sites in the Tomales area and three in the Point Reyes-Olema area, was submitted to the trustees by the architectural firm of Marshall and Bowles.

REPORTS DUE

The reports due are: An independent site report by John Wynn of the State Department of Education; a report by architect Richard C. Marshall on development of the present site, tearing down the main building but utilizing the art and music building and the workshop; a report on earthquake hazards by Marshall and Bowles' consulting engineer, Eric Elsesser, and a report on three other sites to be selected in the Point Reyes-Olema area by Marshall.

The selection of three more sites was made necessary, according to Marshall, by a recommendation of Elsesser and the Marin County Planning Department that any new school be located at least one mile from the San Andreas fault's rift zone.

Marshall reported this "might rule out the present recommended sites in the Point Reyes Station area and move those site locations to the east of Highway 1 in this zone."

QUAKE DAMAGE

Peter Nelson, a teacher at West Marin School and member of the district's site selection committee, pointed out that Olema buildings survived the 1906 earthquake, whose epicenter was at Olema, but the Tomales High School in Tomales collapsed.

Nelson reported a general feeling in the southern part of the district that "they are not going to support a school house in Tomales. They are convinced the greatest population growth is coming in their area."

Nelson then presented the board with an offer of a gift of 20 acres near Olema by Judge David R. Baty of West Marin Justice Court and Mrs. Baty, residents of Point Reyes Station, provided construction of a school begun there within 18 months. The offer was taken under advisement with expression of gratitude.

Trustee Jean Adams, however, said that building south of Tomales would "condemn students for the next 25 years to the long trip from Bodega Bay to Point Reyes Station." She said there would not be enough change in the population before 1980 to warrant a school in the south.

ARGUMENT DROPPED

An argument from the audience that 33 students from the southern part now go to larger schools outside the district was dismissed by Trustee Richard Velloza, who said that where the school was located would have no effect on that, since it would not change the size of the school and those who wanted to attend a larger high school would do so any way.

The Marshall and Bowles report indicated that Tomales would remain the area's student population center for some time, with no appreciable population shift before 1980. Taking the community of Marshall as the dividing place, the report showed 127 students from the north attending the school and 81 from the south.

In setting the amount of the bond issue at $900,000, the trustees called for approval of $103,893 over the districts bonding limit. This was to insure keeping the district at the limit of its bonding capacity to qualify for a state loan should the cost of the school exceed that limit.

The Tomales High School District Board also:

1. Authorized employment of Charles Beck of Bodega as bus driver at $400 a month.

2. Adopted proposed civil defense drill procedures.

3. Authorized payroll deductions for purchase of tax-sheltered annuities by teachers.

4. Approved a federal Title I program for library services and a remedial education program.

5. Went into closed session to weigh charges of excessive disciplinary action by a teacher.

Architect Screening

The planning committee of Bolinas-Stinson School District will hold a special meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at Bolinas School to screen applications by architects for the district's proposed building program. The committee will report results of its screening to the board Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Bolinas School.

Local Agency Board Argues Over Policies

Mill Valley's Mayor Albert D. White scored a point last night in a two and one-half hour discussion of policies of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission.

"I am much assured," White told commissioners at close of the meeting.

White said commission executive officer John F. Barrows "works for the county, has biased himself in favor of the county, and if he hadn't, would lose his job."

NEW POLICY

Commissioners protested this, and White recanted a bit, but it was agreed that henceforth, Barrows' recommendations on annexations will go out earlier so the city involved will have a chance to make written rebuttal or support prior to the commission hearing.

White said prezoning of an area to be annexed to a city should either be required as a standard for all annexation or not at all. Commissioners Wayne Womack and Hugh G. Marchant wondered if prezoning should be required at all.

VIEWS DIFFER

Marchant said that the commission would not be passing on the zoning, but only requiring that it be done before annexation so voters involved would have the facts in making a choice. He thought this would be something cities would do whether the commission required it or not. Commissioners Peter H. Behr and Jan Paul Dyk disagreed, and their argument was supported by County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, who said the voters in an area to be annexed know what the county planning is and have a right to know what it will be if they join the city.

There was no vote taken on the issue.

White complained on timing as an argument against annexation, citing the commission's trimming of Mill Valley's proposed Sunnycrest annexation. "Timing alone should not be given as a reason," White said. "It has to be related to other things."

'TOO EARLY'

On the Sunnycrest annexation, the commission cut out areas whose owners protested, and some commissioners said the proposal was "too early" for that property.

Director Austin Gibbon of the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District asked for standardization of zoning so that less restrictive zoning laws would not be an incentive for annexation.

Though he did not name San Rafael, he was obviously referring to its virtual encirclement of Terra Linda in the example he gave.

White objected to homogeneous planning laws throughout the cities and county, saying local character should be preserved.

Zucker said that local zoning, county zoning and regional zoning should be defined and handled separately.

Commissioner Byron W. Leydecker was absent.

Not One, But Two House Fires

Damage estimated at $7,000 was caused by the two fires, which firemen said were not connected in any way.

One was in the basement and the other in a clothes closet on the first floor of the two-story frame house. Both had apparently been caused by careless cigarette smoking, firemen reported.

When the San Rafael unit arrived, Mrs. George, who was alone in the house, was attempting to fight the basement blaze with a garden hose.

Firemen had both fires out in a short time.

Skornia, Ewen New College Trustees

Thomas A. Skornia, Ross attorney, and Alan D. Ewen, Belvedere business executive, were appointed to the Marin Junior College District Board last night to fill two newly created seats.

Their appointments increased the size of the board from five to seven, as approved by the voters last month.

When they drew by lot for terms, Skornia drew the term ending June 30, 1967, and Ewen drew that ending June 30, 1969. They were sworn into office and joined the board.

Trustees selected Skornia and Ewen from a field of 12 candidates who had applied for appointment.

Skornia, 32, of 105 Camino Bueno, is a tax specialist with the San Francisco law firm of Allan, Miller, Groezinger, Petit, Evers and Martin.

Skornia has served as chairman of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs, chairman of the Marin Democratic Assembly, and chairman of the First Congressional District Study Commission on Legislative Reapportionment.

ALAN D. EWEN
Business, athletic experience

He received his bachelor of arts degree from Grinnell College, Iowa, in 1958 and his law degree from Harvard Law School in 1961. He served as law clerk to Judge William E. Orr, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, 1961-62, as law clerk-designate of Justice Charles E. Whittaker, U.S. Supreme Court, and as a special assistant in the tax division of the U.S. Justice Department, 1962-63.

He wrote "The Role of the President in the Formulation of Foreign Policy," which was published by the World Affairs Council of Northern California in 1961. He is a member of the Marin Council on Civic Affairs, Marin Conservation League, Grinnell College Advisory Council, and several professional organizations. He also serves as legal officer of Marin Squadron Four, Air Force Auxiliary. He is a native of Elmhurst, Ill.

Ewen previously was executive vice president of Sierra Pacific Properties, Sacramento, a land investment and development company, and director of sales and public relations, Prudential Overall Supply, Los Angeles, an industrial laundry.

He was assistant managing director of the eighth Olympic Winter Games at Squaw Valley, and served as assistant director of athletics at University of Southern California from 1946-56.

He received his bachelor of arts degree from USC in 1943, and his master's degree in education in 1951. He also attended the USC graduate school of business administration 1960-61. During his work at USC, he spent two years doing counseling and guidance work and served as an assistant instructor in physical education. His work included stadium management at the Los Angeles Coliseum and the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

During World War II he served in the Army Medical Corps in Europe and was awarded a field commission as a second lieutenant. He later served in the Army Reserve and was promoted to first lieutenant.

Ewen is a director of the Marin County YMCA and a member of the Southern California Committee for the Olympic Games, California State Historical Society, Commonwealth Club of San Francisco, and University Club of Sacramento. He is a native of Summerland, B.C., Canada.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy, whose term expires next year, urged all others who applied for the new trusteeships to run for the board. There will be four seats at stake in the April election, those held by Mrs. Deedy, Skornia, Chairman Robert E. Rogers, and Joseph Garguilo.

AUTO SALES POSITION

We are expanding our sales force due to increased new car sales and expansion program in new and used car facilities. The opportunity is here for earnings on a par with highest paid professions. Excellent fringe benefits include free medical and life insurance. Very liberal demonstrator plan available. Our program includes sales training and individual counseling. Sales experience may be helpful but not necessary. Come in and see Mr. Gosling or Mr. Goodsell at San Rafael Dodge, Third & Irwin St., San Rafael. Or phone for appointment, 454-1801.

We've Got Growing Pains

Perhaps you've noticed how fast new SAFEWAY STORES are going up in this area. Well, this growth is no accident. We credit it to the high quality of people we employ. The phrase "Good people are hard to find" may be true, but we are continually challenging it. Now, because of our continuing growth, we're looking again for food clerks. So, fellows, if you have a high school diploma, take training well (we do our own), enjoy public contact work, like the feeling of progressing, and are in good health, we can use your talents. We're still growing — care to join us?

'66 BUICK GRAN SPORT CONVERT $3095

Here's an almost-new '66 Gran Sport Convertible that has only 5,000 miles and was Mrs. Collins' personal car.

This fire engine red convert. has had loving care and hasn't a mark of wear or a scratch anywhere. Red bucket seats with console, power steering, power windows, radio, heater, w/w tires and all the Gran Sport luxury extras.

This car has never been licensed and carries the full two-year or 24,000-mile warranty. The purchaser will be the only owner of record.

Sticker price when new was $4000. Kelly Blue Book shows a used car like this one should sell for $3095 on a used car lot. We'll sell this car for $3095—yet guarantee it for two years just like a brand new one.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEES' SALE OF REAL ESTATE
No. 13955

Notice Is Hereby Given, that whereas, NUCLEUS BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, is the owner and holder of a certain promissory note dated March 7th, 1966, in the sum of THIRTY THOUSAND AND NO/100 ($30,000.00) DOLLARS, executed by JAMES E. LUNDGREN, JOHN R. LUNDGREN and SHIRLEY A. LUNDGREN, to NUCLEUS BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION;

And Whereas, the payment of said note is secured by a Deed of Trust dated March 7th, 1966, and recorded March 14th, 1966, in Book 2032 of Official Records, Page 264, Records of Marin County, State of California, which said deed of trust was executed by JAMES E. LUNDGREN, an unmarried man, and JOHN R. LUNDGREN and SHIRLEY A. LUNDGREN, husband and wife, as Trustors, to J. LESTER MILLER and MELVIN H. JOHNSON, Trustees, for said NUCLEUS BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, Beneficiary;

And Whereas, default has occurred in the payment of the principal of said note and interest due thereon under the said Deed of Trust;

And Whereas, on the 12th day of July, 1966, NUCLEUS BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION recorded in the office of the County Recorder of Marin County, State of California, Recorder's No. 21170, a notice of such default and of its election to cause the property described in said Deed of Trust to be sold to satisfy such obligation, said sale to be made pursuant to the provisions of said Deed of Trust and of the law of the State of California governing sales of property under power contained in deeds of trust;

NOW, THEREFORE, pursuant to the written application of said NUCLEUS BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, and in accordance with the terms of said Deed of Trust, and to satisfy the indebtedness, and all other amounts secured by said Deed of Trust, the said Trustees do HEREBY GIVE NOTICE that on Thursday, December 15th, 1966, at ten thirty o'clock A.M., at the front door of the County Court House in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, the undersigned Trustees will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, that certain real property described in said Deed of Trust, situate in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a point in the easterly line of Mary Street, said point being the northwesterly corner of that certain parcel of land described in Deed from Rachel A. Roberts to City of San Rafael, dated May 6, 1929, and recorded in Book 175 of Official Records at page 116, Marin County Records; running thence easterly at right angles to said Mary Street for a distance of 200 feet; thence northerly at right angles for a distance of 100 feet; thence westerly at right angles for a distance of 200 feet to said easterly line of Mary Street; thence southerly along said easterly line of Mary Street for a distance of 100 feet to the point of beginning.

Ultraviolet Light Pays Off In Treatment Of Cold Sores

VAN DELLEN

Several years ago Maj. Mada Steele wrote an article on the use of ultraviolet light in the treatment of herpes simplex (cold sores or fever blisters). Of the 100 patients in his report, 99 showed marked improvement within 24 hours. The results are unusual and the technique should be further investigated because a good remedy is lacking.

ONLY THE involved lesions were treated. The surrounding skin was covered with towels. The initial exposure was twice the minimal dose that normally reddens the skin. The lamp was placed next to the herpes for 10 seconds. Lamps differ in output and consequently the distance and time of exposure varies with the device. Best results were obtained when the small blisters were just beginning to form. Those who reported on the first day after the onset were relieved within 24 hours. The use of ultraviolet is a strange paradox because some people have a recurrence of herpes when exposed to sunlight.

MEANWHILE TWO Oxford university physicians treated 10 persons with herpetic lesions of the face with idoxuridine, a chemical with antiviral activity. The substance was dissolved in dimethyl sulfoxide, the controversial pain-killing drug that passes through the skin. The solution was applied with a small paintbrush three times a day for three days. An additional 11 persons were treated with dimethyl sulfoxide alone. Those receiving the idoxuridine solution got well two days sooner.

Herpes usually begins with swelling, itching or burning of the involved area. Within a few hours clusters of blisters erupt. These rupture and form flaky crusts on drying. Occasionally there is fever and fatigue. Cold sores may develop anywhere in the body but are most common on the upper lips. Occasionally they develop in the genitalia.

THE CONDITION tends to recur in the same area usually after eating shellfish, strawberries, or following a cold or period of anxiety. Let us hope that one of the remedies described is the answer to the herpes problem.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

NOT FOR NORMAL HEARTS

T. C. L. writes: A man in our office takes two nitroglycerin tablets every day. He says they are good for his heart. Can you tell me in what way?

REPLY

This chemical gives relief in angina pectoris but it will not make a normal heart stronger or prevent future trouble.

COMPLICATION

J. S. writes: Please explain postencephalitic parkinsonism.

REPLY

Parkinsonism (shaking palsy) may follow an attack of encephalitis that occurred years earlier. The only explanation is that the brain was damaged by the original infection.

Check Accident Insurance Plan

Bert Badback ran a refrigeration business. He did sell equipment but most of his income came from repair work.

Getting old, Bert decided to buy several health and income insurance policies. One policy promised to pay him a monthly income for five years if he became totally disabled on account of sickness. It would also pay him if he became partly disabled in an accident.

Bert repaired heavy equipment in cold and difficult places. One day at work his back went out on him which pained him severely for several days.

Bert's doctor put him to bed and told him not to do heavy work for awhile. Bert asked for his disability insurance and received $300 a month for a year. Later, selling his business, he worked for a trade school, teaching others how to make repairs.

The insurance company took moving pictures of Bert working and playing as if he had no trouble at all. It stopped his payments.

Bert sued the company, but lost his case. The insurance company proved that Bert was not totally disabled since he could teach. Even if Bert were "partially disabled," an accident had not caused the injury, but a back disease from many years of abuse. An "accident means an injury that is sudden, and unexpected. A disease or a gradual injury is not an accident. Bert might still collect workman's compensation for his work connected injury but not on his own policy.

Many life insurance policies will pay double indemnity if death results from "accidental means." This again requires some sudden, unexpected injury or loss which rules out a gradual disease or some other degenerative condition. Even a sudden heart attack does not indicate an accident. But if the attack is caused from the sudden shock, say, fo an auto den shock, say, of an auto expected fire or robbery, this then might well become "death by accidental means."

Be sure to read your insurance policy. Policies vary in the protections offered. There is no "standard" disability or accident policy. There may be common clauses, but your policy is a series of protections, pieced together by the company. A buyer who seeks special features should be sure to check the specific policy fully before he pays out his money.

Seminar Set On Teaching Handicapped

A one-day institute on meeting the problems of teaching emotionally disturbed and physically handicapped children will be held Jan. 14 at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary.

The gathering at the seminary on Strawberry Point is sponsored by six Marin school district's and will include lectures by four psychologists, two films and a panel discussion.

The session will open at 9 a.m. with an address of welcome by Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, Marin County schools superintendent.

Dr. Ivar Lovaas, associate professor of psychology at the University of California at Los Angeles will speak on behavior therapy treatment of psychotic children.

Dr. Frank M. Hewett, assistant professor of medical psychology at the university's medical school, will discuss the application of behavior modification theory by the public schools.

Dr. Robert Schwitzgebel, U.C. assistant professor of psychology, will talk on behavior therapy and behavior disorders.

Dr. Arnold Lazarus, director of the Behavioral Therapy Institute in Sausalito, will also deal with behavior problems.

Films will be shown during the noon to 1:30 p.m. lunch hour, and the panel discussion from 4:15 to 5:30 p.m., with the psychologists as panelists, will close the meeting.

Room 128 Comes Up On Vacation

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Don't expect to get Room 128 at a motel. Probably it's being reserved for Paul Sparks, assistant superintendent of Louisville schools.

This summer Sparks took his family on a vacation, stopping first at Baltimore, where Room 128 was assigned to them.

Cards Hope Maris Is Another Cepeda

By HAL BOCK

The new Yankee general manager shipped Roger Maris and his $75,000 salary tag to St. Louis for third baseman Charley Smith yesterday.

It was MacPhail's second deal since being hired to help rebuild the Yankees, who finished the 1966 season mired in the American League cellar for the first time in 42 years. Ten days ago he swapped third baseman Clete Boyer to Atlanta for outfielder Bill Robinson.

It was MacPhail, then working for Baltimore, who engineered the biggest inter-league trade of 1965 when he dealt three players to Cincinnati for Frank Robinson.

MacPhail can hardly expect the same kind of instant success for the Maris swap that Robinson brought to Baltimore. Smith is a journeyman third baseman who carries a lifetime batting average of .243.

But the deal does open up the Yankees' outfield picture quite a bit. "We want to make a fresh start," said New York Manager Ralph Houk. "With two fine young outfielders, Steve Whitaker and Bill Robinson, vying for jobs, we want to give them a chance."

It was an open secret that the Yankees were ready to unload Maris, who only five years ago broke Babe Ruth's record for home runs when he hit 61 in a 162-game season.

"I wasn't at all surprised," the slugging outfielder said after being told of the deal. "I rather expected it. In fact, I expected to be traded ever since 1962."

Smith, who has played for the Los Angeles Dodgers, Philadelphia Phillies, Chicago White Sox and New York Mets as well as St. Louis, wasn't nearly as composed.

"I'll be darned," he exclaimed.

After his record-shattering season, he rocketed into baseball's higher salary class but his production slipped noticeably. He hit 33 homers in 1962, 23 in 1963 and 26 in 1964.

He was crippled by injuries through most of 1965, appearing in just 46 games and hitting only eight homers. He underwent surgery for the removal of bone chips at the base of his right hand after the season and played in 119 games last season, managing only 13 homers.

The Cardinals feel that Maris can come back for them just as Orlando Cepeda did last year after they acquired him from San Francisco. Cepeda, considered washed up by many baseball men, batted .301 for the Cards after being traded for pitcher Ray Sadecki, who won only six games.

"Roger will give us the extra power we've been looking for in our line-up," said St. Louis General Manager Bob Howsam.

"Not only is he a fine hitter but he's also a good outfielder and, if necessary, has the ability to come off the bench cold as a pinch hitter."

Smith, who with pitcher Al Jackson was traded by the Mets for Ken Boyer last winter, figures to be the frontrunner in the battle to replace Ken's brother, Clete, as the Yankee third baseman.

SEALS DEFEAT TOTEMS, TIE FOR THIRD PLACE

SEATTLE (AP) — The California Seals have moved into a tie for third place in the Western Hockey League after a 3-2 victory over the Seattle Totems.

The Seals wiped out a 2-1 deficit last night in the space of two minutes in the third period and now stand knotted with the Totems at 23 points each.

The tying goal game when Bob Kabel deflected a shot by John Gravel into the Seattle net at 5:05 of the final period. A little more than two minutes later, Jack Evans weaved through a mass of Seattle defenders and fired in the winner.

Mo Mantha scored the first goal for the Seals, who have tied the Totems once and beaten them twice in their three meetings this season.

Three Future 49ers To Appear In Post Season Bowl Contests

REDSHIRTS ARE COMING—Of the eight "redshirts" drafted last year by the San Francisco 49ers, at least three will play in post-season bowl games.

The 49er redshirts, that is those who had college eligibility remaining after they were selected in the National Football League draft, are:

Bob Windsor, end, University of Kentucky;
Don Parker, guard, University of Virginia;
Elmer Collett, tackle, San Francisco State;
S. T. Saffold, end, San Jose State;
Jim Breland, Georgia Tech, center;
Ron Parson, end, Austin, Pa.;
Dick Fitzgerald, tackle, Nebraska;
Willie Walker, end, Baylor.

PARKER IS a 6-foot-3, 240-pounder who was picked as a defensive end for the East in the Shrine classic at San Francisco Dec. 31.

Breland, a first team All-American, will play with his Georgia Tech mates in the Orange Bowl Jan. 2 against Florida.

Fitzgerald will play for Nebraska against Alabama in the Jan. 2 Sugar Bowl.

You'll be able to follow these three future 49ers as the East-West, Orange and Sugar bowls will be televised nationally.

COLLETT, THE San Francisco State star, is a Mill Valley product and will be the first Marin Countian to try out for the 49ers since Tam graduate Matt Hazeltine made it big back in 1955.

INCIDENTALLY, PARKER, the Virginia star, hails from Honolulu, which reminds me of Duffy Daugherty's statement on how so many Hawaiian gridders wind up at Michigan State: "Well," Duff deadpanned, "first, they swim to California . . ."

TOP THIS: After reading here the other day that Drake has scheduled perennially-powerful St. Ignatius next football season, Terra Linda High's Dean of Student Activities, Jeff Thorner, was on the horn to advise us that " . . . I can match Drake anytime." He then announced Terra Linda has scheduled South San Francisco High for next Oct. 13 at San Rafael and the invaders haven't lost in their last 27 games!

Now I expect to hear from Marin Catholic saying it has scheduled Notre Dame next year.

FIRST CABIN—That will be a pretty classy chain-gang on the sidelines for the East-West Shrine Game in Kezar Dec. 31. Former Bay Area football stars Vic Bottari and Milt Vucinich will man the chains and ex-Cal quarterback star Ben Lom will handle the down marker.

Bottari, one of Cal's All-Time Greats, coached at old Marin Junior College in the early 1940's. (See, there'll always be a local angle!)

MORE, MORE—Another local angle: Dale Aman of San Rafael is one of five returning lettermen on the Sonoma State varsity basketball team, according to the Rohnert Park institution's sports information director, William Ranney (of Fairfax).

KEY NOTE — Musicians in the county are hoping Redwood and Napa win in tonight's semi-final games in the Drake High School Invitational Basketball Tournament, so that in tomorrow's championship game they can see Redwood's Andre Horn against Napa's Ed Organ.

Santa Clara Quint Loses

SAN JOSE (AP)—The Seattle basketball Chieftains won their second without a loss by beating Santa Clara 78-63 last night behind the 24 points of Tom Workman and the 17 points and 17 rebounds of Malkin Strong.

Semis At Drake Tonight

By ROB HARVEY

A Marin County Athletic League team still has a chance to win the Drake Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Redwood High kept that chance in sight last night as diminutive guard Andre Horn pumped 23 points through the mesh to pace the Giants to a thrilling 60-54 triumph over Montgomery of Santa Rosa, the game viewed by approximately 400 screaming spectators at Drake High school in San Anselmo.

The crowd, however, dwindled for the second half of the doubleheader in which Petaluma breezed past Terra Linda 93-59, with forward Jim Rudolph pouring in 37 points en route to establishing a new individual tourney scoring record; the total point production also standing as a team scoring mark. The previous highs in both catagories were registered in last year's initial tournament when Napa pasted Lick Wilmerding 92-79, Napa's Bill Cox and Lick's Joel Black each canning 36 points.

In tonight's championship semi-finals, it's Balboa vs. Napa at 7 o'clock and Redwood vs. Petaluma at 8:30, while tourney host Drake meets Novato at 4 o'clock and Montgomery vs. Terra Linda at 5:30 in consolation semi-finals.

While doing everything right, Fitchei drilled 26 digits through the hoop, including 10 free throws in as many tries, in addition to leading his team in rebounds with 10.

And were it not for the fact that Viking star forward Dennis Milbrath, 5-10, twisted his ankle and was unable to play in the second half, the Giants would have had a much steeper hill to climb.

But don't take anything away from the veteran Horn. He was superb. A polished MCAL backcourt ace, Andre jumped, drove, faded and stood for 14 points in the first half while personally guiding his team to a 27-19 advantage at half. Thereafter it took considerable help and Jack Fitzhenry and Jim Marc rose to the occasion, scoring 11 and 10 points respectively in the wild, up-tempo contest in which 57 fouls were singled out, 24 charged to coach Dick Hart's Giants.

The fourth quarter was the big one, and a hectic one it was for fans, song girls, cheer leaders and players alike as both teams scored at a torrid pace. Horn and the 6-5 Marc, center, did most of the damage in the tumbling, sprawling, foul-plagued frame that saw Redwood surge 25-22 for the margin of victory.

With Fitchei going for 4 points and 6-0 forward Rich Rollins potting 6, the Vikes had rallied for 14 points in the third quarter and closed at 35-32 as Redwood, which had two players foul out of the contest and Horn in trouble with four personals, was generous enough to slack off on its pressure defensive tactics.

No more than five points separated the cagers throughout the final stanza and the Vikings made their last serious bid when they made it 51-48 with only 2:33 remaining and the crowd in an uproar. And that set the stage for Redwood's clincher, Marc going for 6 points in the frame

Barry's 50 Beats Hawks; Warriors On TV Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Rick Barry, the super-soph of the National Basketball Assn., must prove he can stand the pace tonight when his San Francisco Warriors take on the Los Angeles Lakers.

Barry scored 50 points last night in Phoenix as the Warriors won 124-106 over the St. Louis Hawks. The victory put San Francisco 5½ games ahead of Detroit and St. Louis in the Western Division race.

It was the third game in as many cities and as many nights for the Warriors who finish this current trip tomorrow at home against Cincinnati.

Barry, leading NBA scorer, had been held to 21 points the night before in Baltimore. But his scoring spurts kept the Hawks down even after center Nate Thurmond fouled out for San Francisco at the start of the final quarter.

The Hawks took advantage of Thurmond's absence and got within nine points at 96-87. Barry put an end to that with two unanswered field goals.

Tars Vs. Laney Quint Tonight

By RALPH CHATOIAN

College of Marin's cagers won their first game of the season last night but things are not going to be so easy tonight.

Laney College is the campus that is laying claim to the national football title among junior colleges. And the Eagles deserve the title after whipping No. 1 ranked San Francisco City College 35-13 in the Prune Bowl last week.

That football momentum has carried over to the basketball team, evidenced yesterday when Laney tore up Napa J.C. 97-57. That Marin-Laney game tonight will start at 9 o'clock, and if the crowd approaches that of last night, there will be plenty of seats available. One-hundred-and three heads were counted just before the Marin-Sierra tipoff, but the attendance increased slightly as the game progressed.

In other first round games yesterday Yuba College stunned Solano College 86-70 and American River J.C. of Sacramento thumped Santa Rosa 77-58.

The consolation schedule today is Solano vs. Santa Rosa at 3 p.m. and Napa vs. Sierra at 5 p.m. Yuba goes against ARJC in the other championship semifinal clash at 7 o'clock.

Last night's triumph for Marin snapped a three-game drought, and it was really a team effort as six Tars scored in double figures. Guard Bill Pandiani and forward Tom Stetson led with 17 each, while Terry Overlid, Brad Luz, Russ Smith and Bob Phillips each scored an even 10.

Sierra College's Bill Penaluna opened the scoring with a bucket and the Wolverines were ahead 2-0. But Pandiani came back with two quickies, the first a little jump shot and the second on a driving layup, and for the rest of the game Sierra tried to play catch up basketball. They never succeeded.

Near the end of the first half Sierra pulled within two points, 32-30, but a 15-footer by Smith just before the buzzer gave the Tars a 34-30 halftime lead.

Marin blew the thing open early in the second half when coach Cal Riemcke called for a full court press. The ball-hawking Tars forced the Wolverines into mistakes and pounced on the ball, setting up four quick buckets all under the rim. Luz, Stetson, Smith, Stetson . . . and just like that, Marin had a 42-30 lead. Sierra never threatened after that.

10 FOR LUZ

Luz, the 6-9 center for the Mariners, scored all his 10 points in the second half. Marin's other center, 6-4 Kraig Kilby, only scored three points but was the better rebounder.

Pandiani was his usual self, the Mr. Consistent of the Tar team. He can either pop 'em in from outside the key or drive in for layups equally well. And his defense is something else.

Late in the game he stole the ball and drove in for a shot with Sierra's Skip Benham all over him. He made the shot and then canned the free throw, awarded on Benham's foul, for a three-point play that made it 72-58.

Stetson had his best game of the year, the former Novato High School player making 12 of his points in the second half. Phillips, only 5-9, was used both at forward and guard, and proved to be an aggressive rebounder.

The tourney's high scorer so far is Yuba's Ken Griffin who

Is Alabama Scoreboard Suddenly Color Blind?

The South has struck its colors! The Confederacy has asked for terms.

PERHAPS YOU heard the historic announcement on the electric television last Saturday. The Bear, a little stooped now, his jaunty checked hat looking for all the world like a plume in the dust, stood awkwardly and allowed he was tired of the Cotillion.

THE UNIVERSITY of Alabama, he said, wants to join the 20th Century! As for old Bear, his eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord! Glory, hallelujah!

"A few years ago, we had segregation problems," allowed the Bear somberly. "But now, we like to ask the help of you fellas up above us in the North, who have been our critics, to help us get games with the Big 10, the Big 8, the Pacific Coast."

OLD BEAR is tired of winning the magnolia championship. He wants to get out and play some modern football. You know—with teams that have some (come closer) you-know-what's on their squads.

FAIR ENOUGH, Bear. Tell you what you do. Sit down with that lady governor you got down there the first chance you get. You might begin with a chorus of "Is It True What They Say About Dixie?" You might change the lyrics ever so slightly. Like, "Do the folks keep segregatin'—till I cain't win no polls?" Tell her that when that midnight choo-choo leaves for Alabam', you want Notre Dame to be on it. Otherwise, on the return trip, you'll be on it.

I SAW YOUR team, Bear. Right nice little bunch of boys. Too monotonous, though. I mean they were all the one color. Too many white guys on a team cause dissension, Bear. Also, last place. Oh, I admit that USC had one too many colored boys in its backfield when it played Notre Dame. The one-too-many was Notre Dame's end, Alan Page.

TELL LURLEEN to get her ol' man away from the front door of the university, Bear, and you can disconnect your long-distance phone to Pennsylvania and New Jersey for football players. You can get a national championship team by going to the top of the Birmingham Bankhead Hotel and hollering.

YOUR TEAM is sassy, spunky, Bear. I know how they win games. They go up to a guy and stomp on his toes. When he howls and reaches down to grab his wound and hop around on one foot, they kick the other one out from under him. Then they steal the gold out of his teeth and vanish and all you can hear is the sound of flying footsteps. They're footpads, not footballers.

THEY'RE GOOD. But, Bear, I ask you?! By the beard of the prophet, by the bi-focals of Benny Marshall—Mississippi Southern? (or is it "Southern Mississippi?" No one here seems to know). Is there really a Mississippi Southern — or a visa versa? And what was the matter —was Natchez High busy that week, Bear?

ALL YOU got to do is change your school colors, Bear. They

The Redwood quint canned 24 of 38 from the foul line for 63 per cent and had 29 per cent from the field (18x61). Montgomery was 61 per cent from the charity strip (20x32) and 25 per cent from the field (17x32) neither average near outstanding.

Redwood led in rebounds 30-23, Marc corralling 10 and Al Fritz, who chipped in with 8 points in key situations, pulling down 6.

Those fans who lingered awhile longer for the nightcap should today be glad, even though Marin's own Trojans were manhandled by the visitors from Petaluma. For any rabid basketball fan would have been delighted by the treat of Rudolph's sparkling performance.

It was never a contest for the end result, that fact made clear in the second period when the rougher Trojans of Petaluma streaked for 26 points to stretch their lead to 43-27 at the intermission while keeping Terra Linda, which again had trouble finding the range on close shots, off balance with a highly successful press and fast-break.

Rudolph hit on 13 fielders, about half from medium range, from all angles and the rest on twisting lay-ins and muscle shots.

Terra Linda coach Bob Corley had 9 players hit the scoring column, on the brighter side, and his Trojans still showed lots of determination and hustle. Evidence of this is their big 20-point third-quarter.

Pacing the Terra Linda cagers were Steve Congdon with 16 points, all from the field, and Paul Lee, 13 markers on 6 field goals and one free throw.

Ohio High School Students Can Get Out Of Classes To Hunt

STEVENS

"When hunting seasons open in Ohio, students of Arlington High School may be excused for one full day to participate—providing their grades are up to standard. They need only a valid hunting license and written permission from their parents." So reads a recent release from Charles DuBuisson, of Savage Arms

"What better way for youth to learn about natural resources and our conservation problems," continues the article. "Turn a young fella loose in the woods with a gun and he'll learn more about nature in a day than he will in a week full of classroom instruction. The Arlington plan, whatever its motives, rates an A and should be adopted by other schools.'

I READ THE above to a small group of outdoorsmen this week and while most of them considered the Arlington plan very good and even suggested that a committee be formed to contact the educational heads in the local area, one of the group threw cold water on the plan. "Just imagine," he said, "A couple of hundred inexperienced boys with guns added to the large number of adult hunters. What a mess that would be!"

The objector was cried down by the others. They pointed out that in California no youngster may get a hunting license unless he can show a certificate from a course in gun safety. They also claimed the consent of the parents must be written to the school principal and that is an added safety factor.

SOME INTERESTING items pertaining to hunting and fishing appear in the releases from Savage Arms. For example: "Studies indicate that fish strike a lure not because of its color, shape or acton, but as a result of sound waves given off by the lure as it moves through the water."

So it would seem that the noisier the lure the better the chances of hooking a fish. Sorta makes one wonder if the odd looking "Spoonplug" lure that has accounted for black bass being caught in lakes and similar bodies of water that were reported "fished out" creates sound waves to attract the wary bass?

AS WAS EXPECTED, reports are coming in of swollen rivers and feeder streams overflowing their banks. That condition has brought many of the local waters to an unfishable state. Better contact someone on the ground to get current water condition.

We will need from three to seven days of clear, rainless weather to bring such streams back to prime condition. And that caution applies to most all of our local bodies of water, including the Bay and Delta regions.

Electricians And Profs Win In Recreation Cage

Brookline Electric and San Rafael Teachers took Class A victories and Marin's Marines and Indian Valley won "B" decisions in last night's action in San Rafael Recreation Department adult basketball play.

Bookline broke up a close game in the late stages to squeak by Mill Valley Boy's Club, 60-54, as Steve Anderson scored 18 points. Ken Anderson had 16 points for the losers.

San Rafael Teachers, with balancied scoring led by Mike Diaz' 15 points, breezed past Paradise Pharmacy, 66-43. Jim Wylie had 12 points for Paradise.

Bill Wallace pumped in 17 points as Marines downed Native Sons, 53-48 despite Bob DeRosa's 20 points.

Indian Valley got a trio of 10-point performances from Don Kohles, Don Rose and Ray Kenney and went on to top Marines 58-46. Rod Pierson of the Marines was high for the game with 12 points.

Fairfax Man On AAU Committee

Bill Ranney of 1 Barker Court, Fairfax, has been named a member of the executive track and field committee for the Pacific Assn. of the Amateur Athletic Union.

The appointment of Ranney to the committee was made this week by George Haines, newly elected president of the association. Ranney will be representing race walkers of the area.

San Rafael Frosh Cagers Win, 40-28

San Rafael High School's freshman basketball team increased its record to two wins and one loss Wednesday with a 40-28 triumph over St. Vincent's School for Boys of San Rafael.

Leading the Bullpups, who were behind 9-13 at the half, were Jim Wade with 15 points and Bruce D'Ambra with 13.

NFL SHOWDOWN ON NATIONAL TV

Packers Favored Tomorrow In Biggie With Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — John Unitas and the Baltimore Colts, rankled by four straight defeats by Green Bay, are primed for one big shoot-the-works effort tomorrow against the favored Packers, who can clinch the Western Conference title of the National Football League with a win or tie.

Green Bay, which has been working out all week in seclusion in Gaithersburg, Md., is in the driver's seat with a two-game lead and two games to play.

Bart Starr has been having a fantastic year with his pinpoint passing and low interception percentage. Unitas, the old master, has been having trouble with a sore shoulder and is off his usual super pace. But John usually rises to the occasion.

The long-awaited rematch will be beamed across the nation on network (CBS) television, starting at 12:15 p.m., PST.

The Colts squirmed all winter after losing that sudden death playoff game at Green Bay, complaining that Don Chandler's controversial field goal that tied the score was not good. A recent television film was cited as evidence in their favor.

Green Bay has been sitting back quietly, having cashed their 1965 winning checks long ago, but there is evidence that the Colts' complaints have not gone unnoticed in Packerland. The leather will be popping tomorrow.

Baltimore psyched up so high for the first game with the Packers, Sept. 10 that it was almost a crusade. The bottom fell out for the Colts when Leroy Caffey and Bob Jeter intercepted passes by Unitas and ran them back for touchdowns on the way to a decisive 24-3 victory.

With Starr having an exceptional year and the sturdy Packer pass defense leading the league, Green Bay is only one step away from winning its fifth conference crown in eight years under Coach Vince Lombardi.

Elijah Pitts took over from Paul Hornung when the Golden Boy suffered a pinched nerve in his neck and has become a regular. Hornung, who scored five touchdowns against the Colts at this same time last year, has been used sparingly.

Many think Lombardi will take the covers off Paul on Saturday. Dependable Jim Taylor still is the bread-and-butter runner.

The Colts have been inconsistent with Unitas having shoulder trouble. They went into a two-game losing tailspin against Detroit and Los Angeles and practically dropped out of the race. Unitas saved them last week with a last-quarter bomb to Raymond Berry and a thinly sliced 21-16 edge over Chicago.

Although Shula professed to have not made a decision, most observers expect him to stick with his two-fullback backfield, playing Tony Lorick and Jerry Hill at the same time to give more pass blocking. However, Lenny Moore and Tom Matte will be in there as part time workers.

Green Bay is favored because the Packers, despite the long ball punch of Baltimore's Unitas, have outscored the Colts 294-274 and, more important, have allowedd only 130 points to 198 against the Colts. Both teams have a good pass rush and the ability of their respective offensive lines to nullify that rush, probably will decide the battle.

Little Giants Clash In Camellia Classic

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Two giants of small college football, San Diego State and Montana State, wind up drills today for their Camellia Bowl encounter tomorrow.

The No. 1-ranked San Diego State Aztecs and No. 3 Montana State Bobcats seek the Pacific Coast NCAA College Division title in the regionally telecast (ABC) game in 22,000 - seat Hughes Stadium.

The size of professional football bonuses may be at stake for some of the players, including Aztec quarterback Don Horn, a Little All-America selection who says he wants $300,000 to sign with the pros. A corps of pro scouts is expected to be in the stands.

Horn ran and passed for 2,196 yards during the regular season as San Diego State swamped 10 opponents and won the California Collegiate Athletic Assn. title.

Leading Montana State, 8-2, will be halfback Don Hass, a Little All - America pick as a junior this year. The scouts also will be watching the soccer-style place-kicking of Jan Stenerud, a Norwegian who broke the NCAA kicking record with 11 field goals and 49 conversions this season.

One of Stenerud's field goals was from 59 yards out. He's already been drafted by the Kansas City Chiefs and the Atlanta Falcons.

Most other Camellia Bowl players will have to wait until after the next pro draft, probably in late January, before they can negotiate contracts.

Both Montana State and San Diego may be on the threshold of University division football. Coach Don Coryell of San Diego and Athletic Director Gene Bourdet of Montana State say their conferences are considering applications for big school status.

Each says the immediate problem is getting the money for additional athletic scholarships which would give the teams needed depth.

San Diego State spotted an opening in the Alabama schedule and inquired about a future game. But there was no "challenge" on behalf of the Aztecs as was reported, Coryell says.

But he adds, "It would be a great boost for our athletic program if we could play them."

St. Vincent's Splits

St. Vincent School for Boys Eagles of San Rafael split a pair of basketball games this week losing to San Rafael Frosh and topping Marin Catholic Frosh.

Russ Meyers led the Eagles in both games, scoring 13 points in each game, as St. Vincent's lost, 28-39, to San Rafael, and toppled the Wildcats, 37-34.

are crimson now. In honor of blushing, right? Oh, don't let them tell us the Negroes don't have the grades, Bear. That's Alabama's shame, not the Negroes! When all you teach a guy is to say "Yassuh, boss," it's not HIS fault he can't pass college boards.

BESIDES, I didn't notice your team calling signals in Latin, Bear. And there's one or two of them won't get into neurosurgery, right? At least, not the end of it HOLDING the knife.

SO, WHEN you see Duffy Daugherty showing up in the cotton patches holding out a Michigan State letter of intent to a kid who's carrying the plow home on his back. Bear, say, "Wait a minute, Duff. That boy's an Alabaman!" And if Duffy says, "But he's colored, Bear!" just tell him, "Our scoreboard's color-blind, pardner. From now on, we don't put pictures on it, just numbers." And then you'll really be No. 1, Bear. No questions asked.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Dec. 9, the 343rd day of 1966 with 22 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

English poet John Milton was born on this day in 1608.

On this day in history:

In 1941, China declared war against the Axis countries of Japan, Germany and Italy.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Here's The Correct Equipment For The Perfect Of Players

If you want to be the perfect bridge player you must keep a false beard in your pocket.

After you have made the perfect play you can whip out the beard and look innocent.

Opening lead — ♠ 5

West opened a trump but did not know anything about beards. South looked at West, saw that he was still the same person who had led the trump and realized what was going on.

Any opening lead but trump would have given South his contract.

If West led a low heart declarer would play low from dummy and would eventually develop a trick with dummy's queen. If West opened the queen of diamonds, South would take the ace and later win a finesse with dummy's ten. And if West opened a club, South would get a free finesse.

CHALLENGE

The trump lead gave South a chance to go down, and South would do just that if he tried to make the contract by his own efforts.

Instead, South worked out the reason for West's opening lead and proceeded on the assumption that West held strength in each side suit.

FORCES LEAD

Declarer won the trump in his hand and led a heart, losing dummy's queen to the ace.

Back came a club, and South stepped up with the ace. South gave up another heart and ruffed the heart return.

Now South drew a second round of trumps, cashed the top diamonds and gave up a diamond. West had to win and had to give up the trick that his opening lead had saved.

If West led a club, South would get the free finesse, and if West led anything else dummy would ruff while South got rid of the jack of clubs.

DAILY QUESTION

You have opened with one spade, and partner has responded 1 notrump. The opponents pass at each turn, and it is up to you again, holding:

♠ A Q J 7 4
♦ A 6 3
♣ A K J.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid 3 notrumps. You have 19 points in high cards and partner should have at least six for his response. Even if the combined total is only 25 points (one short of the amount usually needed for game) the strength of your long suit should be ample compensation for the missing point.

Holdups On Increase

BRUSSELS (UPI) —Holdups are becoming increasingly renumerative in Belgium, police figures show. In 1964 police reported 15 holdups in which gangsters got away with a total of 11 million francs ($220,000). In 1965 there were 38 holdups in which the loot totalled 24 million francs ($480,000).

Market Makes Some Late Closing Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were improving rapidly as the stock market closed in an irregular pattern today.

Trading picked up considerably as the general level improved and advances were outnumbering declines.

The market erased a loss which it settled into around mid session.

Certain glamor stocks still were down sharply, among them IBM and Polaroid.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.1 million shares compared with 8.36 million yesterday.

As profits were taken on three straight sessions of advance, IBM slumped 7 points. United Aircraft, Homestake, Eastman Kodak, Du Pont and Polaroid a point or more each.

Norton Co. followed up its rise of 13⅛ yesterday with a jump of 4⅜ to 46½ on a delayed opening block of 45,000 shares, late trimming a couple of points from the rise. The stock was swamped with buyers because of news it has developed an inexpensive method of putting sound tracks on home movies.

Carborundum climbed nearly 4, Douglas Aircraft more than 3.

Gains of a point or more were made by Occidental Petroleum, Johnson & Johnson, J. Ray McDermott and Deere & Co.

CONDOMINIUM FOR DOWNTOWN SANTA ROSA

This architectural rendering shows the 17-story $6.5-million condominium to be built in downtown Santa Rosa. The luxury 248-unit apartment building will offer residency to people 55 years of age or older. Construction will start in early 1967. When completed the building will be the tallest between San Francisco and Portland. Preliminary reservations for apartments are being taken at the Tower sales office.

Automatic Volks

TORONTO (SS) — The German engine builder Fichtel and Sachs of Schweinfurt has revealed that it is investigating the possibility of building an automatic drive for Volkswagen cars. Cost of developing such a program is estimated at $12.5 million. No date was given regarding the introduction of such a drive to the general market.

Marin Firm Declares A Stock Dividend

Marin County Financial Corp. has declared a 5 per cent stock dividend to stockholders of record Dec. 15, payable in January.

The company's annual meeting will be at 8 p.m., Tuesday, April 4, 1967. Its operating subsidiary is Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., San Rafael.

Hawthorne Firm Has Record Sales

HAWTHORNE — Teledyne, Inc., reported new highs in sales and earnings for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31. Net income increased to $12,035,000 compared to the $3,402,000 reported last year.

Sales were $256,751,000 versus $86,504,000 in 1965.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Lockheed Gets Fat Feather River Pact

LOCKHEED SHIPBUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION CO. of Seattle has been awarded a contract for construction of the tunnel and related structures of the $32 million Belden hydro electric project on the Feather River. Installation of facilities will begin early next year. Driving of the 6.5-mile tunnel will start in May. Entire project is expected to employ several hundred men at peak activity.

CONSOLIDATED FOODS CORP., Chicago and Pearce-Young-Angel Co., Greenville, S.C. have agreed to merge. Consolidated will acquire all outstanding shares of Pearce-Young-Angel, subject to favorable tax rulings by the Bureau of Internal Revenue and South Carolina's state tax commission. Pearce-Young-Angel is one of the leading institutional food suppliers in the southeast. It reported fiscal 1966 sales of over $34 million and after tax profits of more than $400,000.

PACIFIC SOUTHWEST AIRLINES directors have voted a quarterly dividend payment of 18 cents a share payable in January. October quarterly dividend was 17 cents. The company filed for a Los Angeles-Sacramento non-stop passenger route with the California Public Utilities Commission on Dec. 1 and this week filed for a Santa Ana-Sacramento passenger route.

COMMONWEALTH NATIONAL BANK, San Francisco and First San Francisco Bank have discontinued discussions aimed at a merger first announced last month. Differences between the two boards of directors were too wide.

LONGS DRUG STORES, INC. has announced net earnings of $1,817,000, equal to $1.45 a share for the nine months ended Oct. 31—a 20 per cent share increase over the $1.12 a share earned in the comparable period last year. Longs opened in Novato this year and plans other Marin openings at Northgate and San Anselmo. The company presently has 34 stores in operation.

Don't Sell Even If Stocks Take Setback

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q: "We have $50,000 invested in Commonwealth Edison; Continental Insurance and General Telephone. We also have $40,000 in savings accounts. We have been disturbed by the stock market in the last few months and could still sell at a profit. Would you advise us to do so?" P.M.

A: I think you are very fortunate people. The stocks you hold are three of the best stocks you could possibly own. I would not consider selling them at present levels even though a further downside joggle is perfectly possible.

After one of the worst market breaks of many years, you still have profits in your stocks.

Q: "Seven years ago, I bought some stocks for future security and income. I am now worried about my holdings, which have not been reviewed by anyone since they were purchased. I own Sterling Drug, FMC Corp., Georgia-Pacific and General Development. Have you any suggestions?" M.M.

A: My first suggestion is that you have your holdings reviewed more often. Things change very rapidly in the financial world and today's strong holding may be tomorrow's "dog."

I am glad to report, however, that your list is for the most part satisfactory and I have but one suggestion to make—switch out of General Development. This company is perhaps one of the better of the Florida real estate firms, but by the very nature of its business the shares must be considered rather speculative.

Road Clutter A Threat To Redwood Counties

Drive up Redwood Highway from Marin to Grants Pass, Ore., and you are struck by the roadside blight that spoils the natural beauty of the area.

Marin Public Works Director Donald R. Frost, in a speech before the Supervisors Unit of the Redwood Empire Assn. last month, warned against this growing problem.

He called attention to the "misplaced junk yards" and billboards and signs that clutter the natural scenery.

"We in Marin are concerned that the blemishes now visible on the landscape should not be allowed to dominate the scene," said Frost. "If that happens, the region will lose much of its character, its image, and even its charm. Such an occurrence could only discourage the two things the region needs most—tourists and responsible diversified industry that can provide stability for its payrolls and its tax base."

He pointed out that zoning regulations, while they should not stifle initiative, can curtail the opposite extreme—giving individuals the license to desecrate neighbors' property by association and even destroy the values of an entire business community.

On at least two previous occasions during the last decade, two different presidents of the Redwood Empire Assn. expressed great personal concern over the desecration of natural beauty by signs, billboards, dilapidated structures, jerry-built roadside stands, as well as junk yards and abandoned auto hulks.

Each president made personal pleas through the supervisors unit of the Redwood Empire Assn., asking that appropriate action be taken in each of the eight counties north of Golden Gate Bridge.

The Redwood Empire Assn. staff went so far as to get copies of every county ordinance in the state relating to billboards and control of roadside view. The REA staff also got advice and counsel from the California Roadside Council on how to deal with highway clutter.

All of this information was made available to the Redwood Empire counties. But so far as the motorist can see, there has been little or no improvement. The county boards of supervisors were apparently unmoved by all this effort.

The Redwood Empire's scenic beauty is like the goose that lays the golden egg. If we are to continue to develop and expand our economically important tourist industry, our natural scenic assets must be preserved.

Even the farthest out anti-conservationists must work together with the most extreme ultra-conservationists to preserve the area's natural beauty, even though the motives of the two extremes may be entirely different.

We hope the Redwood Empire counties, which have allowed previous warnings to fall on deaf ears, will be spurred to more corrective action by the latest effort by Marin's Don Frost to expose the growing menace.

Soaking Rains Bring New Life

Marin's recent heavy rains have soaked deep into the soil, bringing new vitality and life to our summer parched plant life. Among the first to respond to heaven's overambitious sprinkler system are the grasses. Already our fabled hills are turning from summer hues of brown and gold to the paler green of newly sprouting grass.

While few will deny that our winter storm can often be devastating downpours, what would life here be without them? A desert.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Dozen Aspirants For Judge—It's Last Chance For Demos

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

AS OF THIS writing, Gov. Pat Brown had not named a successor to the late Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court. But it should be coming any day now.

Among the top contenders are rumored to be San Rafael attorney Hadden W. Roth and Tiburon attorney Leonard M. Sperry Jr.

In the county Roth is better known, both among lawyers and among Democratic party workers. Sperry lives in the county but his work takes him into San Francisco, where he is a deputy attorney general.

ROTH WAS vice chairman of the Marin Democratic Central Committee and is on the state central committee. He headed the campaigns for Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch and for Norbert Schlei, Democratic candidate for Secretary of State. Roth was deputy district attorney in Marin for three and one-half years before going into private practice.

Roger Garety, former Marin D.A. who served under Pat Brown as deputy when Brown was San Francisco District Attorney, would have been a leading contender. But apparently Garety isn't actively seeking the judgeship at this time.

RONALD REAGAN'S smashing victory elevates several Marin Republicans into the limelight.

Thomas Reed of Ross, Reagan's new appointments secretary, is solidly entrenched in the inner circle. Peter Johnson of Mill Valley, who helped Reed engineer Reagan's Northern California campaign, gains in stature.

And Paul Haerle, who ran Reagan's campaign in Marin, has been promoted to the post of chairman of the Northern California Friends of Governor Reagan Committee.

IN THE COUNTY, Gerald E. Misner is chairman of the Marin County Central Committee and heads the county Talents Search Committee. Misner has also been nominated for a post on the Board of Pilot Commissioners.

Misner's position as head of the official party organization in Marin may be challenged next year — by Charles Michals.

Michals worked for George Christopher in the primaries, but went all out for Reagan in the November election. Haerle credits people like Michals for helping restore GOP unity after the Reagan-Christopher fight.

THE ONE DEMOCRAT who continues to draw bi-partisan support is Paul Leake of Woodland, who was swept back to another term on the State Board of Equalization. Leake represents 25 counties of the third district, including Marin.

In those 25 counties, Reagan got 58.58 per cent of the votes. Leake's percentage of victory was 61.84 per cent, better than any other candidate for state office. Remarkable, for a man who announced from the outset he'd neither seek nor accept political contributions. He ran on his record, which includes cleaning up the state liquor scandals in the 1950's.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Let Us Restore Ferry Service

Editor, Independent-Journal:

For the past several years we have heard of many proposed water transportation schemes to get our heavy commuter traffic across the bay to San Francisco. Most recently the proposal appears to be smaller, faster boats which skim over the surface of the water, others mentioned were not quite as fantastic. However, in my opinion, equally unrealistic.

It was my pleasure to have served aboard the passenger ferry steamers on the Sausalito to San Francisco run for 10 years; additionally, my father served on this same route for 45 years. Our crossing time was 32 minutes, and we carried as high as 2,300 passengers per trip. We had old equipment to work with, but the service was dependable and safe.

I truly feel we should restore ferry service for the Marin commuters, as a second bridge across to Marin would ruin the natural beauty of the bay. Double decking the existing Golden Gate crossing is within the realm of possibility; however, unsound from an engineering standpoint, I understand. A tube under the bay will probably be built in the long and distant future.

The plan I have in mind to restore water transportation is essentially this: The boats should be built and operated by the state or federal highway departments. There are several reasons for this: (1) The state owns land at both terminals. (2) A government agency by special treatment could use highway funds to defray the cost of operations. (3) A government agency could negotiate reasonable working agreements with the maritime unions involved. (4) The boats could be utilized during the off hours to transport the public to their state park facilities, mainly Angel Island.

As for the boat specifications, I recommend the following: Double decked, double ended 16-knot vessels, passenger capacity 3,000 persons, fully automated diesel power, passenger loading facilities on both decks, plus side loading and unloading. Two boats would be necessary during the commute hours to maintain a 20-minute schedule.

The estimated cost to build vessels of this quality and capacity would be $5,000,000 each. Terminal facilities would be $5,000,000, or a total of $15,000,000. While the boats would be designed primarily for passenger service, the lower deck could be converted to handle automobiles and buses in case of an emergency.

Shuttle buses would serve the Marin County terminal, running in the same fashion as the street cars serving the old Ferry Building in San Francisco.

I realize there are many details which would have to be overcome; however, some method must be decided upon soon to give the Marin commuters relief.

Assistance Is Highly Praised

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As fellow taxpayers and citizens of Marin County, you are entitled to know just what the backbone attitude is, of our county and city policemen.

At 1 a.m. Wednesday (Nov. 30) morning, I was awakened to experience an epileptic seizure. I crawled back into bed and slept through until 7 a.m. My alarm clock was out of order and the lady across the hall very kindly agreed to awaken me at 7; which she did.

I thanked her for awakening me, and I walked over toward the padded rocking chair for my pants. Wham! I had a seizure. They are of the type that does not bring unconsciousness but develops into a state of fear, similar to the "DT's . . . The seizure didn't last over a period of maybe 40 seconds; after which I took my usual morning medication. I continued to dress at high speed, for I was aware of the situation developing.

Down the stairs I went at a full gallop, and awakened the landlady and requested her to call for help. I then sat down in a chair, scared to move, scared not to move. Within eight to ten minutes I had four more seizures.

The San Rafael police were quickly on the spot . . . Those "big brutes" were received, as an answer from heaven. They did more to relieve the sense of fear and restore my self control than any medication could.

This is not the first time I have begged for help, and been hastily assisted by the County Sheriff's Office or the San Rafael Police Department.

Anything or anyone, truly appreciated, demands being shared with others. I feel that is my responsibility and privilege, to share appreciation of the attitude shown, by example of the officers of the County of Marin.

What's Happening At Our College?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On Dec. 1 one of the strangest little columns in any newspaper I have seen in many months appeared in your paper. It was the "Schools" column by Bryce Anderson.

Mr. Anderson filled the whole column with about six disconnected quasi-informational items under the promised theme of off beat philosophies" on the campuses of Cal and College of Marin. The very brief items ranged from the "famous free speech controversy" at Cal two years ago, additionally dubbed by Mr. Anderson as "the nonsense across the bay"—to Patricia Maginnis' recent distribution of flyers for her abortion class. In between were items and bits with reference to "barefoot longhairs," sandals, sex (planner, free and pre-), Mario Savio, New Politics, Viet Nam war opposition and other "ingredients" showing up at COM.

There is vague and veiled innuendo in the column that COM administrators are lax, fearful, indifferent, or otherwise failing to keep their student charges in line. Near the end of the seemingly truncated column is a brief little wisp of wistful remembrance by Mr. Anderson—"There was a time when attendance at college carried — responsibility — Disobey the rules, and out you went."

The inference of the inchoate column seems to be that we Marinites had better awaken and guard our precious little provincial college from all these unsavory and evil "ingredients" from "across the bay."

Could Mr. Anderson be putting us on? If not, could a sequel follow as to clearly state what is on his mind, if anything?

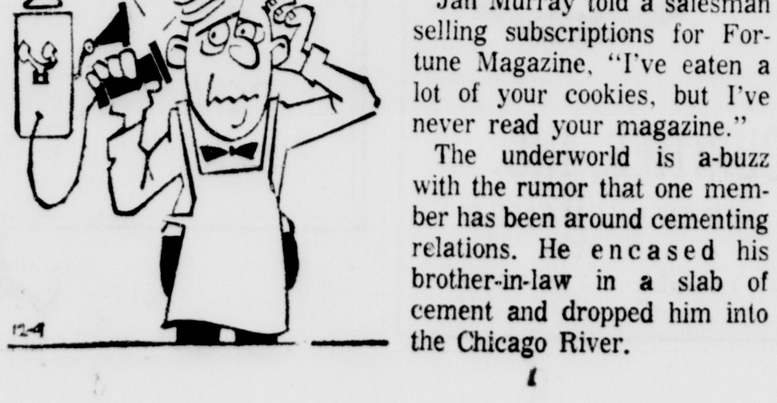
A COUNTRY DOCTOR had occasion to phone the town's only drugstore in the middle of a hot, mid-summer Sunday afternoon. "Hello," drawled a lazy voice from the man who, after a considerable wait, answered the call. "Now, listen carefully," ordered the doctor. "I need these two prescriptions filled right away."



He thereupon rattled off the names of several ingredients, some in five syllables. When he was finished, he demanded, "Have you got all that straight?" The lazy voice answered patiently, "Mister, when I said 'hello,' I done exhausted my entire vocabulary."

QUICKIES:

Alan King points out that the woman who suffers in silence is usually waiting for the telephone repair man.

Jan Murray told a salesman selling subscriptions for Fortune Magazine, "I've eaten a lot of your cookies, but I've never read your magazine."

The underworld is a-buzz with the rumor that one member has been around cementing relations. He encased his brother-in-law in a slab of cement and dropped him into the Chicago River.

Fresh Wind Blowing In Europe Raises East-West Amity Hopes

WASHINGTON — Things are shaking up in Europe.

One of the most important developments in Western foreign policy in 20 years is in the making.

Its effect is to end the inertia and inaction which have grounded U. S. policy in Europe since Gen. Charles de Gaulle began to say no to nearly everything.

It becomes visible in these three events:

1. The new coalition government in West Germany, permitting Bonn to act with far greater flexibility, comes at exactly the right moment to respond to President Johnson's fresh initiatives affecting all of Europe—East and West.

2. The new Foreign Minister of West Germany, Mayor Willy Brandt—far from resisting as have his predecessors—is welcoming Mr. Johnson's recent proposal that the United States and Western Europe should open their doors to fuller economic, political, and cultural relations with Eastern Europe.

3. Prime Minister Wilson is wholeheartedly pressing his bid to join the European Common Market and is acting to show General de Gaulle that Great Britain is a "good European" who wants to help build Europe as a "pillar of equal strength" with the United States.

SINCE THE END of World War II, the Western allies have tended to accept the Moscow imposed separation of Eastern and Western Europe as unalterable and to seek security through the military strength of NATO. Now the U. S., Britain, Germany, and France are altering this approach.

Eastern Europe seems eager to renew its historic ties with the West and we are responding to promote a degree of reconciliation which would bring Eastern and Western Europe into closer association but without seeking to drive a wedge between the Communist nations and Moscow.

A by-product of this trend might ultimately be to overstate the new initiatives which can be expected from the powerful Kiesinger-Brandt coalition government which now has the votes in the Bundestag to break new ground.

JUST BEFORE he became vice chancellor and foreign minister, Brandt advocated three measures which Bonn's earlier governments under Chancellors Adenauer and Erhard rejected:

More trade and contact between Communist East Germany and West Germany.

The development of a kind of Marshall Plan for Eastern Europe based on common projects jointly undertaken by the Eastern and Western European governments.

This is new policy for West Germany. It is new policy for the United States. What Mayor Brandt said just before he took the decision to put the strong Social Democratic party into a Bonn coalition with the Christian Democrats precisely parallels what President Johnson said on Oct. 7 in an address before the National Conference of Editorial Writers.

"OUR PURPOSE," Mr. Johnson said, "is to help the people of Europe achieve:

"A continent in which the peoples of Eastern and Western Europe work together for the common good.

"A continent in which alliances do not confront each other in bitter hostility, but provide a framework in which West and East can act together to assure the security of all.

"In a restored Europe, Germany can and will be united."

The U. S. does not want a weak and dependent Europe. It wants a restored, strong, and independent Europe. This is why it is no offense to us to have Prime Minister Wilson saying to de Gaulle that British membership in the Common Market will mean a Europe stronger and more independent of the U. S.

Will Peking Wreck Atom Test Treaty?

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

The Chinese Communists' forthcoming fifth nuclear explosion could be the blast that shatters the three-year-old pact—that bars testing in the atmosphere, space and under water, but not underground.

THAT IS the grave concern of U. S. authorities as the result of an authoritative warning that Russia may use Red China's next atomic test as the pretext to withdraw from the treaty.

The State Department has been informed that this alarming possibility was clearly intimated by Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kutznetsov in the course of a long talk with U.N. Secretary-General U Thant last week.

Kutznetsov, highest ranking Soviet official to visit the U.N. in two years, observed that abrogation of the 1963 test ban pact may become necessary because of the growing threat to Russia's security from Peking's unrestricted development of nuclear weapons.

AS ONE OF the three principal signatories of the test ban treaty, Russia could wreck it by announcing her withdrawal.

U. S. and Britain, the two other original participants, inevitably would be forced to follow suit for their own protection.

The treaty, signed in Moscow August 3, 1963, provides that each nation "shall give notice of such withdrawal to all parties to the treaty three months in advance." More than 100 UN members have joined the accord.

Of the big powers, only Red China and France have refused to participate and have continued testing in the atmosphere. Russia and the U. S. conduct tests underground.

U. N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg is under instructions to discuss the matter directly with the Soviet delegation and U Thant.

SIGNIFICANTLY, Goldberg was personally directed by President Johnson to find out if the Russians or U Thant have recommendations on how the Chinese nuclear program could be curbed without triggering a war.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff, who have never been happy about the test ban pact, have a disturbing theory about what may be behind the Soviet threat:

IT IS POSSIBLE that the Russians may have made a momentous breakthrough in nuclear technology and want to scuttle the treaty so as to be able to test a super-weapon.

It is pointed out that U. S. satellites have recently photographed huge construction at two principal Soviet testing sites, and the completion of more than 300 new bases for intercontinental ballistic missiles.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE projections indicate that by mid-1968, the Soviet will have in place some 800 ICBMs, most of them in hardened or semi-hardened sites. In addition, Russia will have 900 IRBMs with a range capable of reaching all European and North African targets. Also 100 missile-firing submarines, each armed with two to four ballistic or winged missiles with ranges up to 600 miles. . . .

Mill Valley Needs High Rise Garage To Replace City Hall

The dire necessity of replacing Mill Valley's city hall with a high-rise garage was demonstrated again last week with the announcement by the Post Office that it would move its annex to the building occupied by the southern Marin office of the Independent-Journal at the corner of Corte Madera and Lovell avenues.

The announcement by Postmaster John T. Little noted that parking for "government" vehicles would be provided on the second floor of the building, a former garage. Nothing was said about parking for the vehicles of the men who would work in the building—30 of them, to be exact. Twenty-six carriers, three clerks and one supervisor, Little noted this week, will have to park on the street.

AND GUESS what time they come to work? Long before the gentle drones who park and work in downtown Mill Valley, or who park and take the Bus to San Francisco. I hate to say it, but the 30 post office employees come to work at 5:30 a.m.

Their early arrival will take up every inch of curb for several blocks out Lovell and up adjacent streets. Parkers unfortunate enough to arrive after 5:30 a.m. may find a few openings as residents of the area leave for work, but not enough space will be available to meet the need.

Present post office operations on Sunnyside and Miller avenues are far enough from the downtown commercial center that the parking there is not critical. But parking in the center of town already is critical. The move of the post office annex is expected early next year.

There is time, however, for the usual prompt city response to a problem. Demolition of city hall probably would take only two days, providing temporary parking on the ground floor pending construction of the high-rise garage.

Which would require a bond issue.

CITY HALL has its problems, but it also has one less tree this week. The pretty 12-foot tree of an unknown species on the front lawn, after battling the wind for almost 10 years, finally toppled off its weak roots.

Local tree watchers report the tree had a history of toppling, and that it had been propped up several times by patient city crews. It also had a history of strange haircuts, its appearance depending upon which city department finally got around to shearing it.

The end came Friday. This time, city crews made an attempt to save it, and hastily gave the coup de grace with a gas driven saw. Zap. All within the time it takes for a good coffee break.

PLANS BY the city and school district for joint development of the 45 acres in the Project 17 area on Camino Alto raise the specter of Bay fill. City officials, of course, were quick to claim that none of the area is subject to tidal action, which would make fill plans subject to approval by the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

City officials around the Bay usually manage to recall that they threw a large spoonful of fill in their part of the Bay before Sept. 17, 1965, thus beating the commission's jurisdiction. But parts of the 45 acres certainly were subjected to tidal action in last week's rain storms.

The angle is that the executive director of the commission, Joseph E. Bodovitz, is a trustee of the Mill Valley School District. He concedes, however, that he has enough problems without worrying about the possibility that the "middle school" proposed for the area may require bay fill. The master site planner for the 45 acres will hold the answer to the problem of where to place the school.

Paris Herald Changes Name, But Crusade Memory Lingers

WASHINGTON—They're putting a new name on the Paris Herald today. From now on it will be known as the International Edition of the New York Herald Tribune and Washington Post, and if you ask for it under that name at the airport you'll miss your plane.

The Paris Herald has never been a crusading paper because as a guest of the French it isn't nice to tell them how to run their capital.

BUT THERE WAS a time once when the paper struck a blow for freedom and I happened to be involved in the incident.

It took place when I was writing a night club column and living just off the Avenue George V on the Rue de Boccador, a cobblestone's throw from the beautiful American Pro Cathedral. At this moment some generous soul had decided to give the cathedral a gift of carillons, the likes of which had not been heard in Europe since the coronation of King Louis XIV.

The dean of the cathedral, a music lover, decided to share the carillons with all of the Right Bank of Paris, and as soon as they were installed and blessed he proceeded to have them play on the hour, every hour, from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night, with an added concert at noon and 6 o'clock.

Well, as much as I loved the cathedral, the bells were driving me nuts. I knew a plea to the dean from a night club columnist would have little effect, so I decided to take the issue to the reading public of the Paris Herald.

I wrote a letter to the paper's mailbag under a fictitious name which read:

"I am a French housewife and my husband works on the Metro (subway) all night long. He can't sleep in the daytime because your American cathedral keeps ringing its bells. Why don't you ring them on Sundays like the Catholics do and let it go at that?

Madame Micheline du Bois."

THE LETTER produced real mail from many indignant Americans who didn't care about the American cathedral as much as they did about the anti-American comments. There was a series of letters demanding to know where France would be without the United States. My campaign to eliminate the bells was sidetracked for a week until I got it on the rails again with a letter which said:

"I believe the real question is not what America has done for France, but what the American cathedral is doing to Franco-American relations. We French don't want to be reminded what time it is. It interferes with our lunch hour. I say stop the bells or close the church.

"Alain Berhneim"

The mail poured in, but we only printed the anti-bell letters. One of the deacons of the church also happened to be the general manager of the paper. He knew vaguely I had something to do with the anti-carillon campaign and he said, "Don't you have any letters for the bells?"

I SAID, "Of course."

"Well, why don't we print one?" he said angrily.

I rushed to my typewriter and wrote the final letter of my campaign. It read:

"Dear Sir, I don't know what all the fuss is about the bells. They have never bothered me.

"Guilio Ascerelli,
Rome, Italy."

The general manager gave orders that no more letters were to be printed about the bells. But lo, a few days later they stopped ringing on the hour and only rang at noon. It was a great victory for a free press.

AND FOR THE NEXT three years the Paris Herald's night club columnist slept on the Rue de Boccador like a baby

Affection Aids Dogs' Recovery From Shock Test

WASHINGTON (SS) — Lovers shouldn't be surprised, but according to some Baltimore studies on dogs, affection can counter even the physical impact of electric shock.

Normally, electric shock will increase a dog's heart rate and blood pressure. But the simple act of petting the animal while it is being shocked holds down his heart rate by half, reported Dr. Horsley Gantt of the Johns Hopkins University Pavlovian Laboratory. The gesture of affection also reduced the dog's other reactions to pain.

Nor is direct affection the complete story. Dr. Gantt discovered that just the presence of a person in the experimental room could soften the shock impact.

Not all dogs responded equally to affection, however, said Dr. Gantt. Some had almost no response; others, particularly the neurotic dogs, were more influenced.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Fusselman

In a 13-page swatch of legislative recommendations which County Administrator Alan Bruce handed the board of supervisors, he left out one recommendation that, in all justice to the prevailing situation, should have been made. He should have included the provision that a bill be introduced at the legislative session by either Sen. Jack McCarthy or Assemblyman Bill Bagley, or perhaps both, which would provide that $700 of the $800 a month salary now being paid to the supervisors be added to the salary of the Marin County Administrator, making it $63,000 instead of the mere pittance of $21,000 a year he now receives.

Or maybe it would be more equitable to split the transferred amount between the county planning director and the administrator.

That would work out this way: County Planning Director Zucker would be paid $39,000 instead of his present $18,000. Bruce would get $42,000. This admittedly fanciful suggestion, surprisingly, would nonetheless be indicated by what is going on in your county government. Well, not so surprisingly at that.

IN AN ANGRY, bitter debate Supervisors Behr, Leydecker and Kettenhofen argued the question of the meeting to evaluate appointed department heads. Kettenhofen, the Ross Valley supervisor, said to Behr, the southern Marin man, "You are putting the non-popular head in a deep freeze" (whatever that means).

Behr: "That's the reason we have an administrator form of government."

As I have said time and time again, until this form of government is submitted to the voters and is approved, what you have out at the Civic Center is an operation by default. The southern Marin man, Behr, blocked the submission of this when he first came on the board in late 1961.

When this form of government was submitted to the voters it was decisively defeated by 60 per cent, as some of you who were here will remember.

THERE COULD hardly be a more emphatic indictment of the present board than the posed picture which was reproduced with a five column spread on Dec. 5. They had bitterly, again argued for more than three hours as to whether to reverse their previous decision to hold a closed meeting in defiance of the Brown Act, for evaulation of appointed department heads.

". . . It is proposed that the Board of Supervisors of a general law county be permitted by ordinance (and therefore subject to referendum), after hearing and upon finding the public interest would be served in terms of efficiency, economy and effectiveness, to:

"a. Establish qualifications for candidates for elective county offices other than the Board of Supervisors.

"b. Consolidate any elective office with any other elective office.

"c. Consolidate any elective office with any appointive office.

THIS BRAZEN attempt to set up a potential grab for more and more power would remove your control over your local government even further than has the move out to the Brazilia of Marin.

Historical Site To Be Protected

Armistead Peter III, whose family has owned the estate since 1805, arranged to present the easement today to Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall.

The scenic easement is a property interest that gives the government the right to prevent the five and one-half acre estate from being subdivided, commercially developed or otherwise used in an unaesthetic manner.

LISTENING TO AFRICA—British Foreign Secretary George Brown (right) whispers to Britain's Ambassador to the U.N., Lord Caradon, today as Zambia demands military intervention in Rhodesia. (UPI Telephoto)

Topple Rhodesia, Africans Demand

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Zambia, the closest black African neighbor state of rebellious Rhodesia, called today for British military action as the only sure way of toppling the Rhodesian white minority regime.

Zambian Foreign Minister Simon Kapwepwe told the Security Council the British plan for selective mandatory sanctions on Rhodesian exports, proposed by Foreign Secretary George Brown last night, was "another ineffective formula."

Referring to British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, Kapwepwe asked, "Is this the new Wilson stratagem of saving face, or is it the final act in the plot to sell out the African majority of southern Rhodesia and to destroy Zambia's economy?"

Kapwepwe spoke as the first of three African foreign ministers who have asked to be heard by the council. The others are Doudou Thiam of Senegal and Abdelaziz Bouteflika of Algeria. These three countries have been empowered by the Organization of African Unity (OAU) to plan black Africa's strategy on Rhodesia.

British Foreign Secretary George Brown urged the council yesterday to apply immediate mandatory no-trade bars against Rhodesia. But the only specific sanctions requested were on 10 key exports that provide Premier Ian Smith's regime with an estimated $235.2 million annually.

The Afro-Asian nations, the largest power bloc in the U.N. General Assembly, also want a sanction against oil, a vital import for Rhodesia. Sanctions cover trade going into or out of a country.

But Brown skirted the sensitive issue—aware that an oil embargo could sabotage Britain's recuperating economy. He said Britain would not oppose a call for an oil embargo—provided it was made in "acceptable terms" to the British delegation. He warned that "sanctions must not be allowed to escalate into an economic confrontation with British delegation. He warned third countries" such as South Africa, with which Britain does a $1 billion annual trade.

Plumas Idea Legal; Peralta College Has Inside Track

Marin Asked To Provide Campus But Really Not Taking Action

It looked today, however, as though Peralta had a long lead in the "annex Plumas" race.

And there was some doubt whether Marin Junior College District trustees would like another campus more than 255 miles away. After all, development of the North Marin campus has not yet started.

One thing was settled, though: It would be legal. The state attorney general said so today.

AS A SURPRISE

In case all this comes as a surprise to the residents of Marin, it seems it's no surprise to those of Plumas County. All 12,000 of them presumably are aware of it—or at least as many of the 12,000 as can read and write and understand such things.

It's been carried on from this end purely by Irwin P. Diamond, acting president of College of Marin — although Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy of the board of trustees said board members had received a memo about the possibility of Plumas annexation. They've never discussed it at a board meeting.

It started last summer, about the time Stephen E. Epler departed as college president. Supt. Robert F. Schoensee of Plumas Unified School District wrote to several junior college districts, asking if they would like to annex his county.

LOW POPULATION

He explained that Plumas does not have the population for a junior college district, but it would like a junior college. He suggested some other district might like to put a campus there.

The lure: Assessed valuation of $78,438,000, as of last fiscal year.

Diamond showed the letter to Mrs. Deedy. She said she told him, "I'm curious about it, but I doubt if it would be legal."

Diamond decided to find out. He asked County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, who asked the state attorney general.

Today the attorney general's opinion arrived. After meandering through court cases and the Education Code, it wound up:

By STEPHEN COOK

Marin County residents and their representatives presented an almost unbroken stream of opposition yesterday as they paraded to microphones in the San Rafael Theater to record their views on Highway 17.

More than 45 persons, including leaders of local government and business and homeowner groups, testified during the four and one-half hour State Division of Highways hearing.

AT CLOSE

At the close of the largely anti-freeway hearing, Alan S. Hart, district engineer for the division, said:

"We are certainly aware that the feelings expressed here today are negative. We've been in the business a long time, and we knew that anyone with a freeway routed within shouting distance of his home would oppose it. You may never have a freeway in this area, but, if it is built, it will fit your community."

After the meeting, he said, "The positive approach today was in the resolution of the board of supervisors. Our next move will be to comply with that resolution."

That resolution, read into the hearing record by board chairman Byron W. Leydecker, asked a second hearing on the proposed freeway routes after the county has time to study Highway 17 as it relates to "balanced transportation needs of Marin County."

It also asked studies of two more routes: the "K" route which cuts through San Anselmo but avoids Fairfax and the "R" route which runs along an underveloped ridge between Terra Linda and Marinwood.

In contrast to the emotion-charged hearing held by Marin County supervisors Nov. 21, yesterday's speakers conducted themselves on "a real sane basis," as Hart called it.

"If this is an unruly mob, I want more of them up my way," said Harold Del Ponte, hearing officer and chairman of the Del Norte County Board of Supervisors.

He referred to Leydecker's statement Tuesday that he would be "delighted" to attend the hearing for the board, "just to find out how others handle unruly crowds."

MOST OF HEAT

Except for attorney Richard V. Bettini's morning attack on Hart for holding the hearing, most of the heat yesterday was directed at the supervisors—particularly Leydecker and Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Mrs. Charles Swenson told the engineers the people do not blame them. "We blame our supervisors, especially the two in favor of the freeways, for inviting the division in to study the freeways without first consulting their constituents," she said.

Sylvia Spenser of 18 Jordan Avenue, San Anselmo, said, "I want to thank supervisors Storer, Gnoss and Behr for their magnificient work in bringing about the resolution which was read today."

"I think that by now, most of us have a pretty good idea where our opposition should be directed," said Mrs. Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas.

Most opposition to the proposed routes came from the San Anselmo, Sleepy Hollow and Fairfax areas. Speakers from these areas said either that they want no east-west freeway in Marin or they want it located in less populated areas to the north.

Merritt Robinson of the Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn. said residents of his 125-home community were displeased to hear some persons favor ridge routes through Sleepy Hollow because it is relatively undeveloped.

He urged study of the "R" route on the ridge between Terra Linda and Marinwood, saying it would affect only one house and would "open up some gorgeous scenery" behind the undeveloped Loma Alta area.

NO SCARS

Maxine Miller of Hilldale Park in San Anselmo said if a freeway is necessary, "it should be put where it will not scar the land or disrupt so many people.

"When you look at your maps, remember we are not just dots, we are people. Come and visit us as people, not as officials. We live in a small area, but it's a delightful one."

Vera Rivers, a real estate broker from Sequoia Park, San Anselmo, said the freeway will have "a terrible impact on residential and commercial values.

Church Council Urges Seeking Of Viet Parley

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—The General Assembly of the National Council of Churches approved overwhelmingly today a policy statement urging the U. S. government to seek international mediation of the Viet Nam war.

It also urged the government to give "more serious consideration" to a halt in bombing raids on North Viet Nam "even though there may be no advance assurance of reciprocal action by the North Viet Nam government."

It said this country should be prepared to take other "risk" actions to bring about peace negotiations.

"This war must be brought to an end soon," the statement declared. It was adopted on a standing vote with several hundred delegates supporting it and no more than 20 opposing

The National Council of Churches is the nation's largest cooperative religious organization, embracing 34 Protestant and Orthodox denominations with 41 million members. The General Assembly, its top policy making body, meets every three years. Its 1966 session began last Sunday and ends today.

The Viet Nam statement overshadowed all of the business in the minds of the assembly delegates. They debated it line by line through two days' sessions.

Ross Census Pays Dividend

A new population estimate for the Town of Ross means $2.821 more in gasoline tax refunds from the state.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen said last night the latest population estimate by the State Department of Finance put the figure at 2,768—which was 217 more people than were counted in 1960.

It only cost the town $150 for the state census so the actual benefit for the first year will be $2,671, said clerk Mrs. Virginia Stott.

The council said, however, it won't bother to have the population figure changed in signs at the town's entrances.

MAYBE HE STILL LOOKS FOR SANTA

An over-enterprising garbage collector was reprimanded by Mill Valley Refuse Service yesterday after leaving notes in his Belvedere customers' mailboxes.

The notes read "if you have a gift for your scavenger man, please mail it to . . ." and gave his address in Richmond, including the zip code.

San Rafael Raid Cracks Two-County Theft Ring

STROM, DR. VOYDAT OUSTER DEMANDED

State Federation Probe Report Also Hits Corona Over Academic Freedom Battles

The California Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO), in its long-delayed report on academic freedom in the San Rafael High School District, yesterday called for ouster of Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat and defeat at the polls of board of education member Anita C. Strom.

It also called for ouster as superintendent of Bert C. Corona, but he had left the San Rafael city schools between the time of the union's investigation and the release of the report. He left in June to become superintendent of schools in Modesto.

The CFT launched its inquiry into alleged threats to academic freedom at San Rafael's two high schools during the uproar last winter over assignment of Jack Kerouac's "On the Road" by teacher Gunard Salberg, for reading by a senior honors English class at Terra Linda High School. About the same time, the California Teachers Assn. sent a panel to Corte Madera to conduct an "ethics and personnel standards" inquiry into the San Rafael schools.

The CTA panel also called for ouster of Voydat and heavily censured Mrs. Strom. It had scant praise for Corona but did not call for his removal. He announced his resignation the day before its report was made public.

An introductory note to the CFT report, dated Nov. 17, says: "There appear to us to be no immediate threats to academic freedom in either of these schools (San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools) at this time."

The introductory note, bearing the names of Eric A. Spiekerman, chairman of the CFT's academic freedom committee, and Jackson Burgess, who wrote the report, includes no explanation for the long delay in its release. It says the CFT's inquiry was made "during the first five months of this year."

The introduction says: "It is our hope that this report can serve as a warning and as a guide in the job of erecting throughout California effective safeguards against violations, whether careless or calculated, of academic freedom."

It says that subsequent to the investigation, Voydat held a meeting of teachers to advise them of proceedings of the committee which considered "On the Road." "Since we censured the establishment of the secret committee, we are happy to note Dr. Voydat's attempt to open its proceedings," it adds.

The report deals principally with three cases which the CFT calls threats to academic freedom. One of these goes back to 1963, when Mrs. Strom (not then a board of education member) objected to a supplementary reading list used by Barbara Blumberg for a San Rafael High School class in American history. (Miss Blumberg has since left the San Rafael schools.)

Prison Playwright To Face Limelight On Freedom Day

Rick Cluchey, 35-year-old San Quentin inmate who wrote a widely praised play while in prison, will end 11 years confinement Monday, walking to freedom under waiting television cameras.

Cluchey was an eighth grade dropout with four years in the Army behind him when he was sentenced in 1955 to a life term for kidnaping and armed robbery in Los Angeles.

While in prison he has become a certified dental technician, his passport to freedom, and the author of "Le Cage," a play of which performances two years ago by the San Francisco Actors Workshop proved his passport to fame.

The play has been described by Cluchey as "an attempt to show the emotions of four men as they react to the completely unreal life of confinement in prison." It took him a year to write, often by lighting matches after the lights were turned out.

Cluchey's life sentence came because he forced a man to drive him several blocks, then robbed him of $800. His gun fired in the course of the action, the bullet grazing the victim. Although there was evidence that the shooting was accidental, a life sentence without possibility of parole was mandatory. The judge recommended the governor commute the sentence to straight life, which allows parole.

On Christmas Day, 1964, the sentence was commuted. The Adult Authority, however, waited another two years to grant parole.

In all the years in prison, Cluchey broke not one rule, according to Associate Warden James W. L. Park, who said, "That's really doing something considering how many rules we've got around here."

LBJ Arrives Back In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP- — After nearly three weeks at his Texas ranch, President Johnson returned to Washington today for budget talks and other official activities.

$4,000 Loot Found In Pair's Apartment

The teamwork of three police departments and the Sonoma County sheriff's office led yesterday to the arrest in San Rafael of a man and woman charged with a string of burglaries in the past three weeks.

San Rafael police burst into an apartment at 565 Canal Street and found about $4,000 in clothing they said was stolen from the cars of 10 shoppers in San Rafael and Sonoma County since Nov. 22.

Arrested at the apartment were Raymond Joseph Penole Jr., 27, accused of 10 counts of burglary, and Eileen Marie Thompson, 20, charged with possession of stolen property. Police said she had been living with Penole.

Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa lauded the efforts of the San Rafael, Corte Madera and Santa Rosa police and the Sonoma County sheriff's office in solving the case.

Inspector Gerald A. Souza, whose work on the case was applauded by Chiesa, gave this story:

Following a series of thefts from cars parked in the Northgate Shopping Center and in the parking lot of the Mac Disco Department Store, 555 Francisco Boulevard, Corte Madera police supplied San Rafael police with the license number of a car seen leaving the scene of a similar theft there.

TRACED, SPOTTED

Santa Rosa police traced the auto belonged to a Calistoga woman who loaned it to several friends for use. San Rafael patrol units were given the license number, and last week, Patrolman Phillip D. Green spotted the car parked on Canal Street near Penole's home.

TIP PAYS OFF

Sunday, Sonoma sheriff's deputies, acting on a tip, found stolen goods in a room at the Flamingo Hotel in Santa Rosa. One of two men who had rented the room was identified as Penole.

Working with Inspectors Richard A. Douglas and Thomas C. Cheetham, Souza learned from tenants at 565 Canal Street that Penole was living there under the name of Raymond Thompson. Then the raid occurred.

Besides the 10 counts, Penole was held on a warrant charging burglary in Sonoma County. Bail of $11,000 was set for him; $1,650 for Miss Thompson.

Chiesa said master keys were used to enter shoppers' cars, most of which were late models.

Floating Mine Blown Up Near Ammo Convoy

Combined AP & UPI

SAIGON — South Vietnamese soldiers spotted a floating mine in the Saigon River tonight and exploded it with their rifles just as a government army ammunition truck convoy was crossing the Bien Hoa Bridge, U.S. military policemen reported.

The blast rocked part of Saigon and MPs first reported the Viet Cong had exploded an ammunition truck on the bridge with a hand grenade.

Concussion from the exploding mine —which could have wrecked the steel girder bridge —threw artillery ammunition out of the trucks and sent it rolling across the old Bien Hoa Highway bridge.

Authorities said a South Vietnamese sentry spotted the mine being pushed toward the bridge by Viet Cong frogmen, and shot at it before it got close enough to do damage.

Meanwhile U.S. jet pilots eluded one of the biggest MIG counterattacks of the war and bombed a radar site six miles from the North Vietnamese capital of Hanoi.

U.S. military officials said at least 10 of the Russian built MIGs intercepted American F-105 Air Force Thunderchiefs raiding the Hanoi area Thursday, but all of the air-to-air missiles fired by the Communist defenders missed their mark.

One U.S. plane was downed in the North Viet Nam raids. The loss was attributed to groundfire, but the location was not reported. The American pilot was listed as missing.

Two other planes were shot down over the South. A B-57 Canberra jet bomber was shot down off the coast of South Viet Nam but both crewmen escaped. An F-100 Supersabre was downed 30 miles south of Saigon and the pilot was killed.

A MASK AGAINST POLLUTION

Mrs. Mary Ann Beaty of Raytown, Mo., was so impressed by her chiropractor's recent worries about air pollution that she has begin wearing a gas mask to drive to and from work in Kansas City. "I still feel a little self-conscious," she says, "but this air pollution can make us all sick." Her family, however, hasn't folowed suit. (AP Wirephoto)

Countdown Bullet In Head Survived By Young Victim

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) —A young man who had to endure a countdown of 60 before being shot in the head at point-blank range was listed in "fair" condition in a hospital here today.

James Lamka, 24, of Coral Gables was in an intensive-care unit following surgery yesterday after he was reportedly made to kneel before his alleged assailant and being told, "I'm going to count down from 60 and then kill you."

Police were hopeful of talking with Lamka today, to establish a motive in the shooting. A detective captain called Lamka's survival "one in a million."

According to authorities, Lamka and John Kirchheiner, 21, who share a Coral Gables apartment, were visited early yesterday morning by a friend, John Wesley Clark, 25, of Miami. Clark reportedly had been drinking and asked the two men to help him "beat up, or kill" a man whom Clark said had stolen his girl friend.

They refused and Clark allegedly at this point pulled a pistol. Kirchheiner told authorities he got a rifle out of his closet and managed to get the pistol away from Clark and calm him. But when Kirchheiner dropped his guard, Clark grabbed the rifle and pistol.

The countdown and shooting reportedly followed with Kirchheiner frozen in the corner. He ran from the room and raced 100 yards to a restaurant to phone police. While he was phoning, Lamka staggered into the restaurant.

Clark was arrested three blocks away. He was charged with aggravated assault with intent to commit murder.

Woman Shouts At Caroline

NEW YORK (UPI) —A woman with a history of mental disturbance approached Caroline Kennedy on the street yesterday, muttered that she had evidence that her father, the late President Kennedy, was still alive and began shouting epithets at the child.

Caroline's Secret Service escort whisked the girl into the lobby of the Kennedy apartment house on Fifth Avenue and police took the distraught woman to Bellevue Hospital for psychiatric observation.

The woman, identified as Josephine Matsko, 43, who lives in a Broadway area hotel about two miles from the Kennedy residence, got no closer than 10 feet to Caroline, police said.

Black Cleared In Dow Wilson Murder Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Asst. Dist. Atty. Walter Guibbini today had only one suspect left to try for the ambush slaying of painters union leader Dow Wilson.

He is Ben Rasnick, secretary of District Council 16 of the Painters Union, who was the last of six suspects indicted on murder-conspiracy charges for Wilson's death on April 16.

BLACK FREED

Superior Court Judge Norman Elkington acquitted accountant Carl M. Black, 47, of Oakland yesterday on ground the evidence against him fell "far short of the standards required by law for conviction."

Black had chosen a trial by judge rather than jury.

The defendant, who had spent the last seven months behind bars while awaiting trial, wept openly when Elkington announced his verdict.

OTHERS DROPPED

On Wednesday charges against tavern owner Richard Rock and Clyde Simmonds, 75, were dismissed by Elkington at the request of Guibinni who said he did not have enough solid evidence to bring their cases to trial.

The other two defendants, painting contractors Norman Call and Max Ward, were previously convicted on murder and conspiracy charges.

The prosecution charged that Wilson was gunned down on a San Francisco street because he found out a union welfare fund in Sacramento was being robbed. Ward and Call were employer trustees of the fund.

No trial date has been set for Rasnick.

Guard Positions

Positions as correctional officers at a starting salary of $520 a month are now open to men between the ages of 21 and 45 with two years work experience and the equivalent of a high school education. Application forms are available at the San Quentin Prison personnel office. Final filing date is Jan. 2.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Innocent Plea To Slaying Charge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A former mental patient stood silently today while a lawyer entered his innocent plea to the bludgeon slaying of a nationally known church and civil rights leader.

Minor

William R. Minor, 23, entered the plea to a first-degree murder charge in the death of Dr. Robert W. Spike, 43, a ministry professor at the University of Chicago credited with a major role in moving the church into civil rights activities.

Minor must be indicted by a grand jury before he can be tried.

Spike's body was found in a pool of blood last Oct. 17 in a guest room at the United Christian Center near Ohio State University. He had made a speech dedicating the interdenominational center the day before.

Spike

Early Wednesday, Minor stopped a police cruiser in downtown Columbus and told officers he had committed a burglary the night before at the Southeast Christian Church in Columbus.

Because of the church angle, Beck said officers decided to question Minor about the Spike case.

Warne Pleased

CORONADO (UPI) — Director William E. Warne of the state Department of Water Resources says he leaves the job with "full confidence" the $1.75 billion state water project will be completed on schedule. Warne told the Irrigation Districts Assn. of California yesterday that 56 per cent of the construction work is complete or under way.

To Fight Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Emanuel Celler says he will press his fight in the new Congress to halt the Senate's practice of tacking nongermane amendments onto House-passed bills. The New York Democrat, chairman of the Judiciary Committee and dean of the House in point of service, said the present procedure "makes a mockery of the legislative process."

Art To Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Philanthropist Paul Mellon has given Yale University one of the world's outstanding private art collections, $35 million worth of British works he gathered over the last 15 years. Along with the collection of 17th-, 18th-, and 19th-century paintings, watercolors, drawings and books, Mellon also presented his alma mater funds to build a gallery and library where they can be displayed.

EXTREMISM NOT ALWAYS A VIRTUE

Yesterday he came to school with his head completely shaved.

He was sent home again with orders to wait until it grows back, but his parents and the principal later huddled and agreed he could return to school Monday.

School officials promised to send him home again, however, if his shiny pate disrupted work in the classroom.

Brother Claims Report Failed To Give Motive

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — "One thing that has always bothered me is the why of this thing," says Robert Oswald, the brother of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

Oswald, 32, a sales manager for a Wichita Falls brick company, says he's writing a book he hopes will explain why and provide new details.

"I would hope it is done in a manner which will shed additional light on Lee's over-all general character, which, in my opinion, was cut short in the commission report," he said in an interview yesterday with the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Nixon Flays LBJ Over War Budget

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Former vice president Richard Nixon says that the Johnson administration's $10 billion miscalculation of Viet Nam war spending is "incredible" and that a tax increase at this time "could be a disaster."

Nixon, the unsuccessful Republican candidate for president in 1960, said at a news conference yesterday that "It is incredible that this administration in March (when it first announced the proposed war budget) could not have known in December what the cost of the war in Viet Nam would be."

He said, "I don't think a man like (Defense Secretary Robert S.) McNamara with a computer-like mind could make this mistake."

Answering a question, Nixon said the lower estimates of Viet Nam war costs were helpful to the administration in the election campaign.

Nixon later told a State Chamber of Commerce luncheon that the country needs a "true war budget" in place of a tax increase. And he advocated a cut in nonmilitary spending.

Nixon said, "Consumer spending is down. Corporate profits are down. The economy is in a downturn.

"A tax increase at this time impairs consumer confidence and accelerates the downturn. In my view, a tax increase could trigger a recession and wipe out all the economic gains of the past 10 years."

Nixon said nothing about his present political ambitions. But when photographers asked him to pose for pictures in the corridor of the Hilton Hotel, he laughed and asked them not to put him "next to that exit sign."

Riot Broken Up

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — About 600 young Negroes took part in a demonstration which police broke up when the demonstrators began breaking windows of downtown businesses early today. Alton B. Taylor, city public safety director, said the demonstration began about 1 or 1:30 a. m. and was broken up about 4 a. m. He said there were no reports of injuries and no arrests—"as yet."

Black, White Watts' Angels

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There will be black angels and white angels decorating the riot-scarred streets of Watts this Christmas.

The integrated angels will be made by the Sons of Watts, a group formed after the rioting of 1965 and including some of the rioters.

Highway 17 Hearing Parade Of Opposition

It will stop all sales within a radius of three blocks."

James E. Denebeim of 980 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow, said: "We are beginning to get the feeling that regardless of what the population wants, we're going to get the freeway shoved down our throats. We're beginning to doubt that Kettenhofen has our feelings at heart."

He warned that the freeway revolt could end with bad feelings. "Do we have to have recall elections to stop our supervisors from voting for a freeway? Do we have to send lobbyists to Sacramento to stop the freeway?" he asked.

Norman D. Staub of Sleepy Hollow, an associate professor at University of California at Berkeley, said "Los Angeles is the future of Marin if developers and freeway-minded men carry the day."

Representatives of numerous organizations entered objections ranging from opposition to any freeway anywhere in the county to requests for further study.

The gamut of objections was run by Bart Benedict of San Anselmo, who said he spoke for the Fairfax Citizens Freeway Study Committee, the Marin Conservation League, Marin Council for Civic Affairs, San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce and the Hillsdale, Manor Hill, Sequoia Park, Sleepy Hollow, Greenbrae and San Anselmo homeowners associations, all of which endorsed a "unity statement" opposing the routes proposed by the highways division.

Benedict objected to all proposed routes, which he said would "dismember, disrupt and despoil" business and residential areas and create a "munincipal financial crisis" through loss of tax revenues from destroyed homes and businesses.

He urged a study of a "balanced transport system" for Marin and a study of the "obsolescence of Highway 101" and its interchanges.

Mrs John F. West of the San Anselmo Home Owners' Assn. charged that imbalance in methods of moving people was a result of devoting all gasoline tax revenues to highway construction. She said a portion of these revenues should be spent on developing other means of transportation.

Richard A. Gable, speaking for the Survival Committee of Miracle Mile, said a proposed route along the north side of the Miracle Mile would destroy a $5 million investment by 38 firms and wipe out 250 jobs with a $2 million investment annual payroll.

Richard Ocheltree of the Lucas Valley Freeway Study Committee said the sole consideration in locating a freeway should be to relieve traffic congestion in central Marin.

Carroll A. Snyker, manager of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce, took the mildest line of the session,presenting statistics to demonstrate the need for relief of increasing congestion on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Harold Gregg said the Marin Conservation League "can't accept any of the state proposals. It is a piecemeal plan, without resolution at any end. By the time this highway is built, the standard freeway solution of today will be a thing of the past."

Mrs. Frederick said the San Geronimo Valley Assn. is "opposing any east-west freeway for Marin. It's the opinion of some of us that freeways beget traffic."

In a question and answer period at the end of the hearing, Hart was asked: "Don't you understand that we don't want any of the freeways proposed?"

"That's certainly what we've been hearing here today," he said. He closed, promising another hearing by the division and saying anyone who could not attend yesterday's hearing could testify in writing.

Tiburon Club President Renominated

Joseph W. Royer was nominated by Tiburon Peninsula Club's board of directors last night to serve a second term as president.

Nominated as new members for the board were Mervin D. Field, Dr. Kay H. Blacker, Richard S. Calendar and Alan W. Cundall.

Field, who heads Field Research in San Francisco, plans to conduct a survey of the membership to find out if the club is providing what members want.

If there are no further nominations from the membership, the nominees will be installed at the club's annual meeting on Jan. 24.

Directors decided to leave the large swimming pool open for the winter and close the south pool. They agreed to continue underwriting the junior tennis program for $120 a month.

The house committee was authorized to have the kitchen renovated for a cost of not more than $3,000, and to order new drapes and wall paneling for Homan Hall and the entrance lobby.

Walker Creek Survey Money Is Requested

Marin Soil Conservation District Board yesterday approved tiling with the State Soil Conservation Commission on application for $25,000 in state funds for the Walker Creek Watershed feasibility study.

North Marin Water District Board, which had asked the county agency's approval, will put up $12,500 for the study, and the Marin County Board of Supervisors has approved a county contribution of $12,500.

Foundation offering support if he wished it in either acting or play writing, it was made clear at an earlier appearance before the Adult Authority that he could either practice his new calling as a dental technician or work for the Seven Step Foundation.

Cluchey, however, will not give up his writing entirely. His time when not working on an approved job is his own. Drama he has said, has become "a driving passion although I have never been in a theater, not even to rob one."

Cluchey has chosen to work with Seven Step, a national organization dedicated to the rehabilitation of former prisoners.

Waiting for him at the prison gates Monday will be a Rolls Royce driven by Lee Bart, president of the local chapter of the foundation. He will be driven to the San Francisco Hilton Hotel to be guest of honor at a luncheon attended by former San Quentin Warden Clinton T. Duffy and Bill Sands, founder and national president of Seven Step Foundation.

CAMPUS

inclusion of the Plumas Unified School District in the non-contiguous Marin Junior College District . . . We have no means of determining whether the legislature contemplated the inclusion of a unified school district in a junior college district more than 255 miles away. However, the language used by the legislature is sufficiently clear so as to inhibit a protracted 'hunt for legislative intent'."

Diamond said he probably won't even bring the opinion before a Marin board meeting, though, as it appears Peralta has Plumas all signed up.

Not quite, said Supt. John W. Dunn of Peralta Junior College District, which is now operating two campuses in Oakland, with a third under construction in Alameda and a fourth planned in Berkeley or Albany.

Dunn said a tentative agreement would be put before his board next Tuesday and before the Plumas board Dec. 19. It calls for construction of a campus starting within four years after the annexation, which could not take effect until July 1, 1968. He said Peralta plans a comprehensive junior college in Plumas County.

The annexation will require either a vote or a petition from residents of Plumas, he said, but no vote by Oaklanders. Plumas reportedly already has approved the idea.

Since there wouldn't be enough students in Plumas County, said Dunn, some would be sent from Oakland. "It would be kind of like the Stanford University campus in France, except they wouldn't have to get shots," he said.

Marin students, it appears, will have to keep on attending junior college near home, unless they want to pay tuition.

carried out three massive strikes today against Viet Cong positions.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk began a round of conferences on the Viet Nam war today after again ruling out a prolonged suspension of the bombing of North Viet Nam unless Hanoi indicates it will reciprocate.

"We have told them many times that if they tell us what they've stopped doing, we can consider stopping the bombing," Rusk told newsmen on his arrival from Formosa for a three-day stay.

"We can't stop just half the way. They've got to stop their half of it."

The secretary predicted the Communists will have to talk peace because "they will not be able to succeed" on the battlefield. He said he was "greatly encouraged" by improvements in the situation in Viet Nam. But he added: "I have no indication from the other side that they're interested in moving this problem to the conference table," or were heeding Pope Paul VI's plea for a 45 to 50 day extension of the Christmas truce.

President Johnson said yesterday he would give it "sympathetic consideration." United Nations Secretary General Thant said he agreed with the Pontiff that such an armistice would be a "golden opportunity."

There was no immediate reaction from either North Viet Nam or Communist China. Both countries ignored a similar appeal Pope Paul made when last year's Christmas truce ended.

Meeting Dates To Be Reviewed

Kentfield School District board will consider changes in meeting dates for January, February and March at 8 p.m. Monday at Wolfe Grade School.

The board plans to consider a preliminary budget in January, so an increase in the number of board meetings may be necessary, according to Supt. Anthony G. Bacich.

The board will consider prohibiting use of school facilities for private commercial purposes, and updating of the district policy handbook.

Marin-TV Debuts On College Campus

Marin-TV had its debut yesterday as College of Marin students broadcast their student government election rally on closed-circuit television, using the college's audio-visual equipment.

The $1,500 in television equipment has heretofore been used only for class work, usually in science classes. But the chaos prevailing in the "studio," a room in the student center, had all the authenticity of a professional show.

The show started 17 minutes late, and the sound was too low and rather fuzzy, according to the audience sitting before screens elsewhere in the student center. The show was not broad cast beyond the building.

The main speakers were candidates for student offices to be voted on Monday and Tuesday at the college.

The candidates include Michael M. Kawai of San Rafael, for student body president; Michael Patterson of Novato, for vice president; Penny I. Sievers of Sausalito, for secretary, and Frederick J. Lockett of Kentfield, for treasurer, all running unopposed.

Richard Giovannoli of San Rafael and Clifford J. Zerikotes are running for public relations commissioner. Giovannoli, in his television speech, promised that if elected, the "Controversy' 66" lecture series will continue "no matter how the Independent-Journal feels about it."

Curtis F. Miller of San Rafael and William M. Lockett of Kentfield are running for rallies and assembly commissioner. Harry E. Hersh of Mill Valley is running for athletics and spirit commissioner. James D. Wallace of Novato is running for college center commissioner.

San Rafael High School social studies department. The tapes were removed during the summer of 1965 "for evaluation" and were returned only after long delay.

The third case is "On the Road," which Voydat, after conferring with a faculty committee, ruled off the assignment list for the class.

The CFT contends that in the "On the Road" case there was a breach of contract by the school district. It bases this on the fact that a parent who complained about "On the Road" was not required to fill out the complaint form provided by district policy.

"When procedures are arbitrarily by-passed, the terms of employment have been violated," it says. "In addition, a teacher's choice of materials is a professional choice, and to question it is to question, to some extent, his competence, and thus effectively to imperil his livelihood; this is an exceedingly grave responsibility for the district, which has implicitly endorsed the teacher's competence by hiring him. Futhermore, we would point out that the state, by establishing its credential, has preempted the area of validated teacher competence."

The CFT report claims Voydat acted improperly in the "On the Road" and social studies tapes cases, and says: "Further, Dr. Voydat needlessly impugned the intergrity of the teachers of his district in his suggestions that reprisals against students had been threatened by some teachers." It recommends that the CFT demand dismissal of Voydat.

As to Corona, the report criticizes him for his handling of the "On the Road" complaints and of City Councilman Louis H. Baar's aspersions on some San Rafael High School teachers. It charges he showed "serious lack of understanding of the limits of his office and an equally serious lack of loyalty to the teachers of his district."

As to Mrs. Strom, it says she "has for the past few years, and most notably in the history book list case, taken public and private action inimical not only to academic freedom but to the atmosphere of confidence and candor necessary to the work of the public schools."

It says that "she has betrayed her responsibility as a board member by her failure to distinguish between her duty to the board and her rights as a private citizen" and "has circumvented or ignored adopted policies of complaint."

Says the report:

"We therefore recommend that the California Federation of Teachers work actively in the coming San Rafael School Board election for the defeat of Mrs. Strom."

While working for Mrs. Strom's defeat, however, the CFT apparently will be supporting another San Rafael board member whose term expires and who has indicated he will seek re-election: Chairman Carl J. Brown, who is himself a teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School. The report commends Brown "both for his cooperation with this committee and for his avowed intention of establishing and honoring sound procedures of review of controversial teaching materials."

It also recommends the men who were principals of the two high schools during the inquiry: Alfred N. Thomson and George Yertson. Both were subsequently assigned to Santa Venetia Junior High School at their own requests.

Appended to the report is a form recommended by the National Council of Teachers of English for use in book complaints, which the CFT committee recommends for statewide adoption. It is a simple one-page form. The form adopted (but used only once) by the San Rafael schools is a much longer, more complicated form copied from one devised by the American Library Assn. to discourage those who would purge library shelves of controversial books.

Ten Guide Dogs To Be Presented

During the final graduation ceremonies of 1966 at the Guide Dogs for the Blind tomorrow, 10 trained dogs will be presented to their new masters.

The ceremonies, open to the public, will start at 2:30 p.m. at the school headquarters on Los Ranchitos Road.

Scheduled to receive their dogs are Frank De Herrera of Denver, Colo.; Jim Griffin of Ardmore, Okla., Jerry Langham of Houston, Tex.; Henri Ledeboer of Pacific Grove; Raymond Lesly of Ukiah; Alious Smith of Brentwood; Mary Waddell of San Angelo, Tex.; Mrs. Margaret Richards of Glendale; and Kelvin Carboni and Mrs. Iola Clark, both of San Francisco.

No Meeting Held

The Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission did not meet last night due to lack of quorum. No new meeting date has yet been set.

Rights Group Asks Study On Financing

Members of the Marin County Human Rights Commission last night asked for an exploration of other means of supporting study centers now financed with War on Poverty funds.

There is a good chance that cutbacks in federal spending will bring withdrawal of support, commission executive officer Robert B. Brauer reported.

Commissioners also wanted study of possible expansion of the boundaries of the Marin City Community Services District to give it a workable tax base. Most properties with the present boundaries are tax free.

Commissioners gave approval to a redrafted pre-bid agreement for contractors bidding on the Community Mental Health Center. It calls for the successful bidder to appoint a equal opportunity officer on the company staff to seek qualified minority workers.

The commission agreed that Brauer would be the agent to work with the firm to assure compliance, commission acting secretary Ilys Hernandez reporter.

Commissioners Arthur L. Brown and Rev. John O'Connor were absent.

Violin Institute Leaving Marin

The Violin Institute of California, at 1732 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, is to close and move to San Francisco.

Professor Kolitsch a native of Yugoslavia, came to America in 1923. Since his arrival in Marin County last year he has been embroiled in feuds with critics and musicians in the area, Mrs. Neil Holton, licensee of the institute, announced its closing today in a letter to the Independent-Journal.

Shopping Guide Out Next Week

Results of Marin's first consumer comparative shopping will be distributed next week, said Mrs. Marilyn Gordon of San Anselmo, chairman of RAGE, Residents Against Grocery Expenses.

RAGE, a group of some 70 women which began as a supermarket picketing activity, and grew into a consumers' association, has conducted comparative shopping tests in local stores during the last month.

A public meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Sarah Schickling, 51 Ross Avenue, San Anselmo, has been scheduled when 5,000 copies of the free newsletter will be given out for further distribution.

Boat Sighted, But Not Owner

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Coast Guard helicopter sighted today a 26-foot fishing boat partially sunk off Alameda, but said there was no sign of its owner, Helen Bryant, 27, of Oakland, a diabetic.

Miss Bryant left Alameda Yacht Harbor on a trial run at 1 p.m. Thursday in her 26 foot power boat. She expected to return before 5 p.m. to take an insulin shot. The Coast Guard said she had no insulin aboard.

The Coast Guard was told she planned to go toward Alcatraz Island.

Lenses Stolen

Theft of two camera lenses and a pair of sunglasses in a burglary of the car of Pauline P. Steer, 86 Corte Solano, Greenbrae, was reported by sheriff's officers today. The vehicle, parked on College Avenue, Kentfield, was entered by prying a window.

HARRIET G. EDDY

NAPA (AP) — Harriet G. Eddy, who organized the state's free county libraries and was a professor emeritus at the University of California, is dead at the age of 90.

Miss Eddy died Saturday at the home of friends here and, at her request, there were no funeral services.

She began her professional career as a high school teacher in Montana and in 1906 was appointed principal of the Elk Grove, Calif., high school. In that town she established the first county branch of the State Library.

Three years later she joined the staff of James L. Gillis, California state librarian, and in the next nine years organized libraries in 40 of the state's 58 counties.

Then, in 1918, Miss Eddy became state organizer and professor in the University of California's Agricultural Extension Services. She was with the University from 1918 until 1941, the date of her retirement.

A native of Lexington, Mich., she left no immediate relatives.

JOHN A. DEERR

John A. Deerr, 81, of Mill Valley, died Wednesday in a San Francisco hospital after a brief illness.

A native of Belle Plaine, Iowa, he lived in California for 15 years, the last 10 in Marin County. He resided at 231 East Blithedale Avenue.

He is survived by his wife, Elsie B. Deerr; two sons, George A. Deerr of Anaheim and John K. Deerr of Belle Plaine; two daughters, Mrs. Roy Gordon of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Mrs. Crystal Knosp of Wheaton, Ill., and a brother, Byron C. Deerr of Belle Plaine.

Funeral and burial will be in Belle Plaine. Local arrangements will be by Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

Paris, Moscow Say Viet War Threatens Neighbors

PARIS (AP)—France and the Soviet Union declared today the war in Viet Nam endangers that country's neighbors and is "the principal obstacle to the relaxation of international tensions" and "lasting peaceful relations among numerous countries."

In a joint communique released six hours after Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin flew home after a nine-day state visit, the two governments said they deplored the Viet Nam war as "a situation whose gravity is the result of external intervention."

Although the source of the intervention was not identified, previous statements left no doubt the United States was meant. Kosygin said repeatedly during his visit that America is guilty of aggression in Viet Nam.

"Once again," the communique said, "the two governments note that the operations of war in Viet Nam continue to intensify without letup and that the human and material losses continue to grow."

The war occupied a large part of the conversations between Kosygin and French President Charles de Gaulle, and the joint declaration noted the two governments would continue "to exchange their views on this question."

It said both nations are firm in their attachment to the principles of the U.N. Charter and "were fully resolved" to use all of the U.N.'s possibilities to spare present and future generations "from the calamities of atomic war."

Describing discussions on disarmament and the spread of nuclear weapons, the communique said the two leaders "recognized once more that it was necessary that the powers possessing these weapons discuss the proper means to assure true disarmament."

Air Medal Goes To Marin Pilot

A total of 25 missions over hostile territory in support of ground operations in Viet Nam has earned an Air Medal for Maj. William J. Alich of Mill Valley.

Attached to the Sixth Army Aviation Division, Major Alich received the award in a ceremony at the Presidio of San Francisco.

The citation read in part: "By his determination to accomplish his mission in spite of the hazards inherent in repeated aerial flights over hostile territory, he has brought credit upon himself, his organization and the military service."

He is 34 years old and has spent 14 years in military service. The family home is at 195 Edgewood Avenue.

Council Again Cools Toward Zoning Plan

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Marin County's request to Ross to join in city-county zoning ordinance study got just as cool a reception the second time around before the town council.

"I'm suspicious," said Councilman Roy Farrington Jones. "Any marriage of city and county is something which scares me to death."

County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill made his second appearance before the council to invite members to take part in the county-wide study, aimed at devising a zoning guideline that could be used by the county and its 11 cities.

"Anything in there which would take away anything we now have?" Jones asked Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott. Elliott thought not.

Said Councilman Jordan L. Martinelli Jr.: "I do not admire any part of the county planning department at all.

"I feel sure there is a move afoot at the Civic Center for some sort of super-county government. I do not go for any of it."

Cordill repeated what he said at the Nov. 10 meeting—that no money from Ross was involved and all the county wanted was Ross to think.

The zoning official said, "We think it necessary that we have conversation with you about zoning problems in the county where we all live . . . we all have to pay taxes."

He said the county could discuss with Ross, or with any other community, the ideas and objections of that community. "We will need it," he said.

"I question if we need it," replied Mayor Frederick S. Allen, dryly.

Jones asked if Ross could pull out of the agreement if it wanted to.

"As you have no more obligation under this agreement than to talk," said Cordill, "the best way to terminate the agreement is to stop talking."

Ross Employees Get Yule Present—A Pay Increase

The seven or more employees of Ross got a Christmas present last night in the form of pay raises effective Jan. 1.

The town council adopted recommendations for a new personnel ordinance which will clarify conditions of work and give employees a raising pay scale based on increased efficiency and seniority.

Examples of increased salaries: Police Chief John Harris will go from $667 a month to $821 and Fire Chief A. T. Henrich from $700 to $862.

The recommendations were contained in a report presented by H. Thomas Heershartz of the State Personnel Board.

Employees have yet to approve the new ordinance, but so certain were councilmen of success that they approved the pay raises before the final draft of the ordinance had been drawn.

Said Mayor Frederick S. Allen, "It's a good report and one this town has needed for a good many years."

Because of a hint at inequity if the council insisted one police patrolman live in Ross and the others need not, members changed their minds and said in future no patrolman need live in town limits unless he wants to.

If there was any doubt the employees were satisfied, the town council was sure they were safe.

Mayor Allen announced the presentation of a safety award under the California Cities Employee Safety Contest.

The Ross Town Council Also:

1. Gave Marin Art and Garden Center until the February meeting to come up with a rezoning application for its antique shop, or an explanation why the variance should be continued.
2. Continued to Jan. 12 review of preliminary plans and cost estimates for widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.
3. Approved, subject to conditions, an application by H. C. Youngberg of 71 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard for subdivision of 4.27 acres into two parcels.
4. Reappointed Robert D. Dickson to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District Board.
5. Instructed Town Atty. Robert W. Elliott to draw up ordinance restricting fences on property lines to height of six feet.
6. Adopting an ordinance and resolution establishing 27 no-parking zones.

Elderly Woman Dead; Strangled

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The body of an 81-year-old woman was found in an apartment building elevator here today. Detective Russell Jackson said the woman had been strangled with a stocking.

He declined to say if the woman had been raped.

Police said the body was found by another tennant.

Jackson made no comment as to whether the case could be linked with five rape strangulations of women 50 years old or more which have occurred here in slightly more than a year.

17 Arrested For Murderous Spree

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police have arrested 17 young people in what they call a rampage of senseless violence Wednesday night that included murder, rape, beatings and robbery.

More than a score of officers spent yesterday rounding up suspects and piecing together details.

Detective Sgt. L. G. Neal said a loosely organized gang of 20 to 25 persons in five or six cars ran wild for six hours in what "apparently started out as a thrill sort of thing," beginning about 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Officers cited these as the major incidents:

1. Carloads of youths pulled up at a Gardena taco stand and beat two teen-agers with ax handles and chains.

2. Three youths pulled a young cocktail waitress from a phone booth on Whittier Boulevard and drove her to East Los Angeles and raped her. When she called for help she was pistol whipped. She finally was pushed from the car on Beverly Boulevard.

3. Robert Stewart, 25, standing in front of his house with a girl friend, was robbed of $40 and shot. The girl was robbed of $25. He died yesterday in a hospital.

4. A carload of youths entered an automatic laundry on West 11th Street, beat four men with ax handles, shot one in the leg, robbed the quartet of $90 and fled.

5. Gayle William Munson, 28, was beaten and robbed of $28 at a West Covina service station.

6. Maxino Ibera, 17, a pedestrian, was beaten with bottles, a hammer and a piece of pipe as he walked along Beaudry street.

Los Angeles police and sheriff deputies and officers from El Monte, Baldwin Park and West Covina participated in the roundup.

Five of the 17 arrested were adults. Three of the 12 juveniles were girls. Five juveniles were booked on suspicion of murdering Stewart.

Aberfan Funds Bring Feuding

ABERFAN, Wales (AP)—Sympathizers have sent millions of dollars to help Aberfan since an avalanche of slag killed 116 children and 28 adults Oct. 21, but the money has brought bitterness and quarrels to the town of 5,000.

"People are frightened by the job of administering this fantastic fund," a minister said. "It is too big."

The Aberfan disaster fund totals $3.43 million and may finally approach $6 million.

The fund committee has paid out $336,000, including $5,600 to persons whose homes were destroyed and $560 to parents who had a child in the school crushed by the slag.

Spruce Tree Stolen

Theft of a two-foot spruce tree was reported yesterday to Mill Valley police by Mrs. Mark Roth, owner of the Redwood Book Store, 116 Throckmorton Avenue. The tree, worth $20, was taken from a planter in front of her store, she said.

General Park Out Of Lots In Bel Marin

The Bel Marin Keys Community Service District board voted last night to make a general park out of four lots which were donated to the district by the developer Jack West, for a Little League baseball park.

Plans presented in a rough sketch by William C. Hanson, chairman, showed a sand-lot type ball field with a place for a tennis court, tether ball and other things more generally used by the children.

"It would cost us between $4,000 and $5,000 to make a regulation Little League Park, which would be used only three months per year," said Mrs. Jane Zoeller, secretary. "We could do the other for less cost and it could be used by everyone all during the year."

Roy Hosking, president of the Bel Marin Keys Homeowners Assn., promised help of members in doing the work if the district would buy the materials. He also promised help in cleaning the land, Mrs. Zoeller said.

The board also voted not to charge teen-age and youth groups the $1 rent for the pavilion if they will keep it clean.

O'Gara Appointed To Municipal Bench

SACRAMENTO (AP) — San Francisco attorney Gerald O'Gara has been named by Gov. Brown to replace the governor's brother as a San Francisco municipal court judge.

Pickets Once Again At Abortion Class

It was the mixture as before last night at Marin's second abortion lecture: A large attentive audience inside hearing Patricia Maginnis' frank talk on how and where to get abortions; a militant group of pickets outside.

Nearly 100 people showed up at Star Hall, San Anselmo, for the San Francisco medical laboratory technologist's lecture, reported Mrs. Polly Strand of Corte Madera, who coordinated the series.

Miss Maginnis, longtime opponent of existing abortion laws, covered the same material last week, including methods of self-induced abortions and names and addresses of Mexican doctors who will perform the operations, and at the request of the audience, she also discussed methods of contraception.

After picketing, students went inside to the lecture and asked questions.

"The pickets asked Miss Maginnis what her opinions on Viet Nam were," reported Mrs. Strand. "The questioner inferred we were all a bunch of Communists, and the audience got very annoyed, shouting they were here to discuss a serious question, not to get engaged in a political discussion."

Mrs. Fred Baumsteiger of San Anselmo, who heads MOMI, said today she did not consider picketing activities had attracted more attention to the abortion lectures. The group will picket next week's final lecture, set for Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Star Hall.

Marin's abortion lectures — termed by Miss Maginnis her most successful yet—have attracted national attention. Next week's class will be filmed by the NBC television "Today" program, and photographed by Life magazine.

Today Miss Maginnis was in La Jolla, where she has been invited to give an abortion class by a Quaker church.

Loan Branch Office Approved

Tamalpais Savings and Loan Assn., Corte Madera, has received permission from the California savings and loan commissioner to establish a branch office in El Cerrito.

John Anton, president of the association, said this will be its fourth location and will be adjacent to El Cerrito Plaza, a large shopping center.

Tamalpais Savings and Loan recently announced plans to merge with Fremont Savings and Loan Assn. of Fremont under the new name of Tamalpais-Fremont Savings and Loan Assn. If approved by stockholders and regulatory authorities, headquarters would be in Corte Madera. Tamalpais Savings and Loan also has an office in Palo Alto.

Coeds First For Kaiser Hospital

Two of six students at Dominican College in San Rafael, injured yesterday when their car overturned in Moraga, were scheduled today to become the first patients transferred by the Kaiser Foundation to its newly purchased hospital in San Rafael, formerly Terra Linda Valley Hospital.

Janet Gaudin of Alhambra, Los Angeles County, driver of the car, and Joan Caplis of Santa Ana, Orange County, were reported in good condition this morning in Contra Costa County Hospital, awaiting transfer. Miss Gaudin suffered severe cuts; Miss Caplis a fractured hip.

Formal transfer of the 97-bed hospital to the foundation occurred today.

The other four girls, also 19, were released from Contra Costa County Hospital after treatment. They were Barbara Barry of San Jose, Cynthia Brigandi of Springfield, Va.; Sue O'Hare of Monterey, and Edie Biesheuval of Sacramento.

Meeting Postponed

The meeting of the Marin Highlands Homeowners Assn. in Novato, scheduled last night, was canceled because of the rush of the Christmas season, according to Earl A. Jacobs, president. The meeting will be held on Jan. 12, Jacobs said.

Officer Seating Scheduled Sunday

Woodacre Improvement Club will elect and install 1967 officers after a potluck dinner at the club at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Handmade dolls and other Christmas items will be on display at the club, reported Mrs. Donald Pederson, dinner chairman.

HITS FEDERAL POWER — Michigan's Gov. Romney in a speech last night before the 71st Congress of American Industry of the National Assn. of Manufacturers, meeting in New York, said that "the growing centralization of federal power is not only dwarfing America's men, but it is dwarfing state and local governments." GOP Governors Looking To Major Election Role

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Republican governors, demanding a party role to match their bolstered numbers, went to work today to build an organization that could propel one of them into the GOP presidential nomination.

Their potential leaders were not saying which one — although Michigan's Gov. George Romney clearly is the front runner among them, as he is in the public opinion polls.

Colorado Gov. John A. Love and Rhode Island's John H. Chafee, both seeking the chairmanship of the Republican Governors' Assn., agreed that the 25 GOP state executives should seek to line up behind a single candidate for the White House.

With broad, if not unanimous agreement, Chafee told a joint news conference last night, the governors can control the selection of the party's 1968 candidate.

Also House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, appearing at the meeting, said there would be no dissention between Republicans on Capitol Hill and in the state-houses.

At an afternoon meeting the governors are expected to elect a chairman to succeed retiring Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho.

Planners To Hold Special Meeting

Mill Valley Planning Commission will hold a special meeting tomorrow at 9 a.m. at City Hall to review planned unit development and planned single-family district regulations.

Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon said the review was to consider "combining and expanding the regulations to provide additional incentives for more imaginative design to carry out the goals of our general plan."

Christmas Dinner Tomorrow Night

Kentfield Volunteer Firemen will have their Chhristmas dinner tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the fire station, following an afternoon party for the firemen's children.

Plea Of Guilty On Grand Theft

OAKLAND (AP) — James C. Tooke, Castro Valley tax consultant and the chief witness against former San Francisco tax assessor Russell L. Wolden, has pleaded guilty to charges of bribery and grand theft.

Tooke, who entered his plea yesterday, has given testimony before 12 grand juries in California, one in Seattle and before legislative committees.

Tooke, indicted 15 months ago, admitted before Superior Court Judge Redmond C. Staats of Alameda County that he had given former Alameda County Assessor Donald E. Feragen an $8,455 bribe.

Returns Jury Check

Ralph E. Leighton of 215 Lucas Park Drive, San Rafael, has returned $5.45 in jury duty payment to the county treasury. County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell wrote Leighton thanking him for the rare action.

Backing Given Santa Venetia Flood Zoning

Directors of Gallinas Village Community Services District last night gave support to proposed expansion of the Santa Venetia Flood Control Zone to coincide with limits of the watershed.

Ronald W. Shafer of the flood control zone advisory board told directors that the expansion move, which failed about five years ago, is being revived.

CSD board chairman John Miller had asked Shafer to speak to the board last night on the recent flooding in Gallinas Village. Clogged drains caused high water during rains last weekend.

Morgens Ring of the county public works department said today the expansion move is still in the planning stage. He said he would like to see a vastly expanded zone, perhaps taking in both the Terra Linda and Lucas Valley watersheds.

Santa Venetia residents pay the maximum $1 per $100 assessed valuation flood control tax and have no control over the flood waters draining into their area from higher ground.

Shafer told directors last night that Gallinas Village is "the bottom of the wastebasket," according to the report from Marguerite Clark, district secretary.

Francisco Peccorini was named to serve as board chairman in 1967.

Guilty Plea To Drunken Driving

Rev. Benton S. Gaskell, pastor of the Community Congregational Church in Tiburon, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to drunken driving.

On motion of Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest Zunino, a second count alleging a mixture of drugs and intoxicants, and an alleged prior conviction were dismissed by Judge Peter Allen Smith. The judge scheduled sentencing for 3 p.m. next Thursday.

Rev. Gaskell, 40, who resides on Rock Hill Road, was arrested by sheriff's deputies Nov. 26 after his car struck a stopped car driven by Robert Lewis Hoots, 38, of 720 Hilary Drive, Tiburon, on Rock Hill Road.

Mini-Skirts For Nuclear Rockets

BOSTON (SS)—Shorter skirts for atomic rocket engines will increase payload capacity, according to an Aerojet-General Corp. engineer from Sacramento.

A rocket's skirt is the flared lower portion that forms the gas stream into the widest possible pushing force. Long and wide skirts are both heavy and expensive. D. F. Vanica solves the problem by pushing the hot rocket gas through many separate streams or "nozzles," shaping them in a shorter space.

On a Mars mission using nuclear propulsion, the system could add 40,000 pounds of payload—equal to the weight of five Gemini spacecraft.

College Of Marin's Gain And A Loss

When the Marin Junior College District gained a new trustee last night, it lost an evening instructor at the same time.

When attorney Thomas A. Skornia of Ross joined the board, he decided that he did not want to be his own boss. He asked that he be dropped as instructor of a non-credit adult education course in California Government and Politics to be offered next spring.

In Good Condition

William D. Fusselman, former Marin County supervisor and a columnist for the Independent-Journal, was reported in good condition today in Ross General Hospital following minor surgery.

Replacement Found So College Aide Can Go

Marin Junior College District trustees, who were seeking an administrative assistant in charge of government projects, located one on the college's teaching staff.

Trustees last night appointed Michael P. Hansen, engineering instructor, to the post and accepted the resignation of William Collins effective Dec. 30.

Collins resigned to become assistant in charge of government projects with the new Fremont-Newark Junior College District, of which former College of Marin president Stephen E. Epler is superintendent. When Collins submitted his resignation last month, trustees refused to accept it until a successor had been found.

Last night trustees commended Collins for his work, and Acting President Irwin C. Diamond said that Collins had brought "Significant contributions" to the college.

Hansen will continue his teaching assignment this semester and carry a two-thirds teaching load next semester, while handling his new duties. The board set his salary for both teaching and administrative work at $12,760 a year.

Diamond reported, "It is the opinion of the administrative staff that the government projects assignment is half-time."

The board also approved an application for $428,000 in federal funds towards the college's $3.5 million science building, scheduled for construction next fall.

Trustees also approved an application for $386,000 in federal funds for a planetarium building.

Prior to its regular session the board held a dinner meeting with representatives of the Academic Senate to discuss the quarter system, the optimum size for a campus, and the possibility of rotating division and department chairmen.

Marin Junior College District Board Also:

1. Awarded bids totaling $40,635 for equipment to be purchased under the National Defense Education Act.
2. Hired Rudy Melone, who is in the junior college leadership program at University of California at Berkeley, as half-time administrative intern, starting Jan. 2, at $2,625 for the remainder of the school year.
3. Approved new state regulations regarding the admission, retention and disqualification of students, to become effective next fall.
4. Awarded Joseph DiGiorgio and Son of San Rafael, second low bidder, a contract to construct an addition to the dental assistant building at a cost of $16,750, after a ruling from the county counsel's office. The low bidder, A. and T. Construction Co. of San Francisco, failed to submit a list of subcontractors.
5. Approved change orders in the fine arts building project at a cost of $2,643.
6. Hired Michele Pfeffer as secretary to the district supervisor of construction and plant operations at $410 a month.
7. Approved two new adult education courses for the spring semester, one on organization, management and leadership, and another on California politics and government, to be offered at Terra Linda High School, as exceptions to the district policy on having all non-credit courses on campus.
8. Approved adult education, non-credit courses for the spring semester including the history and appreciation of wine and approved 115 credit classes for the evening college in the spring semester.
9. Agreed to drop the $5 fee for the course on heart disease entitled "Are You Giving Your Heart a Chance?" which will have instructors furnished by the Heart Assn.
10. Authorized advertising for bids for the 1967-68 college catalog, 6,000 copies with an alternate of 7,500 copies.
11. Approved transfer of four physical education classes to adult education.
12. Approved payment of $50 honorariums to Dr. William Dickerson, Ross Hospital psychiatrist, and James Trent, sociologist at the Center for the Study of Higher Education at University of California at Berkeley, who will be consultants in programs for counselors. A federal grant will cover half the cost.
13. Adjourned until Jan. 12, setting Jan. 12 and 26 for January board meetings, and indicated that a special session with the citizens financial advisory committee probably will be called next month.

GOP Council Pledges Support

Directors of Marin Republican Council last night pledged wholehearted support to the incoming administration of Ronald Reagan.

The board also congratulated one of its members, Thomas C. Reed of Ross, on being named Reagan's appointments secretary.

The meeting, held in the San Rafael courthouse, was the first since the Nov. 8 election. President Rogers Broomhead reviewed the council's accomplishments in the recent campaign, which included $3,500 in contributions to statewide candidates and obout $2,000 to help finance Marin's unified GOP headquarters at 1414 Fourth Street, San Rafael. He noted that MRC also played key roles in voter registration and turning out the vote.

Portuguese Trio Captured In Fight

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)— Three Portuguese soldiers were captured and others may have been killed in a clash between Indonesian and Portuguese troops on the mountainous Island of Timor this month, the newspaper Sinar Harapan reported today.

Timor, 300 miles long with about 800,000 inhabitants, lies in the long string of islands stretching east from Java toward West Iran. Its eastern half is Portuguese Timor, the only colonial foothold remaining on an Indonesian island.

Eversharp, Inc., Prop. 16 Backer

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Eversharp, Inc., was a major financial supporter of Prop. 16, the unsuccessful anti - obscenity measure on the Nov. 8 ballot, the Secretary of State's office said yesterday.

A letter from G. W. Humphreys, treasurer of Eversharp in Culver City, said the company paid $185,900 for a newspaper advertising supplement and a radio program.

The company "disclaims any responsibility to file any statement," Humphreys wrote, but filed one anyway. He said the company carries on extensive advertising campaigns that include promotions "deemed to be of public interest."

Fullerton Man New State Chamber Chief

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Arnold O. Beckman, board chairman of Beckman Instruments, Inc., of Fullerton, has been elected 1967 president of the California State Chamber of Commerce.

At a meeting yesterday, the chamber named Beckman, 66, to succeed Joseph A. Moore Jr., president of the Moore Dry Dock Co. of San Francisco.

Junior College Board Buys Newman Club For $50,790

The Marin Junior College District Board last night approved purchase of the Newman Center, 881-885 College Avenue, for $50,790 from the Roman Catholic Welfare Corp. of San Francisco, after long negotiation.

Chairman Robert E. Rogers said the district will pay $25,000 now and the remainder on occupancy. The Newman Club will have to vacate the building by next July 1, he said.

There was confusion last year when the Catholic church purchased the property, the former College Market and a 6,450 square foot lot near Kentfield Corners, from Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Mindle of San Rafael.

The district had been seeking to purchase the land for several months. County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney filed a condemnation notice, but the Mindles did not get a notice of condemnation until after the land was sold. It was later revealed that the church purchased the building and land for $35,000, the same price the district said in its suit it was prepared to pay.

Representatives of the Newman Center said earlier this year they had made improvements worth between $30,000 and $35,000.

Stephen N. Gilardi, president of the Newman Center board, said last night that the confusion last year "was due to lack of communication," but since then there has been cooperation and "a spirit of negotiation that has resulted in a fine solution."

The agreement will work to the benefit of the district, he said. "I think both sides have given a little."

Gilardi said the Newman Club will be seeking public contributions for its new center. Rev. Francis O'Brien center chaplain announced last month that the club purchased the Guasco Super Market on College Avenue, which will be remodeled.

Convicts To Host High School Youth In Test

San Quentin inmates, anxious to warn youth against the shortcuts in life that lead to prison, will meet tomorrow with 70 Marin County high schools boys in the prison's Protestant chapel.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park yesterday gave this reason for the unique experimental program being launched by the inmates:

"Prisoners may be angry at the world, angry at society, but they have a real concern for kids. They have a real strong feeling about keeping kids from making the mistakes they did."

Ten students and two faculty members from seven high schools will meet at 9 a.m. with the Squires, a group of 35 inmates, who organized about six months ago out of a desire to benefit young people.

Shepherd said, "This is an inmate-sponsored program. The staff has given much time to it, but is playing a pretty passive role." Teachers were asked to choose a cross-section of their classes to participate, he said, "but by no means does that mean any of them are delinquents." The minimum age is 17.

Shepherd said the inmates will not be lecturing the students, but, rather, will review the conditions and twisted thinking that brought them at last to San Quentin.

Whether similar meetings are held in the future will depend on the success of this initial experiment, Shepherd said.

Participating schools will be Tamalpais, Redwood, Sir Francis Drake, Marin Catholic, San Rafael, Terra Linda and Novato high schools.

Emergency Phones For Lonely Roads

BOSTON (AP) — The state unit of the American Automobile Assn. wants Massachusetts to install emergency telephones or radio transmitters at every mile along limited-access and divided highways.

Rep. Raymond F. Rourke, a Democrat, filed the proposal for the 1967 Legislature, saying: "Anyone who has been stranded on a lonely, unfamiliar stretch of highway, especially at night, knows it can be a frightening experience."

Retirement Board Picks New Leader

Sidney Stinson was nominated yesterday as chairman of the Marin County Retirement Board for 1967.

Stinson was not at yesterday's board meeting at the Civic Center so nominations were left open to make sure he will accept. The chairman is to be elected at the board's next meeting, Jan. 5.

Present Chairman Marcel Lusinchi said he did not want to serve for a second year.

The Marin County Retirement Board also:

1. Expressed doubt it would be legally possible to switch fireman mechanic Richard Stevenson, 58, to safety member status to allow retirement at age 60, but tabled decision until a report from the county counsel. Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom told the board he is considering naming Stevenson fire warden to fill the post of Kenneth Joseph, burned in the Chileno Valley fire and ordered to retire by his doctor.

2. Learned that the county administrator will probably recommend against the board's request that the pay for nonemployee members of the board be raised from $25 to $50 per meeting. Purpose is to better compensate finance committee chairman John V. Bacigalupi for his work. Others involved, Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Marion Marks, both said they woud not accept the increase.

3. Heard a letter from member Stanley J. Fontez to Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley explaining that retirement can be deferred should Bradley leave county employ. The assistant coroner was an unsuccessful candidate in the election for coroner last June.

4. Agreed to seek legislative change to allow part-time employees, including county doctors, to get full-time credit on retirement eligibility.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Pandora Now Features Dancing Along With Its Steak Dinners

There has been a big change in Pandora — San Anselmo's hillside dinery — during the last few days.

Principal attractions are now steak dinners and dancing. Or dancing and steaks — whichever you consider more important.

Even the change of name to Pandora Steak House gives weight to the new order of service. Owners John Napoli and Ron Mettam have gone far out to popularize the menu and adapt the place to evening entertainment.

Featured billing is given to the complete New York steak dinner set at $3.95. A chicken dinner will be less. Other entrees to be accented are filets steaks. And some of chef Keith Thompson's regular specialties are still available, if you should decide that way.

No more lunches. Dinner service will start at 5:30 and carry on to 11 p.m. Closed Mondays.

Dancing and live entertainment are on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. The party room has been converted into the dance floor, with a raised platform for the entertainers. These will be Dori Green, who has been the featured Pandora pianist on weekends, together with Jimmie Lomba, a sax man formerly with Duke Ellington, and a bass player — name as yet unknown at this writing. But John and Ron are getting a good one. In case you didn't know it, John is a former musician himself and knows how to pick them.

Plenty of parking available, with an attendant on duty. Don't park down below somewhere and walk up. That's not necessary.

NEW DAY CHEF at Rubini's in Fairfax is Karl Scheuerman — who has won so many medals for his outstanding cooking accomplishments you feel like saluting him. Among them is one for top honors in an international contest held in London.

If the rain stops and the creek below Rubini's freezes over he can also exercise another one of his talents — ice sculpturing. Failing that he'll demonstrate at the Village Fair's Christmas festival next Thursday in Sausalito.

IT'S THAT TIME at Tiburon Tommie's again.

Monday night is the night Tommie Cox celebrates his eighth annual celebration from 5 p.m. to midnight. You oldtimers and regulars who know what this means — tell your friends about it, so they can enjoy it, too.

Last year, I'm told, something like 700 people were there during the course of the evening. This year there should be even more — and there's ample room for seating, as long as they don't all come at the same time. The upstairs Destination South Pacific Room is available once more, since the theatrical equipment of the Cove Players is moved out until sometime in January. Three bars, between the upstairs and downstairs.

You might also bear in mind that this room is now open for private parties and banquets over the holidays — subject, of course, to whatever prior reservations have already been received.

CAPTAIN CURRIES at 71 Red Hill Avenue on the San Anselmo stretch of the Miracle Mile doesn't just serve curries, you know. There are other foods to take out. And Dick and Gordon go even further by catering for large or medium parties or buffets and they'll act as consultants on what to serve.

They can cater many more selections in volume business, too, than are represented on their regular drop-by menu. Name it, and I imagine they can prepare it.

Greg and Mary Alyce Seubert have taken on a strolling accordion player. At this point I'm not sure of his name — Walter something, I think. But he's a Bavarian in typical Bavarian costume, from the German American Club. He'll play from 8 to midnight — first in the dining room and then in the lounge and liven up the atmosphere.

A new menu selection here, very appropriate for the holiday season is roast goose, which chef Toni Reitmeier does a masterful job of preparing.

STORM OR NO STORM — I have the utmost respect for the air conditioning at La Petite Auberge, San Rafael. It's simple but effective — a matter of sliding back the roof tarpaulin to let the odors and smoke out and the fresh air in. After hours, if it's raining, of course. Clear weather it can be done any time.

If it should be raining during clean-up time, the tables are pulled back anyway, and the floor gets a mopping. No leaks when they aren't wanted. Apparently even the recent downpours couldn't break through.

La Petite will host the annual meeting of the Society for the Preservation and Protection of Executive Secretaries again this year — next Thursday. And if you think that's a mouthful — you should see what they eat for lunch.

ANSWERING the many queries about Ramona Stallings' plans to have a posadas ceremony again this year — yes, she certainly is considering it — but no, she can't be sure of holding it. If she does it will be a last minute thing — probably Dec. 20, 21 and 22.

But don't count on it too strongly. The music is difficult to play — or remember, and there are not many musicians this side of the border who know it. She's trying.

FIRST PLACE to report its New Year's Eve plans is Chalet Basque in Santa Venetia. Raymond Coscarat was also the first one to go on record with his Thanksgiving plans this season.

Regular dinners on Dec. 31 will be served from 5 to 8 p.m. After that, service will be cut off and the dining room closed until 8:30 or 9 when things are set up for Le Chalet's New Year's eve dinner and party affair. Strictly by reservation. And Raymond has set a maximum of 30 couples for this, so make your reservations early.

Entire evening is priced at $25 per couple for dinner, favors, music and dancing, champagne cocktails, wine or champagne with dinner — at your choice and discretion. Nothing else to pay but a tip for the waitress.

Chef Bernard Epstein's dinner menu calls for a choice of four entrees: Canard a l'Orange, beef brochette, tournedos Rossini or braised rack of lamb for two. All the accessories, of course.

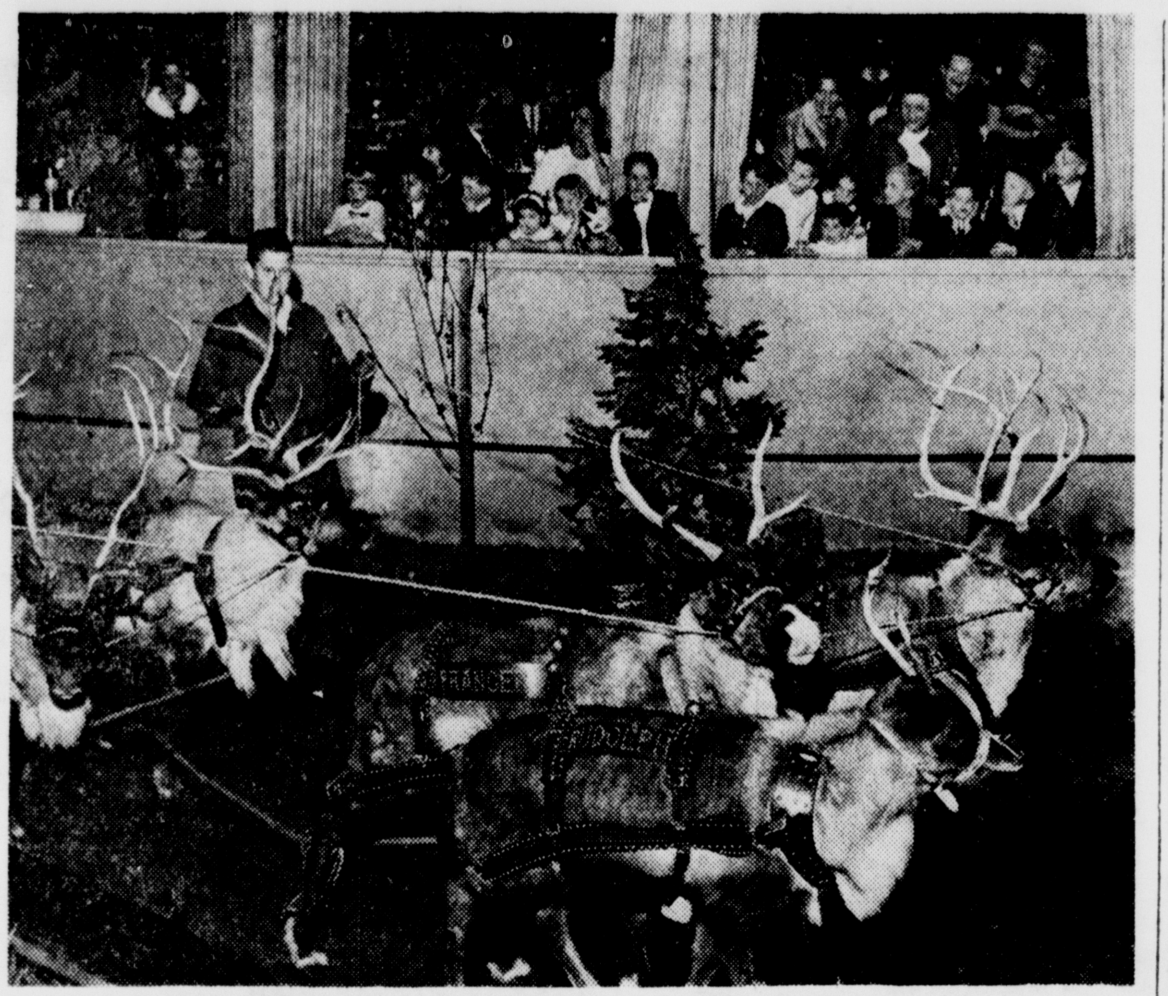
For music, Raymond expects to have an accordionist and someone on drums. It should be a gala evening — and a Saturday night, at that.

THE JACK DAHL TRIO (Jack and June Dahl and Al Winterhalter) has moved from Black Point Inn to Rancho Rafael in Ignacio and you'll find these merrie makers of music there for dancing Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

I understand the Rancho's dining room is open for dinners, but not lunches. Food service is being handled by Bobbie Tresslar.

FAST, FAST WORK. No sooner had last Friday's column remark about North Carolina not being represented on Tiburon Lodge's register come under scrutiny and evaluation — than presto! Things began to happen. The following day that state contributed a winsome little blonde by the name of Pat Baxter from the town of Asheville.

As far as I know she may still be there — a member of the Holiday Magic Cosmetic group gathered from various parts of the U. S. That was either quick action on the part of the San Rafael beauty aid manufacturer (which expects to bring in a larger group in January) — or else the governor of North Carolina had something to do with it. Or maybe just the power of the press?



SEASONAL VISITORS AT SABELLA'S

Santa Claus and his reindeer will make their annual visit at Sabella's restaurant on Monday night, Dec. 12 and there will be two dinner periods for youngsters and their parents to witness the spectacle. In this photograph, taken at last year's Christmas dinner, Santa's team was too long to get him in the picture, along with the rapt faces at the dining room windows.

Urban League Plan Opposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State plans to channel job help for all minority groups through the Urban League has drawn opposition from a Mexican-American group in Sacramento.

The Concilio della Communidad, which spokesman called an "umbrella organization" representing numerous Mexican-American groups, said the Urban League was "Negro oriented and controlled."

It called for the State Employment Department to deal directly with Mexican-American organizations in seeking to fill vacant jobs with minority workers.

Greyhound Claims Wolf At Door In Maintaining Commuter Buses

By DAVID DIETZ

Rapid transit in Marin County is a long, lurching ride in a bus built when Hillary took Mount Everest and kept running by commuter rates that could nearly pay your way to Los Angeles by jet.

Through it all, the Greyhound Bus Co., which carries 11,000 commuters daily into San Francisco, maintains it is losing $250,000 a year on the operation, and cannot afford new equipment.

But renewed cries for a rapid transit system in the county are heard. Increasing numbers of commuters are shunning the buses for the family auto, clogging Highway 101 from San Rafael to the Golden Gate Bridge.

Taking the car is probably worse.

"This morning it took me 56 minutes to get from my home in Ross to the toll plaza at the bridge," R. H. Ballard, sales manager for a San Francisco electronics firm, wailed in a recent letter to Marin's supervisors. "Traffic was bumper-to-bumper and my car was never out of second gear until I reached the middle of the tunnel at the top of Waldo Grade."

The solution to Marin's traffic chaos may lie in numerous studies begun by Bay Area transit agencies. One, authorized by the Marin County Transit District Board, has investigated the possibility of improving bus service, and is due for release Dec. 19.

While authorities generally agree that better bus service is the most pressing need, they claim long-range plans for rail transit or a new bridge are required to ease traffic expected in a projected population swell.

To modernize the bus operations, Thomas D. Hardcastle, Marin director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District Board, proposes subsidies from bridge revenues, more than half of which are paid by county residents.

Estimates say such service would attract at least 4,000 more customers. Besides new buses, it would provide convenient schedules, bus stops, parking areas, and perhaps lower rates.

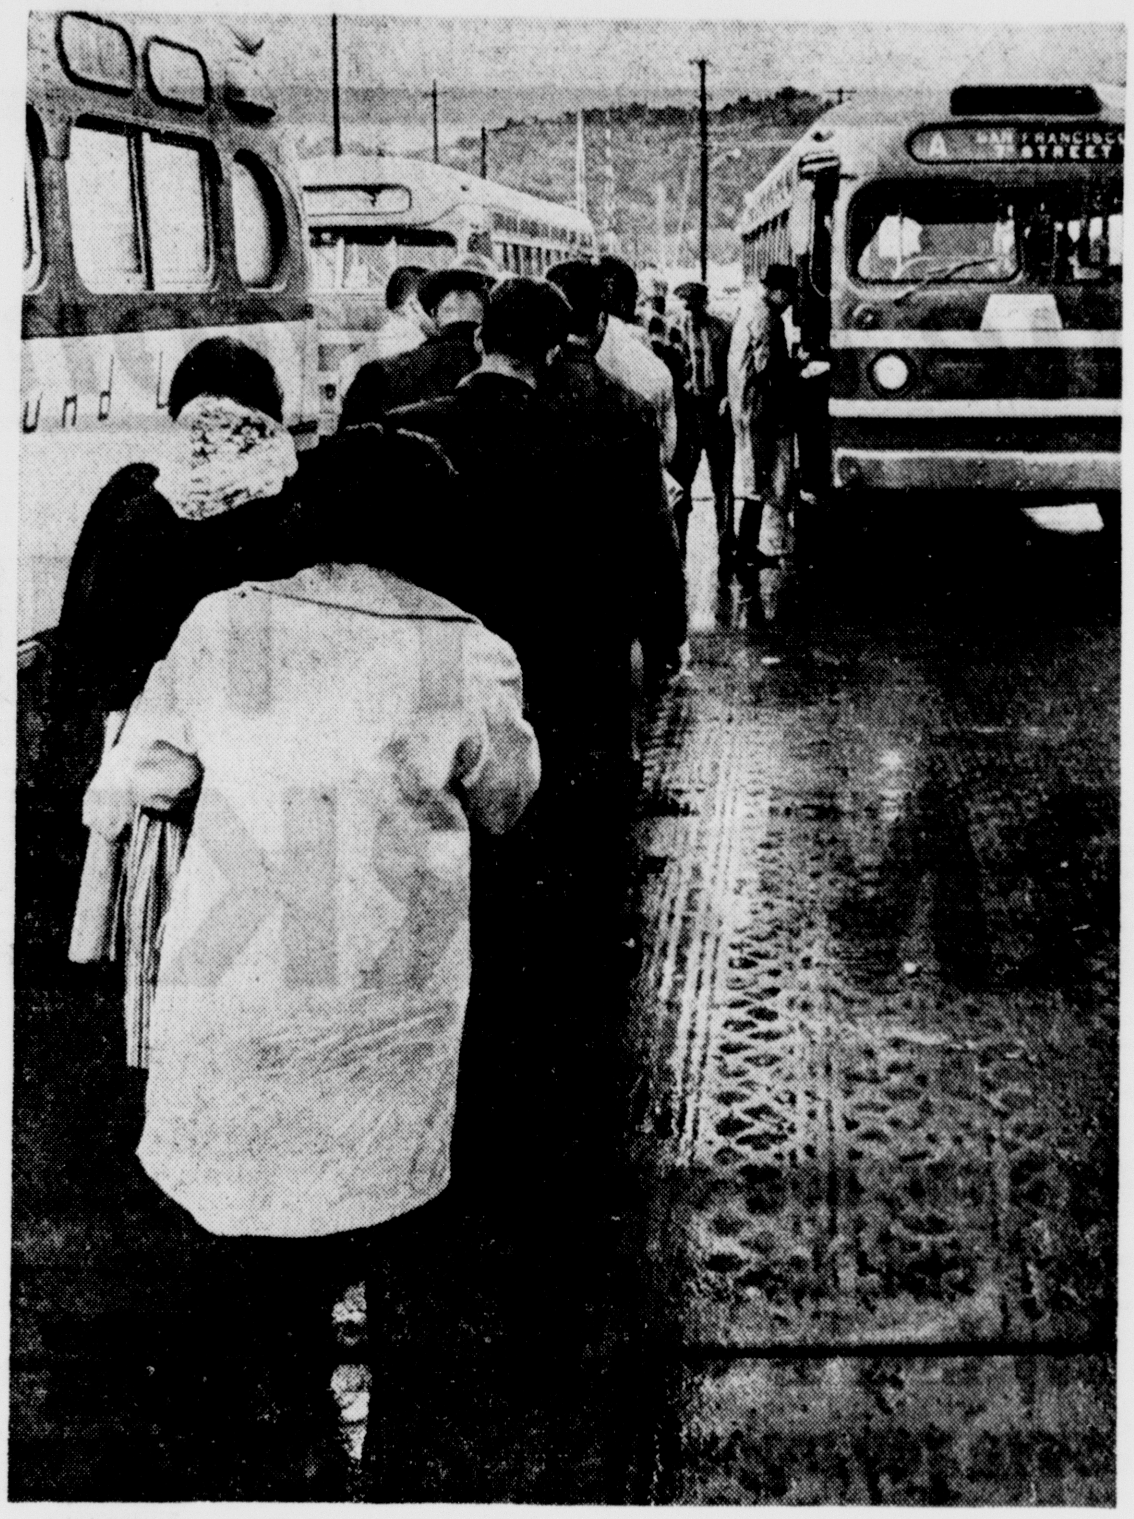
Meanwhile, Greyhound riders face deteriorating facilities amid the crush of traffic.

Many buses are old and uncomfortable. Some riders complain of restrictive scheduling, making it necessary for them to rise at an early hour to get to the city. Others have to wait in the rain for a lack of bus shelters.

Rates are spiraling, and will go higher if the State Public Utilities Commission approves a 7 per cent across-the-board increase asked by the company after striking drivers and station employees won a higher contract last summer.

A check of current rates for a 20-day commutation book from various Marin points to San Francisco shows: Novato, $12.25; San Rafael, $10; Corte Madera, $9; Mill Valley, $8.50, and Sausalito, $6.30.

With increased traffic, rush hour running times are longer, too. It now takes about an hour and 15 minutes from Novato to San Francisco, about 50 minutes from San Rafael, and a half-hour from Sausalito.



SLOWER SERVICE; LONGER LINE-UPS — Marin's commuters continue to depend on buses, many of them outmoded, that take longer and longer to reach San Francisco. And the lines waiting for them grow longer and longer, as this photo during the morning commute at the San Rafael bus depot indicates.

'Junior Miss' Contest Set Tomorrow Night At Novato

Marin County's "Junior Miss" will be selected at the Junior Miss Pageant at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Novato Community House.

Nanette Baget, last year's Junior Miss, will crown her successor.

The winner will go to the state contest in Garden Grove, and if successful there on to the national contest. All are sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The local winner will also receive a $400 scholarship. First runner-up will receive $200, and the second runner-up, $100.

Rufus C. Read, Hill Junior High School teacher, will be master of ceremonies.

Brain Function Ideas Revised

WASHINGTON (SS)—The motor cortex, major center in the brain for all skilled, voluntary movements, is a more elementary structure than anyone has suspected, according to new evidence. It's more like manual steering than power steering, says a doctor studying it.

Rather than guiding movement, the motor cortex determines only how much force will be applied, reported Dr. Edward V. Evarts of the National Institute of Mental Health in Bethesda, Md. Messages in the motor cortex are coded in terms of force, which means the guidance system is probably located in higher brain centers.

Dr. Evarts reported his research to an international conference of neurophysiologists at Columbia University in New York. It has important implications for restoring the use of paralyzed muscles.

Annexation Before Mill Valley Board

Proposed annexation to Sausalito School District of the west side of Tennessee Valley, now split by the Sausalito and Mill Valley districts, is slated for a vote Monday by Mill Valley trustees when they meet at 8 p.m. at 26 Miller Avenue.

Under discussion for 10 years, the proposal was made by Sausalito trustees to improve the racial balance in their district and to avoid duplication of facilities in the valley.

Also on the agenda is review of the tentative budget for 1967-68. The tentative budget total is $2,203,575, including a $15,560 deficit.

Trustees are to discuss procedures to select a superintendent to replace G. R. McConnell, who will leave the district next June 30.

The Cave Ponies

LYNEMOUTH, England (UPI)—The life of some of the pit ponies in England's coal mines often is a long and dark one. Recently when a smoky mine fire here required the surfacing of 79 pit ponies, it was disclosed that some of them — their ages ran from 4 to 26 years —had never before been above ground.

Fund Collection To Be Reviewed

The San Rafael Board of Education will review policy on fund solicitation in schools at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Administration Building, Third and E streets.

The review was prompted by a request last month from the Marin Chapter of the March of Dimes to conduct its campaign in the schools.

The board is scheduled to hear a report on the costs of various educational programs. It also will receive the resignation of Mrs. Diane Lindquist, teacher at Glenwood School, effective Jan. 27, because of a change of residence.

North Marin Shows Subdivision Decline

A decrease in new subdivisions and the annexation of an area in West Marin were among the most important developments in the past year in the North Marin Water District, according to the annual report prepared by Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

Although there was a decrease in new subdivisions, there was an increase in the new service connections in homes already constructed, Gilbert reported. The district added 878 new customers.

Original plan for annexation of 35 square miles of West Marin was reduced to 10.3 square miles. This area was annexed and a study of its water and sewer service is now under way.

Consumption of water from the Russian River and Stafford Reservoir is running close to predictions, Gilbert reported. However, the cost of Russian River water has not decreased as much as predicted.

Water loss this year was 6.3 per cent, or two per cent lower than it was last year, Gilbert said. In past years, the district has had up to 21 per cent loss in water. An average for loss across the country is 10 per cent, according to the report.

Work in relocation for street improvement and bridge projects cost the district $9,900 during the year.

No-Contest Plea In Tax Arraignment

George W. Prydz, city treasurer of San Anselmo, yesterday pleaded no-contest to four misdemeanor counts in Marin Municipal Court of failure to file state income tax.

Probation report and judgment of Prydz, who appeared without an attorney for arraignment and the pleas, were scheduled by Judge Peter Allen Smith for 3 p.m. Jan. 5.

Prydz, of 20 Woodland Avenue, San Anselmo, failed to pay $69.10, plus $51.83 in delinquency and fraud penalties for 1962; a total of $124.94 in tax and penalties for 1963; $214.05 for 1964; and $124.79 for 1965.

The complaint against Prydz, a public accountant twice elected to the part-time city treasurer job, was signed in the district attorney's office by an investigator for the State Franchise Tax Board.

Maximum penalty would be a $1,000 fine and/or a year in county jail. He is free on his own recognizance.

Robin Joining Alimony Set

Burt Ward, 20, who plays Robin in the television series, agreed yesterday in Santa Monica, Calif., to pay his wife Bonney alimony and child support.

Mrs. Ward filed suit for divorce last Nov. 17 on the grounds of mental cruelty. The couple, married for 19 months, has a daughter, Lisa, three months.

Sewage Dumping Into Sea Making Ocean A Cesspool

James Donlon, secretary of the Ocean Fish Protective Assn., said sewage in the ocean has depleted kelp beds in Santa Monica Bay, depriving marine life of food and shelter.

Board member Ed Schiesel said Donlon was uncertain of the facts, Schiesel drew a negative response when he asked Donlon whether he knew of game fish depletion offshore from Ventura County.

The board is taking testimony before prescribing standards and policy for water quality control.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

The popular "Profile of a Marinite" series returns to the Independent-Journal's Marin Magazine tomorrow. The subject—Felice Guasco, dean of Marin County's grocers. I-J business writer Harry Craft has written the story of the man who is still busily at work in the retail business he founded 42 years ago. But he is also finding time, at age 72, for his hobby of flower gardening.

Marin County has been home to many enterprising and creative people who have launched small businesses on their own. One such is Magda Cregg, whose Magda Designs operates out of her Marin City home. From it comes garments in leather, especially designed and created for the young college crowd. It is still a small business—but a growing one. And an interesting one, as you will learn from tomorrow's I-J magazine.

CHRISTMAS GREENS SALE OPENS

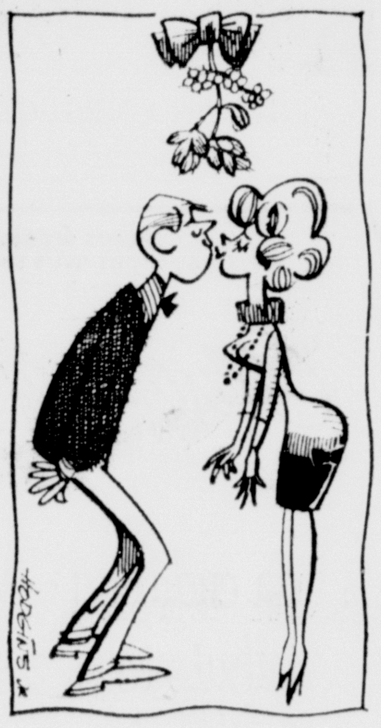
Kissing Under The Mistletoe Began With Ancient Romans—



You decorate your home with holly and sneak kisses under the mistletoe . . . take it for granted that Christmas was always celebrated on Dec. 25 . . . and even if you're past believing in Santa Claus, expect to see him drawn and painted as a jolly, bearded old elf. But did you ever stop to think of why you do these things?

We've raised some fascinating questions about the holiday—and provided answers that should tell you a lot about Yuletide customs and traditions.

1. How about your Christmas decorations? Know why we kiss under the mistletoe . . . who was first to use holly in December . . . what holly symbolizes to Christians . . . from which country the poinsettia came . . . how the cherry tree figures in Yule lore?

Kissing under the mistletoe is said to have begun with the ancient Romans, who viewed the plant as a symbol of peace. Enemies, meeting under the mistletoe, were supposed to embrace and declare a truce. The Romans were also first to use holly—at their December Saturnalia festival. But Christians also find holly appropriate because they see in it the symbolism of Christ's blood (the red berries) and His crown of thorns.

The poinsettia, another holiday bloom, comes from Mexico. Joel Poinsett, first American Minister to Mexico, brought it here in 1836. The cherry tree, according to the well-known "Cherry Tree Carol," bent its boughs so that the Virgin Mary could pluck its fruit.

2. Which settlers brought Santa Claus to the New World, and which three men created today's popular image of Santa Claus? Can you name his real-life prototype?

The Dutch brought San Nicholas (Sinter Klass for short) to the New World; later his name became Americanized to Santa Claus. Author Washington Irving first described Santa as riding through the skies in a reindeer-drawn sleigh.

Clement C. Moore described Santa as fat and jolly, with a snowy beard, in his famous poem "A Visit From St. Nicholas." Cartoonist Thomas Nast drew him that way. Santa's prototype, the real St. Nicholas, was a fourth century Turkish bishop who became a legend in his own lifetime for his generosity and his love of children.

3. How has the organ contributed to the music of Christmas?

The organ has been used in church worship and Christmas song since 450 A.D. (Spain was first to use it for Christian worship.) One of the greatest Christmas traditions, Handel's "The Messiah," is customarily sung with organ accompaniment; another classic Christmas composition, "Silent Night," was the work of Austrian church organist Franz Gruber. In recent years, organs have grown increasingly popular for the home as well as the church, and carol singing parties are a favorite holiday entertainment.

4. Christmas dates are the subject of this one. Who fixed the date of Christmas on Dec. mas first declared a legal holi- 25? In what century was Christ- day? Which Americans made it a crime to celebrate Christmas? When is Epiphany, and how does it fit into the Christmas calendar?

Pope Julius fixed the Dec. 25 date, about the year 349 A.D. Two years later, after agreement on this date had been reached among church officials (some had favored fixing the Savior's birthday in January or March), Julius decreed that Christmas should thenceforth be celebrated on Dec. 25. In the sixth century A.D.—the year 543, to be exact — Christmas was made a legal holiday in Rome. But 100 years before that, the Roman government had required all theaters to close on Christmas Day. The Puritans, on the other hand, passed a Massachusetts law in 1659 making it a penal offense to celebrate Christmas.

As for Epiphany, it occurs on Jan. 6 and marks three events in the life of Jesus: His baptism, the visit of the Wise to Bethlehem and the miracle at Cana.

'SANTO NAVIDAD' AT FANJEAUX

For its traditional Christmas tea at Fanjeaux Hall on the Dominican College campus yesterday the Social Service Auxiliary of Marin used a south of the border theme and Mexican decorations. Here the college madrigal singers entertain as tea is served. Mrs. Vernon Stanford was chairman. Robert Huber of Mill Valley played the role of Santa Claus for the party.

Marin General Groups Plan Film Benefit—'Grand Prix'

Mrs. William Murray Jr. of San Rafael has been named chairman for the Marin General Hospital film benefit "Grand Prix" to be held on Jan. 26 at the Golden Gate Theater in San Francisco. A pre-theater dinner will precede at 6 p.m. at the St. Francis Yacht Club.

The event marks the first time that all volunteers, Pink Ladies and branch members have joined to work on one project.

Mrs. Connie Carpou is chairman of the theater and film committee assisted by Mesdames Ray Ferrari, Rodney Hartman, Finimore Cady, Thomas C. McNally III, A. L. Maysonave, and Owen Merritt.

Chairman of the ticket and reservation committee is Mrs. Philip Cancellier and Mesdames Allan Gilman, Philip Crane Sr., James Levorsen, David Dawson, George Bill and Owen Merritt.

Mrs. Allan Larkins Jr. is chairman of the pre-theater dinner committee assisted by Mesdames Russel Chatham, Robert Schultz, Thomas Behrens, George Shelby, Lyle Hastings and Edwin Hurt.

Mrs. Thomas Guerin in chairman of the program committee. Members are Mesdames Donald Blinco, Kenneth Ackerman, Howard Burns, William Steen, Leroy French, Carl Brimmekamp and Anne Wisler.

High School Girls Help Spread Cheer

Girls of Marin Catholic High School will help spread Christmas cheer at Sonoma State Hospital by giving a party at Hatch Cottage on Dec. 18 from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

The 20 girls are wrapping presents donated by Marin merchants for the 60 patients in Hatch Cottage who range from age 18 to 70, and Rich Woodall, a Marin Catholic senior, as Santa Claus will distribute them. Skits will be performed and carols will be sung accompanied by Chris McRee on his trombone.

Others helping with the party are the Homestead-Almonte Girl Scout troop under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Gay Jr., who are making Christmas tree mobiles, and the Boy Scout troop at Our Lady of Mount Carmel School in Mill Valley, whose members are making favors under the direction of Sister Theresa Ann.

The party under the chairmanship of Stephanie Rainsford is sponsored by the Sodality at Marin Catholic High School and Marin Aid to Retarded Children, which provides refreshments, transportation and other necessary arrangements. Mrs. John McRee of Mill Valley is chairman for this MARC activity.

They were started seven years ago by Mrs. Joseph Nannery and her daughter Carol of Mill Valley with the help of Mrs. Carole Quilick and Wanda Jones. As many as 40 teen-agers give up their Sundays to go to Sonoma.

Junior League Fashion Show Set At Fairmont On March 1

Two important changes have been announced for the 32nd annual luncheon and fashion show of the Junior League of San Francisco Inc. First, the date will be later than usual—March 1—more beneficial for its unusual theme, announces the chairman, Mrs. Kirk Frederick of San Rafael.

Also, the benefit's locale has been changed to the grand ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel. The past few years it was held at the Hilton ballroom and for many years before that was given at the Garden Court at the Palace, which it finally outgrew.

Assisting Mrs. Frederick on plans for the gala are two other Junior League members from Marin, Mrs. Thomas Dorst of Tiburon and Mrs. Lee Gammill of Mill Valley.

Mrs. V. Neil Fulton of Kentfield is secretary and Mrs. Frank Barsocchini, also of Kentfield, is coordinator of plans for the several children who will be in the show.

Other Marin members of the committee are Mesdames William Hickman of Greenbrae; Leonard Weisenburg of San Rafael; Laurence Symmes of Mill Valley; Gordon Dohemann of San Rafael and Richard Otter of Sausalito.

WOMEN'S NEWS PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen who are interested in getting news into the Marin Women's Society Section of the Independent - Journal is now available in the San Rafael, Mill Valley, Tiburon and Novato offices of the newspaper.

The booklet "Getting News Into Your Newspaper" is to assist press chairmen for Marin women's organizations.

Features in the guide tell how to handle stories and picture requests.

By HELEN BOTTEL

Something Missing In Marriage—No Jokes Over Supper Dishes

DEAR HELEN:

There's something missing in my marriage. I don't expect it to be an idyll, or even the romantic candle-glow of courtship, but I hoped for companionship, a shared joke over the supper dishes, a compliment now and then, mutual appreciation.

Tim and I went to school together, dated for three years before we were married. I don't mind telling you I was glad to get away from an alcoholic home where there was constant fighting and tongue lashings. But we loved each other — he wasn't an "escape."

Maybe I'm difficult to get along with, a little selfish and self-pitying. But is it right that we must always watch Tim's TV programs; regulate the furnace to suit his warm blood, even when I have a cold; go where he wants to go; spend what he wants to spend — while I do all the housework and also hold down a full-time job?

Even these wouldn't be so bad if he would show me he loves me. I'm told off when things I do aren't right, but never appreciated, never praised. He leaves his shorts on the floor, shirt on the door knob, shoes under the couch, then complains when the house is a mess. The only things he does for me are take the clothes to the laundromat on Saturdays, and empty the garbage under protest. He never brings me gifts. Honest, I'd settle for a bunch of ragweed — presented with a smile and a hug.

I'm really appreciated at my office, and there's one man (married) who shows more than appreciation. So far I've avoided him, but sometimes I want so badly to be noticed, I'm tempted. — WHAT TO DO

DEAR WHAT:

You've described an all too typical case of "marriage drift." While your undemonstrative husband may have started it, I'll bet you haven't done much to change the course.

Have you perhaps traded hurt for hurt and slight for slight until each knows in advance how the other will react and just where the next wound will fester most?

When is the last time you brought Tim an unexpected present or gave him a compliment instead of a self-pitying sigh? Sometimes a woman must show twice as much appreciation to see half as much in return — but it's usually there and smart little wives learn to recognize it without words.

Before your marriage drifts on the rocks you should let a counselor tell you these things, or change the current yourselves with the kind of pillow talk that leads to understanding, not fights. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

My daughter has petit mal (mild epilepsy) which is almost under control. But she has no friends, boy or girl. It seems when people learn of her condition they drift away as if there was something to fear. She is 21.

Are there any clubs for handicapped people like herself, so that she won't be so alone? — MRS. T.

DEAR MRS. T.:

The Epilepsy Foundation in your town can direct you to clubs for "handicapped" people, but your daughter should volunteer as a helper rather than enroll. Petit mal, almost under control, is not a handicap unless she sees it as one. With modern drugs, it could go unnoticed by most.

Has she considered a YWCA charm course, night school, social clubs, church and, most of all, counseling therapy? I'm sure one or more of these can prove people will accept her — if she'll let them. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you are having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help You. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of The Independent-Journal.

ANTITOXIC

Safe Check List For Toy Shoppers

Toys aren't always for tots.

A toy suitable for a ten-year-old may be potentially dangerous for a four-year-old child, according to Dr. Albert H. Domm, child safety authority.

Toys which propel objects, operate electrically or have detachable parts can be hazardous for most age groups, he said.

To help have an accident-free Christmas, Dr. Domm recommends that toy shoppers keep in mind the following check list:

1. Does the toy have chemicals that may explode or poison?
2. Is the toy inflammable?
3. Is the finish on the toy labeled "antitoxic"?
4. Does the toy use electricity, batteries or flame which may shock, ignite, or burn?
5. Does the toy have sharp or jagged edges that could cut and injure?
6. Does the toy have removable parts that might be swallowed and cause strangulation?
7. Is the toy too heavy for a child to lift without injuring himself?

AFTER YULETIDE PROGRAM

The tea table was popular after the Christmas program, "At the Beginning," with narration and vocal presentations, was given for the Women's Assn. of the First United Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo yesterday at the church. New officers were also installed. From left are Mrs. Thomas N. Edwards, Mrs. John Holm, new president; Dr. Henry Kuizenga of the church, and Mrs. John Elliott, new vice president. Mrs. Holm is an ordained deacon of the church.

Judy Annes Will Marry Next June

JUDY ANNES of Fairfax will become the bride of William Stewart Collins of Corte Madera in a ceremony on June 24 at St. John's Church in Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Annes of Fairfax are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Judy, to William Stewart Collins of Corte Madera.

The bride-elect was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is a senior at the University of Oregon. She is the sister of Mary Annes of Fairfax and Mrs. Russell Findlay of Milwaukie, Ore. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Noem of San Francisco are her grandparents.

The future bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Collins of Corte Madera, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High and is attending College of Marin. Mrs. James Marshall of Ft. Worth, Tex., is his sister.

The wedding will take place on June 24 at St. John's Church in Ross.

Hostesses Reveal Tips On How To Survive During Holidays

Even when the whole family helps, holidays are hard on today's hostess. In addition to her usual jobs of housework and family shopping, she must shop for gifts and cards, plan special menus, bake holiday cakes and cookies, and prepare for both invited and unexpected guests.

Yet some women breeze merrily through these activities and still manage to be fresh and delightful companions when husband returns from work. To learn how they revive themselves, an aspirin company conducted a spot check across the country, and came up with some interesting answers that may benefit others.

ONE OKLAHOMA MOTHER of three says she plans each day in writing during the holidays. She also pencils in home and shopping chores for each member of the family. Into every day's schedule goes 30 minutes "self-time" in which she rests, showers, changes clothes and redoes her makeup.

In Southern California, where summer-like heat accompanies hectic Christmas activities, the mother of two teen-age girls has a "slow-down" time set each day. She spreads Christmas shopping over several weeks, never spending more than two hours at it each day. Back home, she begins dinner, then slows down with simple yoga exercises. This is followed by a dip in the family pool that leaves her relaxed and refreshed.

According to one New Hampshire housewife, every Christmas shopping trip used to end in fatigue. Now she combats this by taking two aspirin tablets on returning home, then has a leisurely soak in a warm bath for fifteen minutes. Afterwards, she is ready to join her family in planning other holiday activities.

Christmas and New Year's are exciting, festive occasions for friends to gather and visit. But with all the extra work, every woman owes it to herself and family to be mentally and physically rested. The best way is to find the "revival" secret that works best for you.

YOUNG MONSTER — This is a scene form "Let's Kill Uncle," the co-feature to "Beau Geste," which is currently playing at the Rafael Theater. It stars Nigel Green of the "Ipcress File," fame.

MARIN FILM FARE

'Beau Geste' Back On Screen For Third Time In 40 Years

BY LESLIE DARD

The season's bright and so is the film fare at the Marin theaters which are still open.

RAFAEL THEATER

For the third time in 40 years the famous "Beau Geste" has been shot for the big screen. This trip the cast includes Guy Stockwell in the title role, Telly Savalas and Doug McClure.

The story line is basically the same, if a little heftier on the action side. A sadistic but fiercely capable sergeant (Savalas) in the Foreign Legion receives an anaymous letter threatening his life. As being hated by the men is nothing new, the letter doesn't phase him, but he suspects new recruit Geste and he and his younger brother with unrelieved cruelty.

Soon enough a company of the men is planning a group mutiny and the sergeant's murder, but when the fort is attacked suddenly he is spared to lead the defense. Wave after wave of murdering Taureg tribesmen sweep down on the outpost, killing all the defenders but Stockwell and the brutally brave sergeant.

Action, photography and performances are excellent. Good escapism, and an interesting base for examining the development of cinematic techniques and attitudes.

101 DRIVE-IN

Katherine Anne Porter's epic novel "Ship of Fools" has been transformed into an equally engrossing and slightly less complex cinematic masterpiece by producer-director Stanley Kramer.

This is a film of immense scope, with an international cast suited to the task it imposes. Included are Simone Signoret, Jose Ferrer, Heinz Ruemann, Oskar Werner, Lee Marvin, Vivian Leigh, Charles Korvin, Elizabeth Ashley, George Segal and Michael Dunn.

NOVATO THEATER and TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Back with us at both theaters is the powerful "Guns of Navarone."

This most exciting war film tells about a group of six commandos assigned to wipe out two huge Nazi guns buried in a seacliff of the Greek Island of Navarone.

Gregory Peck leads the group, which includes Anthony Quinn David Niven, Stanley Baker, Anthony Quayle and James Darren.

MOTOR MOVIES

Hollywood nearly staged World War II over again to bring us "The Longest Day," now in a return run here, a re-enactment of the Normandy invasion of June 6, 1944.

The gigantic military operation is examined from four points of view — the workings of the high commands of the English, American, French and German forces.

Alcohol Has Effects Like Radiation

WASHINGTON (SS) — Alcohol can produce more than one kind of aberration. The man who sees pink elephants may also be exposing himself to the same hazards faced by those exposed to the atomic bomb.

And if he really wants to live dangerously, Irish coffee is just the thing, for coffee and alcohol are synergists, that is, mixed together, they are several times more potent than when used alone.

Michigan scientists, studying the radiomimetic effects of beverages, drugs and insecticides, were surprised to find that alcohol can cause the same biological changes as radiation when tested on onion root tips, a simple testing technique in use since 1951. "A concentration of only 0.25 per cent, the alcohol level in the blood of an intoxicated person, was as potent as exposing the root tips to 10 roentgens per day of chronic gamma radiation.

"If alcohol is equally radiomimetic for human chromosomes, the consumption of one ounce of alcohol per day would be equivalent to 1 r/week of ionizing radiation, 100 times the Atomic Energy Commission's maximum permissible dose for the general public," Drs. Karl and Hally Sax of the Cranbrook Institute of Science said.

New Fertility Drug Offers Less Hazard

WASHINGTON (SS) — A new fertility drug that enables previously barren women to have children reportedly does not present complications of multiple births that often attend fertility therapy.

Doctors at New York's Mount Sinai Hospital said tests with the drug, Clomid, have been encouraging. The Food and Drug Administration has issued an "approval letter," signifying a green light on all but minor considerations. The manufacturer, William S. Merrell Co., would not say when the drug might be marketed.

Festival Theater Announces Schedule

Five major events which will make up the 1967 subscription season of Festival Theater in San Anselmo were announced today.

The theater, only professional resident company in Northern California which maintains a year-around performance schedule, will open the new season on Jan. 6 with a production of Leonard Bernstein's "Trouble in Tahiti" and Mark Bucci's "Tale for a Deaf Ear," two contemporary short operas by prize-winning American composers. They will have a nine-performance run at the theater at 2 Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

Second event, opening in late February, will be the first West Coast production of Robert Lowell's trilogy, "The Old Glory," which received five off-Broadway awards for its New York season. Robert Adler, the Festival Theater's associate artistic director, will direct this.

Third event will be the first production of a new play by Norman Corwin, "Overkill and Megalove."

The summer production will again be a "usual unusual" musical, according to Elizabeth Berryhill, Festival Theater producer.

As the fifth event, the theater, under a grant from the San Francisco Foundation, will bring Dr. Josef Koenigsmark from Prague, Czechoslovakia, to conduct a workshop experiment with "cinefusion" — new technique concerned with merging and juxtaposition of filmed images and live action.

Also, Festival Theater will cooperate in the College of Marin's 1967 opera scene program.

Radio Fans Give Guide Dogs Cash

A group of long-distance radio listeners will hand over a check Saturday to Guide Dogs for the Blind in San Rafael.

The check represents proceeds from a bake sale and other projects organized by the Tam-Marin Nite Stand Club—local chapter of an association sponsored to help charities by an all-night call-in radio program from Salt Lake City, Utah.

The Guide Dogs fund-raising project was started by Mrs. Carroll Snyker of Greenbrae.

Students To Give Yule Variety Show

A Christmas variety program of 20 acts, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday and Thursday in the old gymnasium at Novato High School, sponsored by the student body.

The Thespian Club, with H. J. Susser of the drama department, will direct and produce the acts. The Chalkdusters, the future teachers organization at the school, is in charge of publicity and ticket sales.

Tiburon Cove Players Cast Next Show

Casting has been completed for the Tiburon Cove Players' next production, "The Seven Year Itch," it was announced today by producer Dan Totheroh.

Heading the cast is Charles E. Auerbach. Sandy Keppel will play the role of his wife, whose absence on vacation causes the affliction in the title. Maudee Willcutt is cast in the role of the glamorous blonde neighbor. Claudia Keppel, Marianne Richardson and Corinne Guetlet play the other women in the hero's life. In the role of the psychiatrist is John Vigors, a newcomer to the Tiburon group. Robert Salvis will take the part of the bachelor's friend.

The play, a romantic comedy by George Axelrod, will be produced in Tiburon's Main Street Theater on four Friday and Saturday evenings, starting Jan. 20.

San Rafael Sergeant Awarded Army Medal

Army Master Sgt. David T. Marks of 30 Novato Street, San Rafael, has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal for service with the automatic data processing systems division of the Seventh Army in Germany.

The presentation was made at the Presidio of San Francisco where Marks is programming supervisor of the Sixth Army data processing service center.

Rec Board Has Possible Vacancy

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission last night agreed to advise the city council that there appears to be a vacancy on the commission.

Members reported that Commissioner Frank Salvisberg has not attended recent meetings and cannot be reached at his home at 200 Bolinas Avenue, where the phone "is no longer in service."

The commission, with Harold Walker absent, requested City Administrator David J. Sumbardo to continue negotiations with the Fairfax School District for property on School Street to use for tennis courts.

The commission also authorized restoration of the city's war veterans' Honor Grove plaque and set Saturday for a tour of city park sites by commissioners.

Only A Padlock Protects Art

DETROIT (AP)—Only a padlock protected a half-million dollars in Picasso art, but Howard Capponi drove the precious cargo from New York to Detroit without a guard.

The drawings and graphics, ranging from $25 to $35,000 in value, will be displayed at an exhibition here.

Capponi rented a small trailer for the trip, which took about 16 hours, with a dozen restaurant stops along the way.

Use Permit Obtained

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported Wednesday that Sausalito Planning Commission said the station, an antique shop at Bridgeway and Bee Street, had failed to obtain a use permit. Mrs. Marta Christal, owner of the shop, obtained a use permit when she opened the shop in December, 1962, city hall officials confirmed yesterday.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Youth The Winner In Williams Play

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—CBS-TV, which earlier this year earned great acceptance for its adaptation of "Death of a Salesman," last night offered a two-hour version of Tennessee Williams' beautiful, poignant drama, "The Glass Menagerie."

This stage work has been described by Williams as "a memory play," and the CBS-TV cast had considerable marquee value in the four roles. Shirley Booth portrayed the pathetic, babbling nuisance of a mother who loved her grown son and daughter but was maddening in her recitation of social cliches and embroidered past glories. Hal Holbrook, famous for his characterization of Mark Twain—which he will do in a one-man 90-minute CBS-TV special in May—played the son, yearning to write poetry and escape to an adventurous life.

YOUTH SHINES

Barbara Loden portrayed the daughter, crippled in one leg, shy, fragile, trying to smooth the differences between her mother and brother, and retreating into her own world, composed mainly of her glass collection and old phonograph records. Pat Hingle played the brother's friend—the "gentleman caller" whose visit for dinner occasions a great fuss as the other hopes to land him for a son-in-law; a fellow who, though ordinary, brings a sudden reality to the house of illusion, and who is possessed of enough kindness to make the daughter come alive—though it turns out he is engaged.

With only one reservation, I thought CBS-TV's version of "The Glass Menagerie" was a remarkably good job, chiefly because of the basic strength and loveliness of the play itself, and also because of the performances of the three younger stars. Miss Booth is and has been one of our finest actresses, and she had many worthy scenes last night, but at least to this viewer she gave the impression of not being at her sharpest. And her strong New Yorkish accent was rather hard to swallow in the part of a faded Southern lady who was living with her children off an alley in St. Louis in the 1930's.

PERFECT SCENE

Holdbrook, as the son and narrator, now a wanderer, was extremely good. But the two performers who brought magic to the production were Hingle and Miss Loden, and I think it is no slur on anyone to suggest that Mr. Hingle was the force that lifted the play to its heights, thanks, of course, to Mr. Williams. For the playwright created in this role a part that actors would shoot their best friends to get. The lengthy scene between Hingle and Miss Loden in which, alone together after dinner, his kindness makes her bloom as a desired young woman, shining with love, was without question the most beautiful scene I have ever seen on television.

Miss Loden came alive so completely and angelically that one's eyes moistened. It was a moment to remember for television, for Producer David Susskind, for Director Michael Elliott and for those fortunate enough to have tuned in the play hoping for such rewarding achievement.

Alcoholism Is Serious U.S. Problem

WASHINGTON (SS) — A special five-year Stanford University study on alcoholism, to be published next summer, has established:

Alcoholism is the number one mental health problem in nine states, according to hospital diagnoses.

Public drunkenness and drunken driving accounted for at least 40 per cent of a total 5 million arrests last year.

Alcoholics constituted about 22 per cent of all the male first admissions to 300 mental hospitals throughout the nation.

Partly because of the magnitude of the problem, it is "not reasonable" to set up a vast separate network for treating alcoholics, said Dr. Thomas F. A. Plaut, who presented the Stanford material to a national conference of state mental health authorities here.

Such a network would rob other agencies of their personnel, he said. Moreover, alcoholism cannot be divorced from other psychological, social and vocational problems, he said.

Actress Says Son Shows Improvement

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Zoltan Hargitay is still in serious condition, but his mother, actress Jayne Mansfield, says he is improved.

The boy, 6, was mauled by a lion Nov. 26 at a Thousand Oaks animal compound, underwent two operations and then contracted spinal meningitis.

Brown To Site Disaster Areas

The governor's office said yesterday Brown would act today to get disaster relief for areas hit by the flood. But aides said it was not yet known which specific areas would be earmarked for help.

Tulare, Kern and Riverside counties have requested issuance of a disaster proclamation. Flooding this week has caused a still undetermined amount of damage in the three counties.

Church Art Exhibit

An exhibition of paintings by Sausalito artist Lynn Wood will begin Sunday at Unitarian-Universalist Church of San Rafael with a public "coffee" at noon. The show will continue Sundays through Thursdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., through Jan 6.

No Savings In Delinquent Tax Payments

Despite increasing interest rates on loans, property owners will only be deluding themselves if they think they can make a saving by delaying tax payments, Marin Tax Collector-Treasurer Stanley J. Fontez declared today.

Fontez figured the penalties and interest on a $200 tax bill that runs one year late. The total cost comes to $28.50 or 14.25 per cent of the bill.

"I still think you can get a loan cheaper than that," Fontez said.

Late payments of first and second installments are each subject to a 6 per cent penalty. In addition there is a $3 publication charge and one per cent interest each month after June 30. On top of this owners not paying before June 30 must put up $1.5 state redemption charge.

Fontez explained that the delinquent property is sold but not deeded to the state June 30. After five years, the land is deeded.

The Marin tax collector said that an increasing number of property owners are getting the idea that delayed payment of taxes in the present tight money situation is a saving.

Because of this, the State Tax Collectors' Assn. recently agreed to ask legislation changing the deed date from five to three years, Fontez said.

First installments of property tax payments will be delinquent after 5 p.m. Monday.

Open Housing Author Makes Concession

Rumford stopped a recount he requested and conceded yesterday—after failing to win votes from his old constituency in the 17th Assembly District.

Rumford, a Berkeley pharmacist and a Negro, had asked the recount when the Nov. 8 election results showed him losing to Sherman, who is white, 160,769 to 159,968—an 801 vote difference.

That will be the official final tally although Rumford gained 70 votes in the incomplete recount. Under state law, Rumford had to pay for the recount and it had cost him $2,232 for the first three days in which 130,000 of the 313,000 ballots cast were recounted.

BELLS RING FOR DIPLOMATS

One Driver Critical From Chain Wreck

A San Francisco man was in critical condition today at San Francisco County Hospital after a head-on auto collision on Golden Gate Bridge last night in which two Marin drivers were injured.

Two other cars plowed into the wrecks after the head-on crash, with the resulting snarl tying up northbound commute traffic on the bridge for an hour.

California Highway Patrol reported that George Russell Huffman, 57, San Francisco, was driving his station wagon south about 6:35 p.m. when it veered suddenly into the northbound fast lane and struck head-on a car driven by Robert L. Mize, 50, of 140 Vista Grande, Greenbrae, Mize was in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today with a broken right leg, cuts and bruises.

Impact of the crash sent both cars sliding broadside into a third car driven by Paul James Huhtala, 28, of 351 Olema Road, Fairfax. Huhtala was treated at Marin General for cuts and bruises.

A fourth car driven by Hugh Hill Chatham, 24, of San Francisco, then hit the rear of Huhtala's car, the patrol said. Chatham was the only uninjured driver.

Huffman was being treated today in the intensive care unit at San Francisco County Hospital for a contusion of the heart and a fractured knee.

Student Auto Check Ordered

Bradford M. Crittenden, commissioner of California Highway Patrol, has ordered a special safety inspection program for student vehicles parked at Marin County high schools.

The project, initiated at the suggestion of Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court, will include inspection of brakes, tires, lighting equipment, and registration.

In a letter to principals of high schools, Crittenden said the inspections will be conducted on an unscheduled basis at school release time, by local police departments and the patrol.

New Firehouse Review Monday

Kentfield fire district's application for a permit to allow reconstruction of its fire station at College Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard will be heard Monday by the county zoning administrator.

The hearing will begin at 10:30 a.m. at the Civic Center, with the fire house discussion set for 11 a.m.

The building must be rebuilt due to the boulevard widening project. Plans call for encroachment in both the side and front setback areas.

TOMALES TO SEEK FUNDS FOR SCHOOL

Trustees Set $900,000 Bond Vote In February; School Quake Hazard

Tomales High School District will seek passage of a $900,000 bond issue at a special election Feb. 28 to finance replacement of the present school building, which has been declared an earthquake hazard.

The trustees' decision was taken last night despite hints that residents in the southern section of the district might try to secede or to sabotage the election if the new building were not located to suit them.

LONG CONFLICT

There has been a long-smouldering conflict over location within the district, which extends from well north of Bodega Bay and Bloomfield in Sonoma County to Five Brooks, nine miles south of Olema.

A site selection report, recommending three sites in the Tomales area and three in the Point Reyes-Olema area, was submitted to the trustees by the architectural firm of Marshall and Bowles.

REPORTS DUE

The reports due are: An independent site report by John Wynn of the State Department of Education; a report by architect Richard C. Marshall on development of the present site, tearing down the main building but utilizing the art and music building and the workshop; a report on earthquake hazards by Marshall and Bowles' consulting engineer, Eric Elsesser, and a report on three other sites to be selected in the Point Reyes-Olema area by Marshall.

The selection of three more sites was made necessary, according to Marshall, by a recommendation of Elsesser and the Marin County Planning Department that any new school be located at least one mile from the San Andreas fault's rift zone.

Marshall reported this "might rule out the present recommended sites in the Point Reyes Station area and move those site locations to the east of Highway 1 in this zone."

QUAKE DAMAGE

Peter Nelson, a teacher at West Marin School and member of the district's site selection committee, pointed out that Olema buildings survived the 1906 earthquake, whose epicenter was at Olema, but the Tomales High School in Tomales collapsed.

Nelson reported a general feeling in the southern part of the district that "they are not going to support a school house in Tomales. They are convinced the greatest population growth is coming in their area."

Nelson then presented the board with an offer of a gift of 20 acres near Olema by Judge David R. Baty of West Marin Justice Court and Mrs. Baty, residents of Point Reyes Station, provided construction of a school begun there within 18 months. The offer was taken under advisement with expression of gratitude.

Trustee Jean Adams, however, said that building south of Tomales would "condemn students for the next 25 years to the long trip from Bodega Bay to Point Reyes Station." She said there would not be enough change in the population before 1980 to warrant a school in the south.

ARGUMENT DROPPED

An argument from the audience that 33 students from the southern part now go to larger schools outside the district was dismissed by Trustee Richard Velloza, who said that where the school was located would have no effect on that, since it would not change the size of the school and those who wanted to attend a larger high school would do so any way.

The Marshall and Bowles report indicated that Tomales would remain the area's student population center for some time, with no appreciable population shift before 1980. Taking the community of Marshall as the dividing place, the report showed 127 students from the north attending the school and 81 from the south.

In setting the amount of the bond issue at $900,000, the trustees called for approval of $103,893 over the districts bonding limit. This was to insure keeping the district at the limit of its bonding capacity to qualify for a state loan should the cost of the school exceed that limit.

The Tomales High School District Board also:

1. Authorized employment of Charles Beck of Bodega as bus driver at $400 a month.
2. Adopted proposed civil defense drill procedures.
3. Authorized payroll deductions for purchase of tax-sheltered annuities by teachers.
4. Approved a federal Title I program for library services and a remedial education program.
5. Went into closed session to weigh charges of excessive disciplinary action by a teacher.

Architect Screening

The planning committee of Bolinas-Stinson School District will hold a special meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at Bolinas School to screen applications by architects for the district's proposed building program. The committee will report results of its screening to the board Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Bolinas School.

Local Agency Board Argues Over Policies

Mill Valley's Mayor Albert D. White scored a point last night in a two and one-half hour discussion of policies of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission.

"I am much assured," White told commissioners at close of the meeting.

White said commission executive officer John F. Barrows "works for the county, has biased himself in favor of the county, and if he hadn't, would lose his job."

NEW POLICY

Commissioners protested this, and White recanted a bit, but it was agreed that henceforth, Barrows' recommendations on annexations will go out earlier so the city involved will have a chance to make written rebuttal or support prior to the commission hearing.

White said prezoning of an area to be annexed to a city should either be required as a standard for all annexation or not at all. Commissioners Wayne Womack and Hugh G. Marchant wondered if prezoning should be required at all.

VIEWS DIFFER

Marchant said that the commission would not be passing on the zoning, but only requiring that it be done before annexation so voters involved would have the facts in making a choice. He thought this would be something cities would do whether the commission required it or not. Commissioners Peter H. Behr and Jan Paul Dyk disagreed, and their argument was supported by County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, who said the voters in an area to be annexed know what the county planning is and have a right to know what it will be if they join the city.

There was no vote taken on the issue.

White complained on timing as an argument against annexation, citing the commission's trimming of Mill Valley's proposed Sunnycrest annexation. "Timing alone should not be given as a reason," White said. "It has to be related to other things."

'TOO EARLY'

On the Sunnycrest annexation, the commission cut out areas whose owners protested, and some commissioners said the proposal was "too early" for that property.

Director Austin Gibbon of the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District asked for standardization of zoning so that less restrictive zoning laws would not be an incentive for annexation.

Though he did not name San Rafael, he was obviously referring to its virtual encirclement of Terra Linda in the example he gave.

White objected to homogeneous planning laws throughout the cities and county, saying local character should be preserved.

Zucker said that local zoning, county zoning and regional zoning should be defined and handled separately.

Commissioner Byron W. Leydecker was absent.

Not One, But Two House Fires

Surprised firemen attending a call in San Rafael yesterday found two fires burning simultaneously at the home of Eugene George at 119 Ross Valley Drive.

Damage estimated at $7,000 was caused by the two fires, which firemen said were not connected in any way.

One was in the basement and the other in a clothes closet on the first floor of the two-story frame house. Both had apparently been caused by careless cigarette smoking, firemen reported.

When the San Rafael unit arrived, Mrs. George, who was alone in the house, was attempting to fight the basement blaze with a garden hose.

Firemen had both fires out in a short time.

Skornia, Ewen New College Trustees

Thomas A. Skornia, Ross attorney, and Alan D. Ewen, Belvedere business executive, were appointed to the Marin Junior College District Board last night to fill two newly created seats.

Their appointments increased the size of the board from five to seven, as approved by the voters last month.

When they drew by lot for terms, Skornia drew the term ending June 30, 1967, and Ewen drew that ending June 30, 1969. They were sworn into office and joined the board.

Trustees selected Skornia and Ewen from a field of 12 candidates who had applied for appointment.

Skornia, 32, of 105 Camino Bueno, is a tax specialist with the San Francisco law firm of Allan, Miller, Groezinger, Petit, Evers and Martin.

Skornia has served as chairman of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs, chairman of the Marin Democratic Assembly, and chairman of the First Congressional District Study Commission on Legislative Reapportionment.

ALAN D. EWEN
Business, athletic experience

He received his bachelor of arts degree from Grinnell College, Iowa, in 1958 and his law degree from Harvard Law School in 1961. He served as law clerk to Judge William E. Orr, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, 1961-62, as law clerk-designate of Justice Charles E. Whittaker, U.S. Supreme Court, and as a special assistant in the tax division of the U.S. Justice Department, 1962-63.

He wrote "The Role of the President in the Formulation of Foreign Policy," which was published by the World Affairs Council of Northern California in 1961. He is a member of the Marin Council on Civic Affairs, Marin Conservation League, Grinnell College Advisory Council, and several professional organizations. He also serves as legal officer of Marin Squadron Four, Air Force Auxiliary. He is a native of Elmhurst, Ill.

Ewen previously was executive vice president of Sierra Pacific Properties, Sacramento, a land investment and development company, and director of sales and public relations, Prudential Overall Supply, Los Angeles, an industrial laundry.

He was assistant managing director of the eighth Olympic Winter Games at Squaw Valley, and served as assistant director of athletics at University of Southern California from 1946-56.

He received his bachelor of arts degree from USC in 1943, and his master's degree in education in 1951. He also attended the USC graduate school of business administration 1960-61. During his work at USC, he spent two years doing counseling and guidance work and served as an assistant instructor in physical education. His work included stadium management at the Los Angeles Coliseum and the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

During World War II he served in the Army Medical Corps in Europe and was awarded a field commission as a second lieutenant. He later served in the Army Reserve and was promoted to first lieutenant.

Ewen is a director of the Marin County YMCA and a member of the Southern California Committee for the Olympic Games, California State Historical Society, Commonwealth Club of San Francisco, and University Club of Sacramento. He is a native of Summerland, B.C., Canada.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy, whose term expires next year, urged all others who applied for the new trusteeships to run for the board. There will be four seats at stake in the April election, those held by Mrs. Deedy, Skornia, Chairman Robert E. Rogers, and Joseph Garguilo.

'66 BUICK
GRAN SPORT
$3095

Here's an almost-new '66 Gran Sport Convertible that has only 5,000 miles and was Mrs. Collins' personal car.

This fire engine red convert. has had loving care and hasn't a mark of wear or a scratch anywhere. Red bucket seats with console, power steering, power windows, radio, heater, w/w tires and all the Gran Sport luxury extras.

This car has never been licensed and carries the full two-year or 24,000-mile warranty. The purchaser will be the only owner of record.

Sticker price when new was $4000. Kelly Blue Book shows a used car like this one should sell for $3095 on a used car lot. We'll sell this car for $3095—yet guarantee it for two years just like a brand new one.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Several years ago Maj. Mada Steele wrote an article on the use of ultraviolet light in the treatment of herpes simplex (cold sores or fever blisters). Of the 100 patients in his report, 99 showed marked improvement within 24 hours. The results are unusual and the technique should be further investigated because a good remedy is lacking.

ONLY THE involved lesions were treated. The surrounding skin was covered with towels. The initial exposure was twice the minimal dose that normally reddens the skin. The lamp was placed next to the herpes for 10 seconds. Lamps differ in output and consequently the distance and time of exposure varies with the device. Best results were obtained when the small blisters were just beginning to form. Those who reported on the first day after the onset were relieved within 24 hours. The use of ultraviolet is a strange paradox because some people have a recurrence of herpes when exposed to sunlight.

MEANWHILE TWO Oxford university physicians treated 10 persons with herpetic lesions of the face with idoxuridine, a chemical with antiviral activity. The substance was dissolved in dimethyl sulfoxide, the controversial pain-killing drug that passes through the skin. The solution was applied with a small paintbrush three times a day for three days. An additional 11 persons were treated with dimethyl sulfoxide alone. Those receiving the idoxuridine solution got well two days sooner.

Herpes usually begins with swelling, itching or burning of the involved area. Within a few hours clusters of blisters erupt. These rupture and form flaky crusts on drying. Occasionally there is fever and fatigue. Cold sores may develop anywhere in the body but are most common on the upper lips. Occasionally they develop in the genitalia.

THE CONDITION tends to recur in the same area usually after eating shellfish, strawberries, or following a cold or period of anxiety. Let us hope that one of the remedies described is the answer to the herpes problem.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

NOT FOR NORMAL HEARTS

T. C. L. writes: A man in our office takes two nitroglycerin tablets every day. He says they are good for his heart. Can you tell me in what way?

REPLY

This chemical gives relief in angina pectoris but it will not make a normal heart stronger or prevent future trouble.

COMPLICATION

J. S. writes: Please explain postencephalitic parkinsonism.

REPLY

Parkinsonism (shaking palsy) may follow an attack of encephalitis that occurred years earlier. The only explanation is that the brain was damaged by the original infection.

Check Accident Insurance Plan

Bert Badback ran a refrigeration business. He did sell equipment but most of his income came from repair work.

Getting old, Bert decided to buy several health and income insurance policies. One policy promised to pay him a monthly income for five years if he became totally disabled on account of sickness. It would also pay him if he became partly disabled in an accident.

Bert repaired heavy equipment in cold and difficult places. One day at work his back went out on him which pained him severely for several days.

Bert's doctor put him to bed and told him not to do heavy work for awhile. Bert asked for his disability insurance and received $300 a month for a year. Later, selling his business, he worked for a trade school, teaching others how to make repairs.

The insurance company took moving pictures of Bert working and playing as if he had no trouble at all. It stopped his payments.

Bert sued the company, but lost his case. The insurance company proved that Bert was not totally disabled since he could teach. Even if Bert were "partially disabled," an accident had not caused the injury, but a back disease from many years of abuse. An "accident means an injury that is sudden, and unexpected. A disease or a gradual injury is not an accident. Bert might still collect workman's compensation for his work connected injury but not on his own policy.

Many life insurance policies will pay double indemnity if death results from "accidental means." This again requires some sudden, unexpected injury or loss which rules out a gradual disease or some other degenerative condition. Even a sudden heart attack does not indicate an accident. But if the attack is caused from the sudden shock, say, fo an auto den shock, say, of an auto expected fire or robbery, this then might well become "death by accidental means."

Be sure to read your insurance policy. Policies vary in the protections offered. There is no "standard" disability or accident policy. There may be common clauses, but your policy is a series of protections, pieced together by the company. A buyer who seeks special features should be sure to check the specific policy fully before he pays out his money.

Seminar Set On Teaching Handicapped

A one-day institute on meeting the problems of teaching emotionally disturbed and physically handicapped children will be held Jan. 14 at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary.

The gathering at the seminary on Strawberry Point is sponsored by six Marin school district's and will include lectures by four psychologists, two films and a panel discussion.

The session will open at 9 a.m. with an address of welcome by Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, Marin County schools superintendent.

Dr. Ivar Lovaas, associate professor of psychology at the University of California at Los Angeles will speak on behavior therapy treatment of psychotic children.

Dr. Frank M. Hewett, assistant professor of medical psychology at the university's medical school, will discuss the application of behavior modification theory by the public schools.

Dr. Robert Schwitzgebel, U.C. assistant professor of psychology, will talk on behavior therapy and behavior disorders.

Dr. Arnold Lazarus, director of the Behavioral Therapy Institute in Sausalito, will also deal with behavior problems.

Films will be shown during the noon to 1:30 p.m. lunch hour, and the panel discussion from 4:15 to 5:30 p.m., with the psychologists as panelists, will close the meeting.

Room 128 Comes Up On Vacation

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Don't expect to get Room 128 at a motel. Probably it's being reserved for Paul Sparks, assistant superintendent of Louisville schools.

This summer Sparks took his family on a vacation, stopping first at Baltimore, where Room 128 was assigned to them.

Cards Hope Maris Is Another Cepeda

By HAL BOCK

The new Yankee general manager shipped Roger Maris and his $75,000 salary tag to St. Louis for third baseman Charley Smith yesterday.

It was MacPhail's second deal since being hired to help rebuild the Yankees, who finished the 1966 season mired in the American League cellar for the first time in 42 years. Ten days ago he swapped third baseman Clete Boyer to Atlanta for outfielder Bill Robinson.

It was MacPhail, then working for Baltimore, who engineered the biggest inter-league trade of 1965 when he dealt three players to Cincinnati for Frank Robinson.

MacPhail can hardly expect the same kind of instant success for the Maris swap that Robinson brought to Baltimore. Smith is a journeyman third baseman who carries a lifetime batting average of .243.

But the deal does open up the Yankees' outfield picture quite a bit. "We want to make a fresh start," said New York Manager Ralph Houk. "With two fine young outfielders, Steve Whitaker and Bill Robinson, vying for jobs, we want to give them a chance."

It was an open secret that the Yankees were ready to unload Maris, who only five years ago broke Babe Ruth's record for home runs when he hit 61 in a 162-game season.

"I wasn't at all surprised," the slugging outfielder said after being told of the deal. "I rather expected it. In fact, I expected to be traded ever since 1962."

Smith, who has played for the Los Angeles Dodgers, Philadelphia Phillies, Chicago White Sox and New York Mets as well as St. Louis, wasn't nearly as composed.

"I'll be darned," he exclaimed.

After his record-shattering season, he rocketed into baseball's higher salary class but his production slipped noticeably. He hit 33 homers in 1962, 23 in 1963 and 26 in 1964.

He was crippled by injuries through most of 1965, appearing in just 46 games and hitting only eight homers. He underwent surgery for the removal of bone chips at the base of his right hand after the season and played in 119 games last season, managing only 13 homers.

The Cardinals feel that Maris can come back for them just as Orlando Cepeda did last year after they acquired him from San Francisco. Cepeda, considered washed up by many baseball men, batted .301 for the Cards after being traded for pitcher Ray Sadecki, who won only six games.

"Roger will give us the extra power we've been looking for in our line-up," said St. Louis General Manager Bob Howsam.

"Not only is he a fine hitter but he's also a good outfielder and, if necessary, has the ability to come off the bench cold as a pinch hitter."

Smith, who with pitcher Al Jackson was traded by the Mets for Ken Boyer last winter, figures to be the frontrunner in the battle to replace Ken's brother, Clete, as the Yankee third baseman.

SEALS DEFEAT TOTEMS, TIE FOR THIRD PLACE

SEATTLE (AP) — The California Seals have moved into a tie for third place in the Western Hockey League after a 3-2 victory over the Seattle Totems.

The Seals wiped out a 2-1 deficit last night in the space of two minutes in the third period and now stand knotted with the Totems at 23 points each.

The tying goal game when Bob Kabel deflected a shot by John Gravel into the Seattle net at 5:05 of the final period. A little more than two minutes later, Jack Evans weaved through a mass of Seattle defenders and fired in the winner.

Mo Mantha scored the first goal for the Seals, who have tied the Totems once and beaten them twice in their three meetings this season.

Three Future 49ers To Appear In Post Season Bowl Contests

REDSHIRTS ARE COMING—Of the eight "redshirts" drafted last year by the San Francisco 49ers, at least three will play in post-season bowl games.

The 49er redshirts, that is those who had college eligibility remaining after they were selected in the National Football League draft, are:

Bob Windsor, end, University of Kentucky;
Don Parker, guard, University of Virginia;
Elmer Collett, tackle, San Francisco State;
S. T. Saffold, end, San Jose State;
Jim Breland, Georgia Tech, center;
Ron Parson, end, Austin, Pa.;
Dick Fitzgerald, tackle, Nebraska;
Willie Walker, end, Baylor.

PARKER IS a 6-foot-3, 240-pounder who was picked as a defensive end for the East in the Shrine classic at San Francisco Dec. 31.

Fitzgerald will play for Nebraska against Alabama in the Jan. 2 Sugar Bowl.

You'll be able to follow these three future 49ers as the East-West, Orange and Sugar bowls will be televised nationally.

COLLETT, THE San Francisco State star, is a Mill Valley product and will be the first Marin Countian to try out for the 49ers since Tam graduate Matt Hazeltine made it big back in 1955.

INCIDENTALLY, PARKER, the Virginia star, hails from Honolulu, which reminds me of Duffy Daugherty's statement on how so many Hawaiian gridders wind up at Michigan State: "Well," Duff deadpanned, "first, they swim to California . . . "

TOP THIS: After reading here the other day that Drake has scheduled perennially-powerful St. Ignatius next football season, Terra Linda High's Dean of Student Activities, Jeff Thorner, was on the horn to advise us that " . . . I can match Drake anytime." He then announced Terra Linda has scheduled South San Francisco High for next Oct. 13 at San Rafael and the invaders haven't lost in their last 27 games!

Now I expect to hear from Marin Catholic saying it has scheduled Notre Dame next year.

FIRST CABIN—That will be a pretty classy chain-gang on the sidelines for the East-West Shrine Game in Kezar Dec. 31. Former Bay Area football stars Vic Bottari and Milt Vucinich will man the chains and ex-Cal quarterback star Ben Lom will handle the down marker.

MORE, MORE—Another local angle: Dale Aman of San Rafael is one of five returning lettermen on the Sonoma State varsity basketball team, according to the Rohnert Park institution's sports information director, William Ranney (of Fairfax).

KEY NOTE — Musicians in the county are hoping Redwood and Napa win in tonight's semi-final games in the Drake High School Invitational Basketball Tournament, so that in tomorrow's championship game they can see Redwood's Andre Horn against Napa's Ed Organ.

Santa Clara Quint Loses

SAN JOSE (AP)—The Seattle basketball Chieftains won their second without a loss by beating Santa Clara 78-63 last night behind the 24 points of Tom Workman and the 17 points and 17 rebounds of Malkin Strong.

Semis At Drake Tonight

By ROB HARVEY

A Marin County Athletic League team still has a chance to win the Drake Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Redwood High kept that chance in sight last night as diminutive guard Andre Horn pumped 23 points through the mesh to pace the Giants to a thrilling 60-54 triumph over Montgomery of Santa Rosa, the game viewed by approximately 400 screaming spectators at Drake High school in San Anselmo.

The crowd, however, dwindled for the second half of the doubleheader in which Petaluma breezed past Terra Linda 93-59, with forward Jim Rudolph pouring in 37 points en route to establishing a new individual tourney scoring record; the total point production also standing as a team scoring mark. The previous highs in both catagories were registered in last year's initial tournament when Napa pasted Lick Wilmerding 92-79, Napa's Bill Cox and Lick's Joel Black each canning 36 points.

In tonight's championship semi-finals, it's Balboa vs. Napa at 7 o'clock and Redwood vs. Petaluma at 8:30, while tourney host Drake meets Novato at 4 o'clock and Montgomery vs. Terra Linda at 5:30 in consolation semi-finals.

While doing everything right, Fitchei drilled 26 digits through the hoop, including 10 free throws in as many tries, in addition to leading his team in rebounds with 10.

And were it not for the fact that Viking star forward Dennis Milbrath, 5-10, twisted his ankle and was unable to play in the second half, the Giants would have had a much steeper hill to climb.

But don't take anything away from the veteran Horn. He was superb. A polished MCAL backcourt ace, Andre jumped, drove, faded and stood for 14 points in the first half while personally guiding his team to a 27-19 advantage at half. Thereafter it took considerable help and Jack Fitzhenry and Jim Marc rose to the occasion, scoring 11 and 10 points respectively in the wild, up-tempo contest in which 57 fouls were singled out, 24 charged to coach Dick Hart's Giants.

The fourth quarter was the big one, and a hectic one it was for fans, song girls, cheer leaders and players alike as both teams scored at a torrid pace. Horn and the 6-5 Marc, center, did most of the damage in the tumbling, sprawling, foul-plagued frame that saw Redwood surge 25-22 for the margin of victory.

With Fitchei going for 4 points and 6-0 forward Rich Rollins potting 6, the Vikes had rallied for 14 points in the third quarter and closed at 35-32 as Redwood, which had two players foul out of the contest and Horn in trouble with four personals, was generous enough to slack off on its pressure defensive tactics.

No more than five points separated the cagers throughout the final stanza and the Vikings made their last serious bid when they made it 51-48 with only 2:33 remaining and the crowd in an uproar. And that set the stage for Redwood's clincher, Marc going for 6 points in the frame

Barry's 50 Beats Hawks; Warriors On TV Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Rick Barry, the super-soph of the National Basketball Assn., must prove he can stand the pace tonight when his San Francisco Warriors take on the Los Angeles Lakers.

Barry scored 50 points last night in Phoenix as the Warriors won 124-106 over the St. Louis Hawks. The victory put San Francisco 5½ games ahead of Detroit and St. Louis in the Western Division race.

It was the third game in as many cities and as many nights for the Warriors who finish this current trip tomorrow at home against Cincinnati.

Barry, leading NBA scorer, had been held to 21 points the night before in Baltimore. But his scoring spurts kept the Hawks down even after center Nate Thurmond fouled out for San Francisco at the start of the final quarter.

Tars Vs. Laney Quint Tonight

By RALPH CHATOIAN

College of Marin's cagers won their first game of the season last night but things are not going to be so easy tonight.

Laney College is the campus that is laying claim to the national football title among junior colleges. And the Eagles deserve the title after whipping No. 1 ranked San Francisco City College 35-13 in the Prune Bowl last week.

That football momentum has carried over to the basektball team, evidenced yesterday when Laney tore up Napa J.C. 97-57. That Marin-Laney game tonight will start at 9 o'clock, and if the crowd approaches that of last night, there will be plenty of seats available. One-hundred-and three heads were counted just before the Marin-Sierra tipoff, but the attendance increased slightly as the game progressed.

In other first round games yesterday Yuba College stunned Solano College 86-70 and American River J.C. of Sacramento thumped Santa Rosa 77-58.

The consolation schedule today is Solano vs. Santa Rosa at 3 p.m. and Napa vs. Sierra at 5 p.m. Yuba goes against ARJC in the other championship semi-final clash at 7 o'clock.

Last night's triumph for Marin snapped a three-game drought, and it was really a team effort as six Tars scored in double figures. Guard Bill Pandiani and forward Tom Stetson led with 17 each, while Terry Overlid, Brad Luz, Russ Smith and Bob Phillips each scored an even 10.

Sierra College's Bill Penaluna opened the scoring with a bucket and the Wolverines were ahead 2-0. But Pandiani came back with two quickies, the first a little jump shot and the second on a driving layup, and for the rest of the game Sierra tried to play catch up basketball. They never succeeded.

Near the end of the first half Sierra pulled within two points, 32-30, but a 15-footer by Smith just before the buzzer gave the Tars a 34-30 halftime lead.

Marin blew the thing open early in the second half when coach Cal Riemcke called for a full court press. The ball-hawking Tars forced the Wolverines into mistakes and pounced on the ball, setting up four quick buckets all under the rim. Luz, Stetson, Smith, Stetson . . . and just like that, Marin had a 42-30 lead. Sierra never threatened after that.

10 FOR LUZ

Luz, the 6-9 center for the Mariners, scored all his 10 points in the second half. Marin's other center, 6-4 Kraig Kilby, only scored three points but was the better rebounder.

Pandiani was his usual self, the Mr. Consistent of the Tar team. He can either pop 'em in from outside the key or drive in for layups equally well. And his defense is something else.

Late in the game he stole the ball and drove in for a shot with Sierra's Skip Benham all over him. He made the shot and then canned the free throw, awarded on Benham's foul, for a three-point play that made it 72-58.

Stetson had his best game of the year, the former Novato High School player making 12 of his points in the second half. Phillips, only 5-9, was used both at forward and guard, and proved to be an aggressive rebounder.

The tourney's high scorer so far is Yuba's Ken Griffin who

The South has struck its colors! The Confederacy has asked for terms.

PERHAPS YOU heard the historic announcement on the electric television last Saturday. The Bear, a little stooped now, his jaunty checked hat looking for all the world like a plume in the dust, stood awkwardly and allowed he was tired of the Cotillion.

THE UNIVERSITY of Alabama, he said, wants to join the 20th Century! As for old Bear, his eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord! Glory, hallelujah!

"A few years ago, we had segregation problems," allowed the Bear somberly. "But now, we like to ask the help of you fellas up above us in the North, who have been our critics, to help us get games with the Big 10, the Big 8, the Pacific Coast."

OLD BEAR is tired of winning the magnolia championship. He wants to get out and play some modern football. You know—with teams that have some (come closer) you-know-what's on their squads.

FAIR ENOUGH, Bear. Tell you what you do. Sit down with that lady governor you got down there the first chance you get. You might begin with a chorus of "Is It True What They Say About Dixie?" You might change the lyrics ever so slightly. Like, "Do the folks keep segregatin'—till I cain't win no polls?" Tell her that when that midnight choo-choo leaves for Alabam', you want Notre Dame to be on it. Otherwise, on the return trip, you'll be on it.

I SAW YOUR team, Bear. Right nice little bunch of boys. Too monotonous, though. I mean they were all the one color. Too many white guys on a team cause dissension, Bear. Also, last place. Oh, I admit that USC had one too many colored boys in its backfield when it played Notre Dame. The one-too-many was Notre Dame's end, Alan Page.

TELL LURLEEN to get her ol' man away from the front door of the university, Bear, and you can disconnect your long-distance phone to Pennsylvania and New Jersey for football players. You can get a national championship team by going to the top of the Birmingham Bankhead Hotel and hollering.

YOUR TEAM is sassy, spunky, Bear. I know how they win games. They go up to a guy and stomp on his toes. When he howls and reaches down to grab his wound and hop around on one foot, they kick the other one out from under him. Then they steal the gold out of his teeth and vanish and all you can hear is the sound of flying footsteps. They're footpads, not footballers.

THEY'RE GOOD. But, Bear, I ask you?! By the beard of the prophet, by the bi-focals of Benny Marshall—Mississippi Southern? (or is it "Southern Mississippi?" No one here seems to know). Is there really a Mississippi Southern — or a visa versa? And what was the matter —was Natchez High busy that week, Bear?

ALL YOU got to do is change your school colors, Bear. They

The Redwood quint canned 24 of 38 from the foul line for 63 per cent and had 29 per cent from the field (18x61). Montgomery was 61 per cent from the charity strip (20x32) and 25 per cent from the field (17x32) neither average near outstanding.

Redwood led in rebounds 30-23, Marc corralling 10 and Al Fritz, who chipped in with 8 points in key situations, pulling down 6.

Those fans who lingered awhile longer for the nightcap should today be glad, even though Marin's own Trojans were manhandled by the visitors from Petaluma. For any rabid basketball fan would have been delighted by the treat of Rudolph's sparkling performance.

It was never a contest for the end result, that fact made clear in the second period when the rougher Trojans of Petaluma streaked for 26 points to stretch their lead to 43-27 at the intermission while keeping Terra Linda, which again had trouble finding the range on close shots, off balance with a highly successful press and fast-break.

Rudolph hit on 13 fielders, about half from medium range, from all angles and the rest on twisting lay-ins and muscle shots.

Terra Linda coach Bob Corley had 9 players hit the scoring column, on the brighter side, and his Trojans still showed lots of determination and hustle. Evidence of this is their big 20-point third-quarter.

Pacing the Terra Linda cagers were Steve Congdon with 16 points, all from the field, and Paul Lee, 13 markers on 6 field goals and one free throw.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS

STEVENS

"When hunting seasons open in Ohio, students of Arlington High School may be excused for one full day to participate—providing their grades are up to standard. They need only a valid hunting license and written permission from their parents." So reads a recent release from Charles DuBuisson, of Savage Arms "What better way for youth to learn about natural resources and our conservation problems," continues the article. "Turn a young fella loose in the woods with a gun and he'll learn more about nature in a day than he will in a week full of classroom instruction. The Arlington plan, whatever its motives, rates an A and should be adopted by other schools.'

I READ THE above to a small group of outdoorsmen this week and while most of them considered the Arlington plan very good and even suggested that a committee be formed to contact the educational heads in the local area, one of the group threw cold water on the plan. "Just imagine," he said, "A couple of hundred inexperienced boys with guns added to the large number of adult hunters. What a mess that would be!"

The objector was cried down by the others. They pointed out that in California no youngster may get a hunting license unless he can show a certificate from a course in gun safety. They also claimed the consent of the parents must be written to the school principal and that is an added safety factor.

SOME INTERESTING items pertaining to hunting and fishing appear in the releases from Savage Arms. For example: "Studies indicate that fish strike a lure not because of its color, shape or acton, but as a result of sound waves given off by the lure as it moves through the water."

So it would seem that the noisier the lure the better the chances of hooking a fish. Sorta makes one wonder if the odd looking "Spoonplug" lure that has accounted for black bass being caught in lakes and similar bodies of water that were reported "fished out" creates sound waves to attract the wary bass?

AS WAS EXPECTED, reports are coming in of swollen rivers and feeder streams overflowing their banks. That condition has brought many of the local waters to an unfishable state. Better contact someone on the ground to get current water condition.

We will need from three to seven days of clear, rainless weather to bring such streams back to prime condition. And that caution applies to most all of our local bodies of water, including the Bay and Delta regions.

Electricians And Profs Win In Recreation Cage

Brookline Electric and San Rafael Teachers took Class A victories and Marin's Marines and Indian Valley won "B" decisions in last night's action in San Rafael Recreation Department adult basketball play.

Bookline broke up a close game in the late stages to squeak by Mill Valley Boy's Club, 60-54, as Steve Anderson scored 18 points. Ken Anderson had 16 points for the losers.

San Rafael Teachers, with balancied scoring led by Mike Diaz' 15 points, breezed past Paradise Pharmacy, 66-43. Jim Wylie had 12 points for Paradise.

Bill Wallace pumped in 17 points as Marines downed Native Sons, 53-48 despite Bob DeRosa's 20 points.

Indian Valley got a trio of 10-point performances from Don Kohles, Don Rose and Ray Kenney and went on to top Marines 58-46. Rod Pierson of the Marines was high for the game with 12 points.

Fairfax Man On AAU Committee

Bill Ranney of 1 Barker Court, Fairfax, has been named a member of the executive track and field committee for the Pacific Assn. of the Amateur Athletic Union.

The appointment of Ranney to the committee was made this week by George Haines, newly elected president of the association. Ranney will be representing race walkers of the area.

San Rafael Frosh Cagers Win, 40-28

San Rafael High School's freshman basketball team increased its record to two wins and one loss Wednesday with a 40-28 triumph over St. Vincent's School for Boys of San Rafael.

Leading the Bullpups, who were behind 9-13 at the half, were Jim Wade with 15 points and Bruce D'Ambra with 13.

NFL SHOWDOWN ON NATIONAL TV

Packers Favored Tomorrow In Biggie With Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — John Unitas and the Baltimore Colts, rankled by four straight defeats by Green Bay, are primed for one big shoot-the-works effort tomorrow against the favored Packers, who can clinch the Western Conference title of the National Football League with a win or tie.

Green Bay, which has been working out all week in seclusion in Gaithersburg, Md., is in the driver's seat with a two-game lead and two games to play.

Bart Starr has been having a fantastic year with his pinpoint passing and low interception percentage. Unitas, the old master, has been having trouble with a sore shoulder and is off his usual super pace. But John usually rises to the occasion.

The long-awaited rematch will be beamed across the nation on network (CBS) television, starting at 12:15 p.m., PST.

The Colts squirmed all winter after losing that sudden death playoff game at Green Bay, complaining that Don Chandler's controversial field goal that tied the score was not good. A recent television film was cited as evidence in their favor.

Green Bay has been sitting back quietly, having cashed their 1965 winning checks long ago, but there is evidence that the Colts' complaints have not gone unnoticed in Packerland. The leather will be popping tomorrow.

Baltimore psyched up so high for the first game with the Packers, Sept. 10 that it was almost a crusade. The bottom fell out for the Colts when Leroy Caffey and Bob Jeter intercepted passes by Unitas and ran them back for touchdowns on the way to a decisive 24-3 victory.

With Starr having an exceptional year and the sturdy Packer pass defense leading the league, Green Bay is only one step away from winning its fifth conference crown in eight years under Coach Vince Lombardi.

Elijah Pitts took over from Paul Hornung when the Golden Boy suffered a pinched nerve in his neck and has become a regular. Hornung, who scored five touchdowns against the Colts at this same time last year, has been used sparingly.

Many think Lombardi will take the covers off Paul on Saturday. Dependable Jim Taylor still is the bread-and-butter runner.

The Colts have been inconsistent with Unitas having shoulder trouble. They went into a two-game losing tailspin against Detroit and Los Angeles and practically dropped out of the race. Unitas saved them last week with a last-quarter bomb to Raymond Berry and a thinly sliced 21-16 edge over Chicago.

Although Shula professed to have not made a decision, most observers expect him to stick with his two-fullback backfield, playing Tony Lorick and Jerry Hill at the same time to give more pass blocking. However, Lenny Moore and Tom Matte will be in there as part time workers.

Green Bay is favored because the Packers, despite the long ball punch of Baltimore's Unitas, have outscored the Colts 294-274 and, more important, have allowedd only 130 points to 198 against the Colts. Both teams have a good pass rush and the ability of their respective offensive lines to nullify that rush, probably will decide the battle.

Little Giants Clash In Camellia Classic

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Two giants of small college football, San Diego State and Montana State, wind up drills today for their Camellia Bowl encounter tomorrow.

The No. 1-ranked San Diego State Aztecs and No. 3 Montana State Bobcats seek the Pacific Coast NCAA College Division title in the regionally telecast (ABC) game in 22,000 - seat Hughes Stadium.

The size of professional football bonuses may be at stake for some of the players, including Aztec quarterback Don Horn, a Little All-America selection who says he wants $300,000 to sign with the pros. A corps of pro scouts is expected to be in the stands.

Horn ran and passed for 2,196 yards during the regular season as San Diego State swamped 10 opponents and won the California Collegiate Athletic Assn. title.

Leading Montana State, 8-2, will be halfback Don Hass, a Little All - America pick as a junior this year. The scouts also will be watching the soccer-style place-kicking of Jan Stenerud, a Norwegian who broke the NCAA kicking record with 11 field goals and 49 conversions this season.

One of Stenerud's field goals was from 59 yards out. He's already been drafted by the Kansas City Chiefs and the Atlanta Falcons.

Most other Camellia Bowl players will have to wait until after the next pro draft, probably in late January, before they can negotiate contracts.

Both Montana State and San Diego may be on the threshold of University division football. Coach Don Coryell of San Diego and Athletic Director Gene Bourdet of Montana State say their conferences are considering applications for big school status.

Each says the immediate problem is getting the money for additional athletic scholarships which would give the teams needed depth.

San Diego State spotted an opening in the Alabama schedule and inquired about a future game. But there was no "challenge" on behalf of the Aztecs as was reported, Coryell says.

But he adds, "It would be a great boost for our athletic program if we could play them."

GREENBRAE LANES

Dr. Drake Spins Pins For 265er

Dr. Dennis Drake of San Rafael, an anesthesiologist and newcomer to Marin County, didn't exactly put the pins to sleep at Greenbrae Lanes.

Bowling in the Business and Professional League, Dr. Drake rattled the pins for a 265 game and went on to a 612 series for the week's headline attraction at Greenbrae Lanes.

Shirley Campanella, Novato school teacher, gave her teammates a lesson in the Ladies 602 Scratch League, rolling games of 203, 186 and 186 for a 575 series. Virginia Dodson had high game for the gals, a 225 in the Nite Owlers League.

Top scores of the week at Greenbrae Lanes:

are crimson now. In honor of blushing, right? Oh, don't let them tell us the Negroes don't have the grades, Bear. That's Alabama's shame, not the Negroes! When all you teach a guy is to say "Yassuh, boss," it's not HIS fault he can't pass college boards.

BESIDES, I didn't notice your team calling signals in Latin, Bear. And there's one or two of them won't get into neurosurgery, right? At least, not the end of it HOLDING the knife.

SO, WHEN you see Duffy Daugherty showing up in the cotton patches holding out a Michigan State letter of intent to a kid who's carrying the plow home on his back, Bear, say, "Wait a minute, Duff. That boy's an Alabaman!" And if Duffy says, "But he's colored, Bear!" just tell him, "Our scoreboard's color-blind, pardner. From now on, we don't put pictures on it, just numbers." And then you'll really be No. 1, Bear. No questions asked.

Top Soccer Teams Play Sunday In S.F.

Northern California's top four soccer teams will play in Sunday's feature matches at Balboa Stadium in San Francisco, when the Greek Americans meet Mexico United at 11:50 a.m., and the Scots, league leaders, clash with Teutonia at 1:30. In other games, El Salvador faces the Vikings at 10 a.m. and Mercury plays Guadalajara of Oakland at 3:10.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Dec. 9, the 343rd day of 1966 with 22 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

On this day in history:

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Here's The Correct Equipment For The Perfect Of Players

If you want to be the perfect bridge player you must keep a false beard in your pocket.

After you have made the perfect play you can whip out the beard and look innocent.

Opening lead — ♠ 5

West opened a trump but did not know anything about beards. South looked at West, saw that he was still the same person who had led the trump and realized what was going on.

Any opening lead but trump would have given South his contract.

If West led a low heart declarer would play low from dummy and would eventually develop a trick with dummy's queen. If West opened the queen of diamonds, South would take the ace and later win a finesse with dummy's ten. And if West opened a club, South would get a free finesse.

CHALLENGE

The trump lead gave South a chance to go down, and South would do just that if he tried to make the contract by his own efforts.

Instead, South worked out the reason for West's opening lead and proceeded on the assumption that West held strength in each side suit.

FORCES LEAD

Declarer won the trump in his hand and led a heart, losing dummy's queen to the ace.

Back came a club, and South stepped up with the ace. South gave up another heart and ruffed the heart return.

Now South drew a second round of trumps, cashed the top diamonds and gave up a diamond. West had to win and had to give up the trick that his opening lead had saved.

If West led a club, South would get the free finesse, and if West led anything else dummy would ruff while South got rid of the jack of clubs.

DAILY QUESTION

♠ A Q J 7 4
♦ A 6 3
♣ A K J.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid 3 notrumps. You have 19 points in high cards and partner should have at least six for his response. Even if the combined total is only 25 points (one short of the amount usually needed for game) the strength of your long suit should be ample compensation for the missing point.

Holdups On Increase

BRUSSELS (UPI) —Holdups are becoming increasingly remunerative in Belgium, police figures show. In 1964 police reported 15 holdups in which gangsters got away with a total of 11 million francs ($220,000). In 1965 there were 38 holdups in which the loot totalled 24 million francs ($480,000).

Market Makes Some Late Closing Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were improving rapidly as the stock market closed in an irregular pattern today.

Trading picked up considerably as the general level improved and advances were outnumbering declines.

The market erased a loss which it settled into around mid session.

Certain glamor stocks still were down sharply, among them IBM and Polaroid.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.1 million shares compared with 8.36 million yesterday.

As profits were taken on three straight sessions of advance, IBM slumped 7 points. United Aircraft, Homestake, Eastman Kodak, Du Pont and Polaroid a point or more each.

Norton Co. followed up its rise of 13⅛ yesterday with a jump of 4⅜ to 46½ on a delayed opening block of 45,000 shares, late trimming a couple of points from the rise. The stock was swamped with buyers because of news it has developed an inexpensive method of putting sound tracks on home movies.

Carborundum climbed nearly 4, Douglas Aircraft more than 3.

Gains of a point or more were made by Occidental Petroleum, Johnson & Johnson, J. Ray McDermott and Deere & Co.

CONDOMINIUM FOR DOWNTOWN SANTA ROSA

This architectural rendering shows the 17-story $6.5-million condominium to be built in downtown Santa Rosa. The luxury 248-unit apartment building will offer residency to people 55 years of age or older. Construction will start in early 1967. When completed the building will be the tallest between San Francisco and Portland. Preliminary reservations for apartments are being taken at the Tower sales office.

Automatic Volks

TORONTO (SS) — The German engine builder Fichtel and Sachs of Schweinfurt has revealed that it is investigating the possibility of building an automatic drive for Volkswagen cars. Cost of developing such a program is estimated at $12.5 million. No date was given regarding the introduction of such a drive to the general market.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Lockheed Gets Fat Feather River Pact

LOCKHEED SHIPBUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION CO. of Seattle has been awarded a contract for construction of the tunnel and related structures of the $32 million Belden hydro electric project on the Feather River. Installation of facilities will begin early next year. Driving of the 6.5-mile tunnel will start in May. Entire project is expected to employ several hundred men at peak activity.

CONSOLIDATED FOODS CORP., Chicago and Pearce-Young-Angel Co., Greenville, S.C. have agreed to merge. Consolidated will acquire all outstanding shares of Pearce-Young-Angel, subject to favorable tax rulings by the Bureau of Internal Revenue and South Carolina's state tax commission. Pearce-Young-Angel is one of the leading institutional food suppliers in the southeast. It reported fiscal 1966 sales of over $34 million and after tax profits of more than $400,000.

PACIFIC SOUTHWEST AIRLINES directors have voted a quarterly dividend payment of 18 cents a share payable in January. October quarterly dividend was 17 cents. The company filed for a Los Angeles-Sacramento non-stop passenger route with the California Public Utilities Commission on Dec. 1 and this week filed for a Santa Ana-Sacramento passenger route.

COMMONWEALTH NATIONAL BANK, San Francisco and First San Francisco Bank have discontinued discussions aimed at a merger first announced last month. Differences between the two boards of directors were too wide.

LONGS DRUG STORES, INC. has announced net earnings of $1,817,000, equal to $1.45 a share for the nine months ended Oct. 31—a 20 per cent share increase over the $1.12 a share earned in the comparable period last year. Longs opened in Novato this year and plans other Marin openings at Northgate and San Anselmo. The company presently has 34 stores in operation.

Don't Sell Even If Stocks Take Setback

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q: "We have $50,000 invested in Commonwealth Edison; Continental Insurance and General Telephone. We also have $40,000 in savings accounts. We have been disturbed by the stock market in the last few months and could still sell at a profit. Would you advise us to do so?" P.M.

A: I think you are very fortunate people. The stocks you hold are three of the best stocks you could possibly own. I would not consider selling them at present levels even though a further downside joggle is perfectly possible.

After one of the worst market breaks of many years, you still have profits in your stocks.

Q: "Seven years ago, I bought some stocks for future security and income. I am now worried about my holdings, which have not been reviewed by anyone since they were purchased. I own Sterling Drug, FMC Corp., Georgia-Pacific and General Development. Have you any suggestions?" M.M.

A: My first suggestion is that you have your holdings reviewed more often. Things change very rapidly in the financial world and today's strong holding may be tomorrow's "dog."

I am glad to report, however, that your list is for the most part satisfactory and I have but one suggestion to make—switch out of General Development. This company is perhaps one of the better of the Florida real estate firms, but by the very nature of its business the shares must be considered rather speculative.

Road Clutter A Threat To Redwood Counties

Drive up Redwood Highway from Marin to Grants Pass, Ore., and you are struck by the roadside blight that spoils the natural beauty of the area.

Marin Public Works Director Donald R. Frost, in a speech before the Supervisors Unit of the Redwood Empire Assn. last month, warned against this growing problem.

He called attention to the "misplaced junk yards" and billboards and signs that clutter the natural scenery.

"We in Marin are concerned that the blemishes now visible on the landscape should not be allowed to dominate the scene," said Frost. "If that happens, the region will lose much of its character, its image, and even its charm. Such an occurrence could only discourage the two things the region needs most—tourists and responsible diversified industry that can provide stability for its payrolls and its tax base."

He pointed out that zoning regulations, while they should not stifle initiative, can curtail the opposite extreme—giving individuals the license to desecrate neighbors' property by association and even destroy the values of an entire business community.

On at least two previous occasions during the last decade, two different presidents of the Redwood Empire Assn. expressed great personal concern over the desecration of natural beauty by signs, billboards, dilapidated structures, jerry-built roadside stands, as well as junk yards and abandoned auto hulks.

Each president made personal pleas through the supervisors unit of the Redwood Empire Assn., asking that appropriate action be taken in each of the eight counties north of Golden Gate Bridge.

The Redwood Empire Assn. staff went so far as to get copies of every county ordinance in the state relating to billboards and control of roadside view. The REA staff also got advice and counsel from the California Roadside Council on how to deal with highway clutter.

All of this information was made available to the Redwood Empire counties. But so far as the motorist can see, there has been little or no improvement. The county boards of supervisors were apparently unmoved by all this effort.

The Redwood Empire's scenic beauty is like the goose that lays the golden egg. If we are to continue to develop and expand our economically important tourist industry, our natural scenic assets must be preserved.

Even the farthest out anti-conservationists must work together with the most extreme ultra-conservationists to preserve the area's natural beauty, even though the motives of the two extremes may be entirely different.

We hope the Redwood Empire counties, which have allowed previous warnings to fall on deaf ears, will be spurred to more corrective action by the latest effort by Marin's Don Frost to expose the growing menace.

Soaking Rains Bring New Life

Marin's recent heavy rains have soaked deep into the soil, bringing new vitality and life to our summer parched plant life. Among the first to respond to heaven's overambitious sprinkler system are the grasses. Already our fabled hills are turning from summer hues of brown and gold to the paler green of newly sprouting grass.

While few will deny that our winter storm can often be devastating downpours, what would life here be without them? A desert.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Dozen Aspirants For Judge— It's Last Chance For Demos

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

AS OF THIS writing, Gov. Pat Brown had not named a successor to the late Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court. But it should be coming any day now.

Among the top contenders are rumored to be San Rafael attorney Hadden W. Roth and Tiburon attorney Leonard M. Sperry Jr.

In the county Roth is better known, both among lawyers and among Democratic party workers. Sperry lives in the county but his work takes him into San Francisco, where he is a deputy attorney general.

ROTH WAS vice chairman of the Marin Democratic Central Committee and is on the state central committee. He headed the campaigns for Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch and for Norbert Schlei, Democratic candidate for Secretary of State. Roth was deputy district attorney in Marin for three and one-half years before going into private practice.

Roger Garety, former Marin D.A. who served under Pat Brown as deputy when Brown was San Francisco District Attorney, would have been a leading contender. But apparently Garety isn't actively seeking the judgeship at this time.

Thomas Reed of Ross, Reagan's new appointments secretary, is solidly entrenched in the inner circle. Peter Johnson of Mill Valley, who helped Reed engineer Reagan's Northern California campaign, gains in stature.

And Paul Haerle, who ran Reagan's campaign in Marin, has been promoted to the post of chairman of the Northern California Friends of Governor Reagan Committee.

IN THE COUNTY, Gerald E. Misner is chairman of the Marin County Central Committee and heads the county Talents Search Committee. Misner has also been nominated for a post on the Board of Pilot Commissioners.

Misner's position as head of the official party organization in Marin may be challenged next year — by Charles Michals.

Michals worked for George Christopher in the primaries, but went all out for Reagan in the November election. Haerle credits people like Michals for helping restore GOP unity after the Reagan-Christopher fight.

THE ONE DEMOCRAT who continues to draw bi-partisan support is Paul Leake of Woodland, who was swept back to another term on the State Board of Equalization. Leake represents 25 counties of the third district, including Marin.

In those 25 counties, Reagan got 58.58 per cent of the votes. Leake's percentage of victory was 61.84 per cent, better than any other candidate for state office. Remarkable, for a man who announced from the outset he'd neither seek nor accept political contributions. He ran on his record, which includes cleaning up the state liquor scandals in the 1950's.

Let Us Restore Ferry Service

Editor, Independent-Journal:

For the past several years we have heard of many proposed water transportation schemes to get our heavy commuter traffic across the bay to San Francisco. Most recently the proposal appears to be smaller, faster boats which skim over the surface of the water, others mentioned were not quite as fantastic. However, in my opinion, equally unrealistic.

It was my pleasure to have served aboard the passenger ferry steamers on the Sausalito to San Francisco run for 10 years; additionally, my father served on this same route for 45 years. Our crossing time was 32 minutes, and we carried as high as 2,300 passengers per trip. We had old equipment to work with, but the service was dependable and safe.

I truly feel we should restore ferry service for the Marin commuters, as a second bridge across to Marin would ruin the natural beauty of the bay. Double decking the existing Golden Gate crossing is within the realm of possibility; however, unsound from an engineering standpoint, I understand. A tube under the bay will probably be built in the long and distant future.

The plan I have in mind to restore water transportation is essentially this: The boats should be built and operated by the state or federal highway departments. There are several reasons for this: (1) The state owns land at both terminals. (2) A government agency by special treatment could use highway funds to defray the cost of operations. (3) A government agency could negotiate reasonable working agreements with the maritime unions involved. (4) The boats could be utilized during the off hours to transport the public to their state park facilities, mainly Angel Island.

As for the boat specifications, I recommend the following: Double decked, double ended 16-knot vessels, passenger capacity 3,000 persons, fully automated diesel power, passenger loading facilities on both decks, plus side loading and unloading. Two boats would be necessary during the commute hours to maintain a 20-minute schedule.

The estimated cost to build vessels of this quality and capacity would be $5,000,000 each. Terminal facilities would be $5,000,000, or a total of $15,000,000. While the boats would be designed primarily for passenger service, the lower deck could be converted to handle automobiles and buses in case of an emergency.

Shuttle buses would serve the Marin County terminal, running in the same fashion as the street cars serving the old Ferry Building in San Francisco.

I realize there are many details which would have to be overcome; however, some method must be decided upon soon to give the Marin commuters relief.

Assistance Is Highly Praised

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As fellow taxpayers and citizens of Marin County, you are entitled to know just what the backbone attitude is, of our county and city policemen.

At 1 a.m. Wednesday (Nov. 30) morning, I was awakened to experience an epileptic seizure. I crawled back into bed and slept through until 7 a.m. My alarm clock was out of order and the lady across the hall very kindly agreed to awaken me at 7; which she did.

I thanked her for awakening me, and I walked over toward the padded rocking chair for my pants. Wham! I had a seizure. They are of the type that does not bring unconsciousness but develops into a state of fear, similar to the "DT's . . . The seizure didn't last over a period of maybe 40 seconds; after which I took my usual morning medication. I continued to dress at high speed, for I was aware of the situation developing.

Down the stairs I went at a full gallop, and awakened the landlady and requested her to call for help. I then sat down in a chair, scared to move, scared not to move. Within eight to ten minutes I had four more seizures.

The San Rafael police were quickly on the spot . . . Those "big brutes" were received, as an answer from heaven. They did more to relieve the sense of fear and restore my self control than any medication could.

This is not the first time I have begged for help, and been hastily assisted by the County Sheriff's Office or the San Rafael Police Department.

Anything or anyone, truly appreciated, demands being shared with others. I feel that is my responsibility and privilege, to share appreciation of the attitude shown, by example of the officers of the County of Marin.

What's Happening At Our College?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On Dec. 1 one of the strangest little columns in any newspaper I have seen in many months appeared in your paper. It was the "Schools" column by Bryce Anderson.

Mr. Anderson filled the whole column with about six disconnected quasi-informational items under the promised theme of off beat philosophies" on the campuses of Cal and College of Marin. The very brief items ranged from the "famous free speech controversy" at Cal two years ago, additionally dubbed by Mr. Anderson as "the nonsense across the bay"—to Patricia Maginnis' recent distribution of flyers for her abortion class. In between were items and bits with reference to "barefoot longhairs," sandals, sex (planner, free and pre-), Mario Savio, New Politics, Viet Nam war opposition and other "ingredients" showing up at COM.

There is vague and veiled innuendo in the column that COM administrators are lax, fearful, indifferent, or otherwise failing to keep their student charges in line. Near the end of the seemingly truncated column is a brief little wisp of wistful remembrance by Mr. Anderson—"There was a time when attendance at college carried — responsibility — Disobey the rules, and out you went."

The inference of the inchoate column seems to be that we Marinites had better awaken and guard our precious little provincial college from all these unsavory and evil "ingredients" from "across the bay."

Could Mr. Anderson be putting us on? If not, could a sequel follow as to clearly state what is on his mind, if anything?

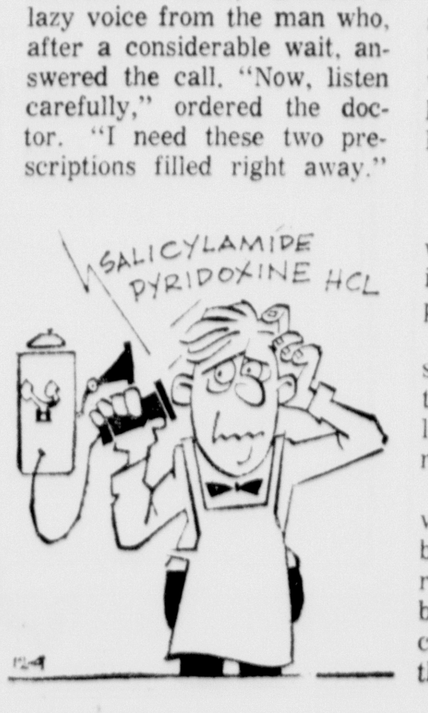
A COUNTRY DOCTOR had occasion to phone the town's only drugstore in the middle of a hot, mid-summer Sunday afternoon. "Hello," drawled a lazy voice from the man who, after a considerable wait, answered the call. "Now, listen carefully," ordered the doctor. "I need these two prescriptions filled right away."



He thereupon rattled off the names of several ingredients, some in five syllables. When he was finished, he demanded, "Have you got all that straight?" The lazy voice answered patiently, "Mister, when I said 'hello,' I done exhausted my entire vocabulary."

Fresh Wind Blowing In Europe Raises East-West Amity Hopes

WASHINGTON — Things are shaking up in Europe.

One of the most important developments in Western foreign policy in 20 years is in the making.

Its effect is to end the inertia and inaction which have grounded U. S. policy in Europe since Gen. Charles de Gaulle began to say no to nearly everything.

It becomes visible in these three events:

1. The new coalition government in West Germany, permitting Bonn to act with far greater flexibility, comes at exactly the right moment to respond to President Johnson's fresh initiatives affecting all of Europe—East and West.

2. The new Foreign Minister of West Germany, Mayor Willy Brandt—far from resisting as have his predecessors—is welcoming Mr. Johnson's recent proposal that the United States and Western Europe should open their doors to fuller economic, political, and cultural relations with Eastern Europe.

3. Prime Minister Wilson is wholeheartedly pressing his bid to join the European Common Market and is acting to show General de Gaulle that Great Britain is a "good European" who wants to help build Europe as a "pillar of equal strength" with the United States.

SINCE THE END of World War II, the Western allies have tended to accept the Moscow imposed separation of Eastern and Western Europe as unalterable and to seek security through the military strength of NATO. Now the U. S., Britain, Germany, and France are altering this approach.

Eastern Europe seems eager to renew its historic ties with the West and we are responding to promote a degree of reconciliation which would bring Eastern and Western Europe into closer association but without seeking to drive a wedge between the Communist nations and Moscow.

A by-product of this trend might ultimately be to overstate the new initiatives which can be expected from the powerful Kiesinger-Brandt coalition government which now has the votes in the Bundestag to break new ground.

JUST BEFORE he became vice chancellor and foreign minister, Brandt advocated three measures which Bonn's earlier governments under Chancellors Adenauer and Erhard rejected:

More trade and contact between Communist East Germany and West Germany.

The development of a kind of Marshall Plan for Eastern Europe based on common projects jointly undertaken by the Eastern and Western European governments.

This is new policy for West Germany. It is new policy for the United States. What Mayor Brandt said just before he took the decision to put the strong Social Democratic party into a Bonn coalition with the Christian Democrats precisely parallels what President Johnson said on Oct. 7 in an address before the National Conference of Editorial Writers.

"OUR PURPOSE," Mr. Johnson said, "is to help the people of Europe achieve:

"A continent in which the peoples of Eastern and Western Europe work together for the common good.

"A continent in which alliances do not confront each other in bitter hostility, but provide a framework in which West and East can act together to assure the security of all.

"In a restored Europe, Germany can and will be united."

The U. S. does not want a weak and dependent Europe. It wants a restored, strong, and independent Europe. This is why it is no offense to us to have Prime Minister Wilson saying to de Gaulle that British membership in the Common Market will mean a Europe stronger and more independent of the U. S.

Will Peking Wreck Atom Test Treaty?

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

The Chinese Communists' forthcoming fifth nuclear explosion could be the blast that shatters the three-year-old pact—that bars testing in the atmosphere, space and under water, but not underground.

THAT IS the grave concern of U. S. authorities as the result of an authoritative warning that Russia may use Red China's next atomic test as the pretext to withdraw from the treaty.

The State Department has been informed that this alarming possibility was clearly intimated by Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kutznetsov in the course of a long talk with U.N. Secretary-General U Thant last week.

Kutznetsov, highest ranking Soviet official to visit the U.N. in two years, observed that abrogation of the 1963 test ban pact may become necessary because of the growing threat to Russia's security from Peking's unrestricted development of nuclear weapons.

AS ONE OF the three principal signatories of the test ban treaty, Russia could wreck it by announcing her withdrawal.

U. S. and Britain, the two other original participants, inevitably would be forced to follow suit for their own protection.

The treaty, signed in Moscow August 3, 1963, provides that each nation "shall give notice of such withdrawal to all parties to the treaty three months in advance." More than 100 UN members have joined the accord.

Of the big powers, only Red China and France have refused to participate and have continued testing in the atmosphere. Russia and the U. S. conduct tests underground.

U. N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg is under instructions to discuss the matter directly with the Soviet delegation and U Thant.

SIGNIFICANTLY, Goldberg was personally directed by President Johnson to find out if the Russians or U Thant have recommendations on how the Chinese nuclear program could be curbed without triggering a war.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff, who have never been happy about the test ban pact, have a disturbing theory about what may be behind the Soviet threat:

IT IS POSSIBLE that the Russians may have made a momentous breakthrough in nuclear technology and want to scuttle the treaty so as to be able to test a super-weapon.

It is pointed out that U. S. satellites have recently photographed huge construction at two principal Soviet testing sites, and the completion of more than 300 new bases for intercontinental ballistic missiles.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE projections indicate that by mid-1968, the Soviet will have in place some 800 ICBMs, most of them in hardened or semi-hardened sites. In addition, Russia will have 900 IRBMs with a range capable of reaching all European and North African targets. Also 100 missile-firing submarines, each armed with two to four ballistic or winged missiles with ranges up to 600 miles. . . .

Mill Valley Needs High Rise Garage To Replace City Hall

The dire necessity of replacing Mill Valley's city hall with a high-rise garage was demonstrated again last week with the announcement by the Post Office that it would move its annex to the building occupied by the southern Marin office of the Independent-Journal at the corner of Corte Madera and Lovell avenues.

The announcement by Postmaster John T. Little noted that parking for "government" vehicles would be provided on the second floor of the building, a former garage. Nothing was said about parking for the vehicles of the men who would work in the building—30 of them, to be exact. Twenty-six carriers, three clerks and one supervisor, Little noted this week, will have to park on the street.

AND GUESS what time they come to work? Long before the gentle drones who park and work in downtown Mill Valley, or who park and take the Bus to San Francisco. I hate to say it, but the 30 post office employees come to work at 5:30 a.m.

Their early arrival will take up every inch of curb for several blocks out Lovell and up adjacent streets. Parkers unfortunate enough to arrive after 5:30 a.m. may find a few openings as residents of the area leave for work, but not enough space will be available to meet the need.

Present post office operations on Sunnyside and Miller avenues are far enough from the downtown commercial center that the parking there is not critical. But parking in the center of town already is critical. The move of the post office annex is expected early next year.

There is time, however, for the usual prompt city response to a problem. Demolition of city hall probably would take only two days, providing temporary parking on the ground floor pending construction of the high-rise garage.

Which would require a bond issue.

CITY HALL has its problems, but it also has one less tree this week. The pretty 12-foot tree of an unknown species on the front lawn, after battling the wind for almost 10 years, finally toppled off its weak roots.

Local tree watchers report the tree had a history of toppling, and that it had been propped up several times by patient city crews. It also had a history of strange haircuts, its appearance depending upon which city department finally got around to shearing it.

The end came Friday. This time, city crews made an attempt to save it, and hastily gave the coup de grace with a gas driven saw. Zap. All within the time it takes for a good coffee break.

PLANS BY the city and school district for joint development of the 45 acres in the Project 17 area on Camino Alto raise the specter of Bay fill. City officials, of course, were quick to claim that none of the area is subject to tidal action, which would make fill plans subject to approval by the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

City officials around the Bay usually manage to recall that they threw a large spoonful of fill in their part of the Bay before Sept. 17, 1965, thus beating the commission's jurisdiction. But parts of the 45 acres certainly were subjected to tidal action in last week's rain storms.

The angle is that the executive director of the commission, Joseph E. Bodovitz, is a trustee of the Mill Valley School District. He concedes, however, that he has enough problems without worrying about the possibility that the "middle school" proposed for the area may require bay fill. The master site planner for the 45 acres will hold the answer to the problem of where to place the school.

ART BUCHWALD

Paris Herald Changes Name, But Crusade Memory Lingers

WASHINGTON—They're putting a new name on the Paris Herald today. From now on it will be known as the International Edition of the New York Herald Tribune and Washington Post, and if you ask for it under that name at the airport you'll miss your plane.

The Paris Herald has never been a crusading paper because as a guest of the French it isn't nice to tell them how to run their capital.

BUT THERE WAS a time once when the paper struck a blow for freedom and I happened to be involved in the incident.

It took place when I was writing a night club column and living just off the Avenue George V on the Rue de Boccador, a cobblestone's throw from the beautiful American Pro Cathedral. At this moment some generous soul had decided to give the cathedral a gift of carillons, the likes of which had not been heard in Europe since the coronation of King Louis XIV.

The dean of the cathedral, a music lover, decided to share the carillons with all of the Right Bank of Paris, and as soon as they were installed and blessed he proceeded to have them play on the hour, every hour, from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night, with an added concert at noon and 6 o'clock.

Well, as much as I loved the cathedral, the bells were driving me nuts. I knew a plea to the dean from a night club columnist would have little effect, so I decided to take the issue to the reading public of the Paris Herald.

I wrote a letter to the paper's mailbag under a fictitious name which read:

"I am a French housewife and my husband works on the Metro (subway) all night long. He can't sleep in the daytime because your American cathedral keeps ringing its bells. Why don't you ring them on Sundays like the Catholics do and let it go at that?

Madame Micheline du Bois."

THE LETTER produced real mail from many indignant Americans who didn't care about the American cathedral as much as they did about the anti-American comments. There was a series of letters demanding to know where France would be without the United States. My campaign to eliminate the bells was sidetracked for a week until I got it on the rails again with a letter which said:

"I believe the real question is not what America has done for France, but what the American cathedral is doing to Franco-American relations. We French don't want to be reminded what time it is. It interferes with our lunch hour. I say stop the bells or close the church.

"Alain Berhneim"

The mail poured in, but we only printed the anti-bell letters. One of the deacons of the church also happened to be the general manager of the paper. He knew vaguely I had something to do with the anti-carillon campaign and he said, "Don't you have any letters for the bells?"

I SAID, "Of course."

"Well, why don't we print one?" he said angrily.

I rushed to my typewriter and wrote the final letter of my campaign. It read:

"Dear Sir, I don't know what all the fuss is about the bells. They have never bothered me.

"Guilio Ascerelli,
Rome, Italy."

The general manager gave orders that no more letters were to be printed about the bells. But lo, a few days later they stopped ringing on the hour and only rang at noon. It was a great victory for a free press.

AND FOR THE NEXT three years the Paris Herald's night club columnist slept on the Rue de Boccador like a baby

Affection Aids Dogs' Recovery From Shock Test

WASHINGTON (SS) — Lovers shouldn't be surprised, but according to some Baltimore studies on dogs, affection can counter even the physical impact of electric shock.

Normally, electric shock will increase a dog's heart rate and blood pressure. But the simple act of petting the animal while it is being shocked holds down his heart rate by half, reported Dr. Horsley Gantt of the Johns Hopkins University Pavlovian Laboratory. The gesture of affection also reduced the dog's other reactions to pain.

Nor is direct affection the complete story. Dr. Gantt discovered that just the presence of a person in the experimental room could soften the shock impact.

Not all dogs responded equally to affection, however, said Dr. Gantt. Some had almost no response; others, particularly the neurotic dogs, were more influenced.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Fusselman

In a 13-page swatch of legislative recommendations which County Administrator Alan Bruce handed the board of supervisors, he left out one recommendation that, in all justice to the prevailing situation, should have been made. He should have included the provision that a bill be introduced at the legislative session by either Sen. Jack McCarthy or Assemblyman Bill Bagley, or perhaps both, which would provide that $700 of the $800 a month salary now being paid to the supervisors be added to the salary of the Marin County Administrator, making it $63,000 instead of the mere pittance of $21,000 a year he now receives.

Or maybe it would be more equitable to split the transferred amount between the county planning director and the administrator.

That would work out this way: County Planning Director Zucker would be paid $39,000 instead of his present $18,000. Bruce would get $42,000. This admittedly fanciful suggestion, surprisingly, would nonetheless be indicated by what is going on in your county government. Well, not so surprisingly at that.

IN AN ANGRY, bitter debate Supervisors Behr, Leydecker and Kettenhofen argued the question of the meeting to evaluate appointed department heads. Kettenhofen, the Ross Valley supervisor, said to Behr, the southern Marin man, "You are putting the non-popular head in a deep freeze" (whatever that means).

Behr: "That's the reason we have an administrator form of government."

As I have said time and time again, until this form of government is submitted to the voters and is approved, what you have out at the Civic Center is an operation by default. The southern Marin man, Behr, blocked the submission of this when he first came on the board in late 1961.

When this form of government was submitted to the voters it was decisively defeated by 60 per cent, as some of you who were here will remember.

THERE COULD hardly be a more emphatic indictment of the present board than the posed picture which was reproduced with a five column spread on Dec. 5. They had bitterly, again argued for more than three hours as to whether to reverse their previous decision to hold a closed meeting in defiance of the Brown Act, for evaulation of appointed department heads.

". . . It is proposed that the Board of Supervisors of a general law county be permitted by ordinance (and therefore subject to referendum), after hearing and upon finding the public interest would be served in terms of efficiency, economy and effectiveness, to:

"a. Establish qualifications for candidates for elective county offices other than the Board of Supervisors.

"b. Consolidate any elective office with any other elective office.

"c. Consolidate any elective office with any appointive office.

THIS BRAZEN attempt to set up a potential grab for more and more power would remove your control over your local government even further than has the move out to the Brazilia of Marin.

Historical Site To Be Protected

Armistead Peter III, whose family has owned the estate since 1805, arranged to present the easement today to Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall.

The scenic easement is a property interest that gives the government the right to prevent the five and one-half acre estate from being subdivided, commercially developed or otherwise used in an unaesthetic manner.
